The Husky Tradition

Over the last century there have been numerous college football programs travel the path to gridiron glory. Few have reached the summit. Take a look at today's top programs and you'll find many have a common thread that binds them.

What would Michigan have been without Fielding Yost. Imagine Notre Dame if Knute Rockne had decided to pursue chemistry instead of a backfield shift. Where would USC be without Howard Jones.

But a legendary coach is not the lone ingredient to success. Outstanding players, dramatic victories, a pinch of luck and the ability to overcome adversity all fit the recipe.

The success of Washington's football program can be traced back to one man — Gil Dobie. In the history of sports, Dobie accomplished something at Washington that is truly astonishing. During his nine-year stint as the head coach, Dobie never lost a game. Three times opponents managed to tie the Sun Dodgers (as the Huskies were known at the time) but no one ever pinned a loss on one of Dobie's squads. Washington's teams of that era ran off a streak of 63 games without tasting defeat. That record still stands in the NCAA record books as the all-time unbeaten streak. It is hard to imagine it will ever be surpassed.

Dobie established a tradition that kept rolling for the next three decades. Between the time he headed up the program in 1908, until 1941, the Huskies produced a 194-68-18 record — a winning percentage of .725.

It took a World War to slow down Washington's success on the football field. From 1942 to 1956 the Huskies managed a 65-68-7 (.489) record and never won the Pacific Coast Conference Championship. Only two men have directed Washington's football program since 1957, one is credited for reestablishing the Huskies as a West Coast power. The other did something none of his predecessor accomplished — win a national championship. Don James took the handoff from Jim Owens has sculpted Washington's football program into one of the best in the nation.

But winning is only one part of Washington's football lore. There have been many colorful characters and eventful games played since the first contest on Nov. 28, 1889 at 2:30 in the afternoon before 400 spectators at the old Jackson Street Park.

By 1903 Washington had won its first Pacific Coast Championship and the following season the team began to get the attention of the traditional football powers.

The winningest coach in Washington's history, Don James is the only Husky coach to have won a national championship.

Coming into a showdown with California, the best West Coast team at the time, the Golden Bears made the suggestion to shorten the periods to make it easier on Washington. That thought only served to motivate Washington to a 6-6 tie. While not a victory, it served notice another school was ready to join the elite programs of the time. And it was Gil Dobie that put Washington there.

Prior to the 1920's college football's top teams were all located along the Eastern Seaboard. But it was during the roaring '20s that stars began to emerge in the nation's heartland and on the West Coast. Knute Rockne and his Fighting Irish were licking everyone at Notre Dame. Red Grange was a sensation at Illinois and Stanford had a standout running back named Ernie Nevers. Washington was also producing its first superstar, George Wilson, at the same time.

Without an outpouring of national attention, Wilson was selected to the same All-American backfield as Grange and Nevers in 1925. It was a sportswriter named Grantland Rice who took notice of Wilson and selected him to the same Collier's Magazine squad as the more-heralded players.

Wilson was there to lead Washington to a 22-0 victory against USC in the first meeting with the Trojans. He guided the Huskies to Washington's first Rose Bowl appearance. And it was Wilson who led Washington to a 13-0 win against Nevers and Stanford in 1925 before a record crowd of 35,000.

Wilson was the first of many legendary players to don the Purple and Gold. Take a look at today's NFL rosters and you'll find only four schools that have produced more professional players. Through the years Washington's rosters have been littered with All-Americans, All-Coast performers and All-Pac-10 picks.

What do the names Warren Moon,

Denny Field was the site for Washington's home games before the construction of Husky Stadium.

Steve Pelluer, Hugh Millen, Chris Chandler and Cary Conklin have in common? They're all current NFL quarterbacks who were signalcallers at Washington.

Then there's the legends like Don Heinrich and Sonny Sixkiller — players who captivated an entire region of the country with their Saturday afternoon exploits. The list goes on and on.

Great games? Washington has played in plenty of them. There's been 22 bowl game appearances over the years, including 14 in James' 18-year tenure at Washington. The Huskies have made 13 showings in the grandest of all postseason contests, the Rose Bowl.

The 1960 affair in Pasadena is considered a major turning point in Washington's history. Resurrected under Owens supervision, Washington's "Purple Gang" won the league title and the unenviable task of facing sixth-ranked Wisconsin in the Rose Bowl. Considered underdogs, the Huskies pinned a 44-8 thrashing on the Badgers. That victory also signaled a switch from the Big Ten's dominance at the annual event.

A decade later an untested sophomore named Sixkiller guided Washington to a surprisingly easy 42-16 victory against Michigan State and went on to etch his name in the Huskies record books and the hearts of its fans.

Warren Moon was on hand when the Huskies did the impossible, rallying from a 27-14 deficit with 3:01 to play and Washington State knocking at Washington's endzone to steal a victory in the always-exciting Apple Cup series.

Then, as a senior, Moon led Washington to its first Rose Bowl win in 14 years, again beating the Wolverines.

There was Steve Pelluer hitting eight consecutive passes to rally Washington from 14 points down in the fourth quarter to defeat Michigan 25-24 in 1983 at Husky Stadium. Who will every forget the memorable 1985 Orange Bowl? Washington benefited from a penalty as a result of Oklahoma's Boomer Sooner mascot wagon appeared on the field prematurely. The Huskies turned the game around with 14 straight points for a 28-17 victory.

Fans on hand to see Washington's fired-up defense blank USC 31-0 in the 1990 Centennial game will never forget the fever pitch of Husky football that fateful Saturday afternoon in Seattle.

Then there's the entire 1991 season when Washington fielded one of the greatest teams in the history of West Coast football behind such players as Steve Emtman to pull off an undefeated season and win a national championship.

Last season the Huskies ran a winning streak to 22 games. Only three dozen teams have ever managed to accomplish that feat.

And consider this, Washington is one of just three teams to have reeled of consecutive winning seasons for the last 10 years. That type of consistent effort on the field has been the trademark of James' Husky teams.

Washington football has another unique element — Husky Stadium. Where else in the country can you boat to a game and have your tailgate party near the shores of Portage Bay. You can sit in your stadium seat and view Seattle's skyline, Lake Washington or Mt. Rainier.

With a capacity of 72,500, Husky Stadium is also one of the loudest arenas in the nation. The largest on-campus stadium on the West Coast, nearly 70 percent of the seats in the dual-deck structure are located between the endzones. Just how intimidating can it be for an opponent? An ESPN sideline crew registered crowd noise readings of 130 decibels during the 1992 Nebraska game.

Washington's football program has come a long way since its early playing days on the rocky confines of Denny Field. The Huskies' program is steeped in tradition and history, of colorful figures and courageous exploits. None of it has come easy. But thanks to the dedication of the young men who have long donned Washington's Purple and Gold uniforms, Husky football has become a special part of America's favorite fall pastime.

Sonny Sixkiller remains one of the most popular players in UW history.

Husky Historical

Here's a look at some of the more interesting aspects of the University of Washington, its athletic history and the Huskies' proud football tradition.

APPLE CUP — The annual battle between Washington and cross-state rival Washington State is known as the Apple Cup. For a look at the history of the series, see page 304 of this guide.

ASTRO TURF — Washington became the first major college in the country to use AstroTurf as an outdoor surface, covering its stadium in the summer of 1968 when it replaced its old sod field with the new synthetic surface at a cost of $300,000. The advantages of the new surface were said to be a reduction in the number of injuries because of the uniformity of the surface and the fact that the turf would be unharmed by rain.

ATTENDANCE — With a capacity of 72,500, Husky Stadium ranks as one of the largest college football venues in the country. Last year Washington ranked 11th nationally in attendance with a total gate of 504,500 and an average of 72,071 per game. The Huskies have over 66,000 season ticket holders for the 1993 season.

BIG W — The Big W Club is a special interest group of the UW Alumni Association consisting of Husky letterwinners that have completed their athletic eligibility.

BISSELL — For 22 years the Husky Band program has been under the guidance of Bill Bissell. He has been responsible for the coordination and direction of all phases of the Husky band and rally squad programs, and the choreography of the colorful halftime shows at all Husky home games. As long as Bissell is leading the Husky Band, you can count on hearing a few renditions of "Louie, Louie" and "Tequila." He's also one of the great showmen among college band directors. Husky football fans have watched the band recreate the Mount St. Helens eruption, stage horse races and wear outrageous costumes.

Washington's band is famous for its halftime routines.

It's actually an Alaskan Malamute, and not a Husky, that serves as Washington's mascot.

BOB ABEL — Although Washington lost its Husky Stadium dedication game to Dartmouth 28-7 on Nov. 27, 1920, Bob Abel holds the distinction of scoring the first touchdown in the new facility. He grabbed a blocked Dartmouth field goal attempt and raced 63 yards for the score.

BOW DOWN TO WASHINGTON — Washington's fight song 'Bow Down to Washington' was written by Lester Wilson in 1913. Following are the lyrics to the tune, which Husky students and alumni proudly sing at Husky sporting events.

Bow Down to Washington,
Bow Down to Washington,
Mighty Are the Men
Who Wear the Purple and the Gold,
Joyfully We Welcome Them
Within the Victors Fold.
We Will Carve Their Names
In the Hall of Fame
To Preserve the Memory of Our Devotion.
Heaven Help the Foes of Washington;
They're Trembling at the Feet
Of Mighty Washington,
The Boys Are There With Bells,
Their Fighting Blood Excels,
It's Harder to Push Them Over the Line
Than Pass the Dardanelles.
Victory the Cry of Washington...
Leather Lungs Together
With a Rah! Rah! Rah!
And O'er the Land
Our Loyal Band
Will Sing the Glory Of Washington Forever.

BRUCE LEE — While Washington has many alumni who are famous for their athletic exploits, there are also some who have gained fame in the entertainment industry. Among them is martial arts legend and movie star Bruce Lee. The movie "Dragon", which chronicled Lee's life, premiered in Seattle last spring.

CANADIANS — Though the Huskies feature three foreign players on their current roster - Andrew Griffith (Barbados), Mikko LaValley (Germany) and Mike Reed (England) - there are none from neighboring Canada. Despite that, several Canadians have left their mark on the football program in recent years. In February 1992, engineering students from the University of British Columbia broke into the Graves Building trophy case after hours and removed the 1992 Rose Bowl trophy. After two days of confusion by UW officials and campus police, the trophy turned up north of the border at a party to celebrate the completion of the UBC engineering department's initiation week. The students completed the prank as a part of initiation procedures. The trophy was returned to the university soon after and is now located in a new trophy area in the lobby of the Graves Building. The new trophy case is considered to be "Canadian-proof."

THE CANDIDATE — In the race for postseason football honors, Lincoln Kennedy had timing on his side in 1992. Not only did the Husky All-American offensive tackle share the names of two former Presidents, his senior year also came during a Presidential election year. His promotional slogan was, "Could There be a Better Candidate? Lincoln Kennedy for All-American."

CHEERLEADERS — There will be six new faces and 10 familiar ones that make up the 1993-94 Husky rally squad. The group of returning rally squad members includes: Krista deBoer, a sophomore from Everett (Bremerton H.S.); Beth Johnson, a junior from Redmond (Redmond H.S.); Julie Lorrain, a junior from Yakima (Eisenhower H.S.); Rebecca Richards, a sophomore from Federal Way (Decatur H.S.); Traci Toolen, a sophomore from Lake Forest, Calif. (El Toro H.S.); Mari Womack, a freshman from

CLASSES — Autumn quarter classes at the University of Washington begin Monday, September 27, 1993. The last day of instruction is Wednesday, December 8, with finals being conducted December 9-16.

THE COLLAPSE — No, this does not refer to a team blowing a lead or a late-season failure. The collapse remembered by most people associated with Washington athletics occurred February 25, 1987 during construction of the second deck of the north grandstand at Husky Stadium. One completed section toppled because of construction site errors, not stadium design, but no one was injured in the accident. The project, however, was still completed in time for the opening game of the 1987 season.

DENNY FIELD — Washington's only other on-campus stadium site for football was Denny Field, located in the north section of campus near 45th street. Denny Field is occupied today by a grass field and tennis, volleyball and basketball courts for student use. The area is bordered by Hutchinson Hall to the south and dormitories to the north and east.

Washington's Don James, Minnesota State's Hayden Fox (actually Craig T. Nelson) and Michigan's Gary Moeller pose for photographers prior to the Rose Bowl media conference.

ENDOWMENT — Last year a group of 10 former Washington football player pooled their resources to form the UW Professional Athlete Athletic Scholarship Team. The program is designed to provide UW academic scholarships for inner city high school students in the Seattle and Tacoma area through the University's Office of Minority Affairs. The players involved in the program are: Mario Bailey (Houston Oilers); Chris Chandler and Ed Cunningham (Phoenix Cardinals); Donald Jones and Siupeli Malamala (New York Jets); Le-Lo Lang and Greg Lewis (Denver Broncos); Charles Mincy (Kansas City Chiefs); Jeff Pahukoa (Los Angeles Rams) and Aaron Pierce (New York Giants).

54-FEVER — Husky fans can keep abreast of UW athletics all season long by calling the Husky Fever Hotline at 54-FEVER (543-3837). Callers are greeted by a menu of options to choose from for information about sports that are currently in season.

GIL DOBIE — Legend has it that Gil Dobie, who coached the Huskies to a 58-0-3 record between 1908-1916, was one of the most tyrannical and pessimistic coaches to ever stalk a sideline. It seems everyone, except his players, had a dislike for Dobie's less-than-optimistic attitude. But to Dobie's credit, that pessimism was very calculated. Once, after one of his players had scampered 90 yards for a touchdown, Dobie told the would-be hero, "If you were any good at all you would do it more often."

GOODWIN — The first full-time football coach at Washington was W.B. Goodwin. He took on the task in 1892. Not only was he the first football coach at Washington, he was the first coach for any athletic team at the school. Goodwin was a member of the Eastern College Alumni team that faced Washington in its inaugural game in 1889.

HAIRBREATH HUSKY — When Seattle Post-Intelligencer artist Bob McCausland first began a Washington football cartoon in 1959, his main character didn't have a name, walked on all fours and looked a little ferocious. That soon changed as his main character, the skinny, upright Hairbreath Husky sporting a booster hat and a large letterman's jacket appeared each week during the football season for the next 22 years. The newspaper carried two Hairbreath cartoons weekly, one before and one after each game. Those cartoons were enjoyed by coaches, team members, fans and even opposing teams until 1981 when the P-I stopped carrying Hairbreath Husky. A collection including 240 of McCausland's best cartoon were published in a 1982 book entitled "Hairbreath Husky."

HEC EDMUNDSON PAVILION — Situated just north of Husky Stadium is Hec Edmundson Pavilion, built in 1927, just seven years after the completion of the stadium. The venerable fieldhouse is home to Husky men's and women's basketball, and features an indoor track, field event practice areas, batting cages, a gymnastics training room, weight room, racquet ball courts and the Husky Pool. Hec Edmundson was host to the 1949 and 1952 Final Fours.

HOME COMING — Washington will play host to Oregon in this year's Homecoming game October 23. The Huskies all-time Homecoming record stands at 40-35-4. In the Don James era, the Huskies are 14-4 in Homecoming games. The team the Huskies have played most often in the Homecoming game is California. The two teams have met 19 times.

HOME FIELD — Washington's football teams have played at nine different sites in and around Seattle during the 103 years of Husky football before landing permanently in Husky Stadium. Those locations include: 1.) 14th and Jefferson; 2.) 18th and Jackson; 3.) at the old downtown campus where the Metropolitan Theater used to be; 4.) Downtown on Howell Street where the Manhattan Apartments used to be; 5.) In West Seattle; 6.) In Madison Park at the end of the old Madison Street street-car line; 7.) At a YMCA Park that used to be on Jefferson Street; 8.) At a former recreation park in north Seattle; 9.) At Denny Field on the UW campus. When the campus was downtown, the team's practice field was where the Four Seasons Olympic Hotel now stands.

THE HUB — The HUB, which stands for Husky Union Building, is Washington's student union. It is a social, cultural, recreational and service center for students and the University community with dining facilities, University Book Store branch, auditorium, bank branch, ticket office, offices for student organizations, barber shop, meeting rooms, lounges, microcomputer laboratory, ballroom and game rooms.

HUSKIES-COUGARS — It's hard to believe, but there are five known players who suited up for both Washington and Washington State. Call them Couskies. The five — Jay Stoves, Bill Ward, Tag Christensen, Verne Oliver and Wally Kramer — all began their college careers at Washington State. During World War II the Navy and Marines transferred their new enlistees to Washington for the equivalent of officer candidate training. Washington State state's football program, already depleted by military call-ups, suspended its program until 1945. Those events saw that quintet playing for the Huskies in 1943, after donning the Crimson and Gray of WSU the previous season. Washington went on to the Rose Bowl that season, losing to USC 29-0.

A look at the construction of the north upper deck of Husky Stadium prior to the collapse on Feb. 25, 1987.

KING REDOUBT — King Redoubt is the eighth Alaskan Malamute to have served as the Husky mascot. He leads the team out of the tunnel before every home game and wanders the sidelines during the contest accompanied by trainer Kim Cross and several of his children who also act as handlers. The previous mascots were Frosty I (1922-29), Frosty II (1930-36), Wasky (1946), Wasky II (1947-53), Ski (1954-57), Denali (1958), King Chinook (1959-68), Regent Denali (1969-80) and Sundodger (1981-91). The Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity acquired the first dog, Frosty I and acted as its handlers. King Redoubt also did his share of community service last year, appearing for the D.A.R.E. (Drug Abuse Resistance Education) program in Seattle.

KOMO — KOMO AM 1000, 'Your Husky Station' is the flagship of the Husky Radio Network, providing live broadcasts of every Husky football game, home and away. Play-by-play announcer Bob Rondeau is joined by color analyst Sam Adkins and sideline reporter Bill Swartz in the station's award-winning coverage of Husky football. Rondeau also handles play-by-play for all Husky men's basketball games, while Swartz calls the action on KOMO's coverage of the women's basketball Pac-10 Conference games.

LOU GELLERMANN — The public address voice at Husky Stadium since 1985 has belonged to Lou Gellermann, a 1958 UW graduate. Gellermann, whose trademark "Hello Dawg Fans" introduction echoes throughout Husky Stadium each gameday during the fall, was a four-year rower at Washington, and is a member of the Husky Hall of Fame as a part of the 1958 crew which rowed against the Soviets in Moscow.

LOUD — With nearly 70 percent of the 72,500 seats located between the end zones, Husky Stadium can be one of the loudest gridirons in the nation. How loud? During the 1992 Nebraska game, ESPN's sideline crew recorded a decibel reading of 135 during the course of the action.

THE MOAT — Athletic teams take great pride in protecting their home turf, so what would be better to symbolize that sense of battle in the Huskies' fortress than a moat? The Husky Stadium moat, however, is not constructed outside the stadium to ward off intruders, but inside to catch water runoff. The moat, surrounding three quarters of the stadium between the seats and the running track, was part of the original construction of the stadium in 1920, and was designed to help drain what amounts to 36,000 gallons of water from one inch of rainfall in the massive stadium. Though not designed to capture enemy personnel, the moat did claim one victim in 1992 — the Stanford Cardinal tree, which fell in while cavorting prior to the UW-Stanford matchup on Halloween.

MOLDREM — Long-time Seattle artist Stu Moldrem has been providing cartoon drawings for the Washington football programs since the 1950s. Every week Moldrem's artwork portrays a Husky senior and some interesting facts about their playing career. Moldrem's daughter, Lisa, is the Washington women's tennis coach.

MONTLAKE BRIDGE — A popular vantage point for viewing the Windermere Cup/Opening Day crew races, the Montlake Bridge spans the Lake Washington Ship Canal, known as the Montlake Cut, just south of Husky Stadium. The drawbridge opens frequently during boating season, allowing boat travel between Lake Washington and Portage Bay, causing traffic backups on Montlake Boulevard.

MT. RAINIER — The tallest mountain in the state of Washington, Mt. Rainier, rises to 14,410 feet in elevation, and is visible from the UW campus on a clear day. The view from Red Square toward Drumheller Fountain offers a stunning glimpse of the mountain, looking down Rainier Vista. Popular for its many hiking trails, the mountain has also been scaled by Husky Head Coach Don James, who climbed to the top in 1983.

NFL DRAFT — NFL teams have continued to find former Huskies very attractive in the annual college draft, selecting 17 Huskies in the past two years and signing many more as free agents. Washington had 11 players selected in the 1992 draft, tying the previous high set in 1983. According to 1992 NFL opening-day rosters, Washington had 28 players in the league, fifth-best among Division I schools.

NICHOLS — Ralph Nichols was probably the first gridiron star at Washington. In 1893 he led the "Purple and Gold" in its first intercollegiate game against Stanford. The Cardinals won handily 40-0. Still, Nichols was impressive enough to catch the eye of Stanford's student manager who offered him a "free ride" if he would consider transferring to the Palo Alto school. That Stanford student manager turned out to be Herbert Hoover, who went on to become the 31st President of the country. Nichols captained the team in 1894 and went on to serve as coach in 1895.

NORTHWEST RIVALS — Since Washington began intercollegiate play in 1889, some of its biggest rivals have been Northwest foes Washington State, Oregon State and Oregon. The Huskies hold an all-time record of 153-79-15 in contests with those schools, maintaining an edge for Northwest bragging rights.

NO. 1 MATCHUPS -- Since the Associated Press began its national collegiate football poll in 1936, Washington has faced the top-ranked team on six occasions. Here are the results of those contests:

November 6, 1937 at California T ... 0-0
 December 2, 1939 at Southern Cal L ... 7-9
 October 21, 1967 Southern Cal L ... 6-23
 October 19, 1968 at Southern Cal L ... 7-14
 October 4, 1969 OHIO STATE L 14-41
 October 21, 1972 at Southern Cal L ... 7-34

In addition to playing against six top-ranked teams, Washington has entered 15 games as the top-ranked team itself. Here are the results of those games, in which the Huskies are 13-2:

September 18, 1982 ... at Arizona W 23-13
 September 25, 1982 ... OREGON W 37-21
 October 2, 1982 SAN DIEGO ST. W 46-25
 October 9, 1982 CALIFORNIA W 50-7
 October 16, 1982 at Oregon State W 34-17
 October 23, 1982 TEXAS TECH W 10-3
 October 20, 1984 OREGON W 17-10
 October 27, 1984 ARIZONA W 28-12
 November 3, 1984 CALIFORNIA W 44-14
 November 10, 1984 ... at Southern Cal L 7-16
 October 3, 1992 SOUTHERN CAL ... W 17-10
 October 10, 1992 CALIFORNIA W 35-16
 October 17, 1992 at Oregon W 24-3
 October 24, 1992 PACIFIC W 31-7
 November 7, 1992 at Arizona L 3-16

PEGGY WATSON — Interviews with head coach Don James can be made through the sports information office or scheduled with Peggy Watson in the football office at (206) 543-2223. This is one person you want to be extra nice to.

THE PENALTY — Early in the fourth quarter of the 1985 Orange Bowl, Washington was involved in one of the strangest spectacles in college football history. After Tim Lashar kicked a 22-yard field goal to give Oklahoma a 17-14 lead, a penalty was called on the Sooners which nullified the score. The penalty was on Oklahoma's mascot, the Sooner Schooner, a Conestoga wagon powered by two tiny ponies. The Sooner Schooner's driver, Rex Harris, apparently didn't see the flag and charged on the field for a brief celebration. The officials promptly called a 15-yard unsportsmanlike conduct penalty on the Sooner Schooner and tacked it on the other penalty. The 20-yard setback made Lashar's next attempt a 42-yarder, which was blocked by Washington's Tim Peoples. Inspired by the momentum swing, Washington went on to score two touchdowns in less than 60 seconds around the five-minute mark, and won the game, 28-17.

PICTURE DAY — Husky fans have an opportunity to meet the players, get autographs and take pictures at the annual Picture Day. This year's event is scheduled for Saturday, August 14 at Husky Stadium. The Huskies take their annual team photo at this event. Media are welcome, but this event is primarily intended as an opportunity for the fans to meet their favorite players. The event usually attracts several thousand fans.

PMS COLORS — The PMS numbers for the Huskies' colors are 124 (gold) and 267 (purple). Among Division I institutions, only East Carolina and Louisiana State University have the same specific color combination.

POLLS -- Here's a look at some of the breakdowns when Washington plays a ranked opponent, or the Huskies are nationally ranked going into a contest. All results are compiled using the Associated Press weekly college football rankings.

UW's record while being ranked: 147-52-4 (.734)
 UW's record against ranked teams: 54-89-6 (.383)
 UW's record against top-10 teams: 17-54-3 (.250)
 UW's record against number-one ranked teams: 0-6 (.000)
 Don James' record against ranked teams: 36-25-1 (.589)
 Don James' record against top-10 teams: 12-15 (.444)
 Don James' record against number-one ranked teams: 0-0 (.000)
 Don James' record when ranked number one: 13-2 (.867)

Husky football player Herman Brix was one of several actors to play the film role of Tarzan.

POPULATION — In 1992 Seattle boasted a population of 522,000. King County listed a population base of 1,564,600. The neighboring counties of Pierce and Snohomish had a combined population of 750,000.

PRESS BOX — The Husky Stadium press box is suspended from the roof of the south upper deck, making it susceptible to the shaking and rumbling caused by cheering fans in the seats below. Television replays of exciting plays in the stadium often display this shaking through unsteady camera shots. First-time visitors to the press box are warned to be prepared for any weather condition. It's also a good idea to bring a pair of binoculars.

PRESS CONFERENCES — Don James will hold his weekly press conference every Monday mid-morning during the 1993 season. Teleconference participation can also be arranged by calling the UW Media Relations Office at (206) 543-2230. An attempt will also be made to arrange a teleconference with the visiting coach. A buffet lunch will be served and several Husky players will be available following James' comments depending on class schedules.

PURPLE AND GOLD — Washington's school colors, Purple and Gold, were adopted in 1892 by vote of a student assembly on the original downtown Seattle campus. One patriotic group favored Red, White and Blue as the University's colors, reasoning that "since the school was named after the father of our country, our national colors should be the school's colors." The opposing faction argued that national colors should not be degraded for such everyday use. The debate was ended when a young English instructor, Miss Frazier, stood and read the following excerpt from Lord Byron's "Destruction of Sennacherib."

"The Assyrian come down like the wolf on the fold,
And his cohorts were gleaming in purple and gold;
And the sheen of their spears was like stars on the sea,
And the blue wave rolls nightly on deep Galilee."

RAIN — Sorry to destroy the myth, but Seattle is far from being the rain capital of the nation. While Seattle does experience frequent showers, its total annual rainfall ranks only 44th in the ABC Sports has been a regular at Washington's games, including two national broadcasts last season.

United States, at about 36 inches. Compare that with Alaska's Capital City, Juneau, which receives 120 inches a year, or Ketchikan, Ak., which soaks up 169 inches in an average year. But, Seattle will claim the title of being the home of Grunge Rock.

RATINGS — Washington's 38-31 loss to Michigan in the Rose Bowl drew the second highest rating of any bowl game last season. The Huskies and Wolverines attracted a national rating of 14.3, trailing only the Sugar Bowl's 18.2 rating. That figure was down just slightly from the 15.4 rating the two teams drew in the 1992 Rose Bowl. Over the last five years, there have only been four bowl games to draw higher television ratings than the last two Rose Bowls involving Washington.

RATINGS II — Washington's first night game at Husky Stadium against Nebraska on Sept. 19 drew the second highest rating of any of ESPN's games during the 1992 season. The Huskies and Cornhuskers pulled in a 4.9 rating, second only to the Texas/Texas A&M game which drew a 5.4 rating.

RAW — Each spring the Washington football team selects a three-word motto for the upcoming season, which is known only to the players, coaches and staff until the season is complete. The slogan, this year initialized as RAW, is painted above the entrance to the Husky locker room. The other side of the entrance reads 100% Graduation. Husky players reach up to tap each side of the entrance on the way in and out of the locker room for practices and games. The 1991 motto HTE stood for Hungrier Than Ever. Last year's slogan PNP meant Present, Not Past.

REAGAN — Michael Reagan has been a fixture on the Washington athletic scene for his artistic contributions. The University's director of design, graphic services and forms management, Reagan provided the artwork for this year's football tickets. His previous works have included prints commemorating Washington's Pac-10 championships, head coach Don James and the centennial poster celebrating 100 years of Husky football.

RED SQUARE — The well-traveled Central Plaza of the University is known on campus as Red Square because of its red brick paving. The site of the annual homecoming pep rally, Red Square borders the Administration Building, Suzzallo Library, Odegaard Undergraduate Library, Kane Hall and Meany Hall. The red brick expanse forms the roof of a 1,000-car underground parking garage built in 1971.

RICK HUEGLI — Washington's strength program is one of the tops in the country, largely because of the work of Rick Huegli. Huegli, the UW strength coach, was honored last year as Strength Coach of the Year by the National Strength and Conditioning Association for 1992. Along with assistants Bill Gillespie and Stephanie Armitage-Johnson, Huegli is responsible for coordinating the conditioning and strength programs not only for the football team, but for the rest of the athletes in Washington's 23 intercollegiate sports.

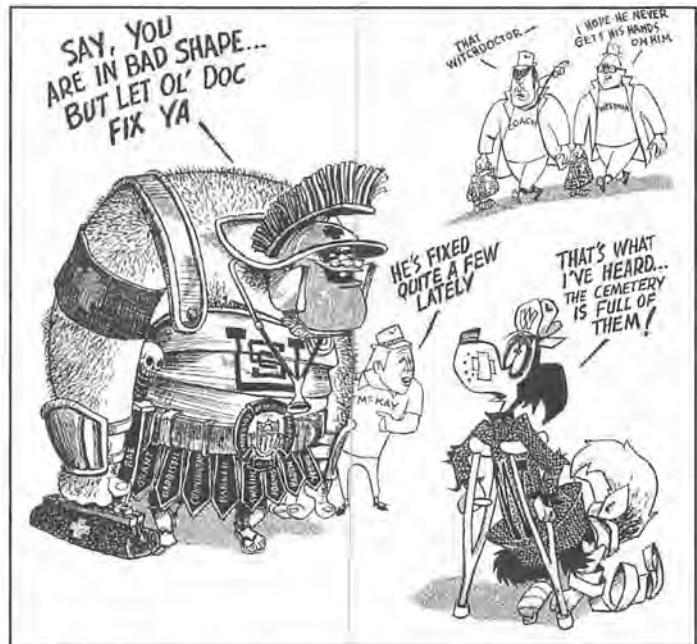

SONNY SIXKILLER — The popularity of former Husky All-America quarterback Sonny Sixkiller was so great that a local radio disc jockey wrote a song called "The Ballad of Sonny Sixkiller" that remained on the charts in Seattle for weeks in 1971. A sampling of the lyrics follows:

He was born one morning 'neath the sun and the heat.
The proud grandson of an Indian chief.
The Cherokee tribe from which he came
Was the first to learn of his famous name.
Sonny Sixkiller.
He grew up strong into a proud young man.
Determined breed, he left his land.
Put down his arrows, hung up his shield.
And became a warrior on the football field.
Sonny Sixkiller.

— "The Ballad of Sonny Sixkiller" Thunder Tummy Records (BMI)

A regular feature in the Husky game program is Stu Moldrem's artwork.

Hairbreadth Husky was a favorite of fans and players for years as a weekly feature in the Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

SPORTS ILLUSTRATED — Two players in Husky history have been honored with an appearance on the cover of Sports Illustrated while at Washington: quarterbacks Sonny Sixkiller and Bob Schloredt. Sixkiller graced the cover October 4, 1971 during his junior year, while Schloredt appeared as a senior October 3, 1960.

SPRING GAME — The Purple & White Game, the annual scrimmage that signals a close to the spring practice season, is scheduled for April 23 in 1994.

THE STREAK — Washington has its place etched in the college record books in one category that may never be overtaken. From the last game of the 1907 season, until the 1917 campaign, Washington never lost a game during a 63-game stretch, winning 59 and recording four ties. The Sun Dodgers, as they were known at the time, tied Idaho 0-0 in the final game of 1907 and did not taste defeat until California toppled Washington 27-0 in 1917. During that run, Washington also pieced together a 39-game winning streak, the second longest in NCAA history.

STUDENT-ATHLETE SERVICES — The term student-athlete is taken seriously at Washington. To lend the necessary support for its student-athletes, Washington offers the Student-Athlete Services department. Located in the basement of the Graves Building, Student-Athlete Services is coordinated by Gertrude Peoples, now in her 22nd year at the University. With an annual budget of over $600,000, Student-Athlete Services offers one-on-one tutoring, group study tables, computer stations and self-help courses. A large full-time and tutorial staff offer a full range of academic support.

SUN DODGERS — Washington's teams were called Sun Dodgers before the 1920s, originating when a college magazine of the same name was banned from campus and, in protest, students adopted the name for their teams. But the Sun Dodgers didn't do much for the Northwest's image, so a committee set out in 1921 to pick a new nickname. The decision came down to Malamutes and Huskies. The committee felt those were appropriate because of Seattle's nearness to the Alaskan frontier. The Husky was voted the most appropriate.

SUNNY BOY — Before the 1920's, Washington's football mascot was a three-and-a-half foot wooden statue named Sunny Boy, a sculptured replica of the happy-faced character, Sunny, who appeared in the University's humor magazine Sun Dodger. Maurice S. Holcomb, the artist who conceived Sunny, said the statue was meant to be a symbol of "Joe College" - books under one arm, a football under the other. But when Washington changed its mascot in 1923, Sunny Boy disappeared and was not discovered until 23 years later in South Bend, Ind. The statue had been removed from the trophy room of a university fraternity house as a prank and shipped to South Bend by the prankster to keep it in hiding. It was returned in 1948 and presented to UW officials at the Notre Dame game and has resided ever since at the UW Alumni Association.

TAILGATING, HUSKY STYLE — While Husky Stadium fans enjoy the event of tailgating like those at other stadiums, the fans at Washington add a unique element not found elsewhere — tailgating by boat. The stadium's location on the shores of Lake Washington makes it easily accessible by boat from all over the Seattle area, and encourages many fans to use the water to travel to and from games. Members of the Husky crew team ferry fans to and from the shore to catch the action, or a ride home.

TARZAN — Sure, Johnny Weismuller made the role famous, but did you know a Husky was one of the actors who played the famous ape-man? Herman Brix, an outstanding Washington tackle, played Tarzan in the movies during the 1920s. He appeared in a total of 75 movies during his acting career including "Treasure of Sierra Madre" with Humphrey Bogart. Brix was also an outstanding track athlete at Washington, winning the national shot put title in 1927, later setting a world record in the event and eventually earning a silver medal at the 1928 Olympic Games.

TEAM ROOM — After each Husky home game, Coach Don James will meet with his players in the team room, located midway up the tunnel that leads into Husky Stadium, then addresses the media in the same area once the team has cleared the area. Members of the UW Media Relations staff will be available to bring requested Husky players to the team room.

TELEVISION — Every Washington football game was shown either live or on a delayed basis during the 1992 season. The Huskies appeared nationally on ABC in the USC and Michigan games. ABC also broadcast the California, Stanford, Arizona and Washington State games to regional television audiences. Washington appeared on Prime Ticket for the Arizona State and Oregon games and PrimeSports Northwest broadcast the UW contests against Wisconsin, Pacific and Oregon State on a delayed basis.

TWO-SPORT ATHLETES — Several members of this year's football squad also share time with another Husky sport for part of the year. Pete Kaligis threw the shot put for the track and field team, while Lawyer Milloy saw action on the baseball diamond. Leif Johnson and Joe Kralik have also played baseball at times earlier in their careers. Sophomore receiver Jason Shelley was drafted by the Atlanta Braves out of high school and played in a rookie league during the summer of 1992, while senior linebacker Andy Mason spent the past summer playing baseball for the Everett (Wash.) Giants.

U-DUB — Written often as UW or U of W, the most common way for Washingtonians to refer to the University of Washington is 'U-Dub' or, even simpler, just 'The U.'

UNIFORMS — Washington's home uniform features purple jerseys, gold pants, black shoes and gold helmets with a purple W and purple face mask. The road uniform features white jerseys and purple pants with the same helmet and shoe combination. The purple pants were introduced in 1989, ironically for a home game, worn with the purple jerseys. The Huskies faced Colorado with all-purple uniforms and lost 45-28. The combination was not used again, but the team continued to wear purple pants on the road with white jerseys, replacing the gold pants.

THE WAVE — Despite claims by others, the Wave can trace its origin back to Husky Stadium. It was October 31, 1981 when cheerleader Rob Weller (yes, the same Rob Weller who once co-hosted Entertainment Tonight) instructed the Washington crowd to start in one section and make a human wave that rolled around Husky Stadium. The original Wave saw Husky fans remain standing until the a full circle was completed in the stadium. Weller's original idea — working with Husky band director Bill Bissell — was to have the crowd stand rapidly from the lowest seats to the highest. But they could not effectively coordinate the attempts.

WIN STREAK — A lesser-known fact about Washington's football history is the 39-game winning streak coach Gil Dobie's teams compiled from 1908-1914. The Sun Dodgers, as they were known at the time, outscored their opponents 1,331 to 73. That's an average of 34-2. Washington managed 26 shutouts during the streak and even kept Oregon State off the scoreboard when the Beavers managed a 0-0 tie to end Washington's run. The streak broke the previous mark set by Yale from 1890-93 and stood until Oklahoma reeled off 47 straight wins from 1953-57.

Seattle artist Michael Reagan had produced numerous prints and posters chronicling Husky football.

Media Information

Fall Practice: Fall practice begins Monday, August 16. Practices will be held twice a day for the first two weeks at 9:25 a.m. and 3:55 p.m. Regular-season practice time is 3:00 p.m. Monday through Thursday. Practices are only open to the media for the first 30 minutes. Media practice passes are required to enter practice and must be obtained from the Media Relations Office, Room 202, Graves Building.

Interview Policy: Contact the Media Relations Office for ALL interview requests. It is very helpful to have 24 hours notice so that the media relations staff will have ample time to make arrangements with players and coaches. Athletes are typically available before or after practice Monday through Thursday on a first-come, first-serve basis. Athletes are not available for interviews on Friday or on Saturday prior to the game.

Press Credentials: All credentials must be requested from Media Relations Director Jim Daves in writing. Requests should be made at least one week prior to the game. Credentials will be mailed if time permits. Credentials are generally mailed to the opponent SID the week before the game to distribute to visiting media covering the game. Credentials not mailed will be left at Will Call at the west side of the stadium. Will Call opens at 9:00 a.m. on game days. Visiting media should make requests through the visiting Sports Information Director.

Parking: Limited press parking is located in two areas designated E-11 and C-21. The E-11 lot is located on the northwest perimeter of the stadium. The C-21 lot is an underground garage located due west from Husky Stadium, directly across Montlake Boulevard. Parking passes should be requested through the Media Relations Office. Visiting media should make parking requests through the visiting Sports Information Director.

Photographers: Photo passes are available for accredited news media. They should be ordered in the same manner as press credentials. Visiting media should make requests through the visiting Sports Information Director. Photographers may work from the sidelines in accordance with NCAA rules. In no case may a photographer shoot from in front of either team's bench. No tripods are allowed on the field. Passes should be worn in plain sight. Armbands must be picked up prior to kickoff by showing a photo credential at the table located in the west end zone. Failure to adhere to these regulations, or any interference with play, is reason for expulsion. A box lunch will be served to photographers during halftime at the credential table in the west end zone. Freelance photographers will be subject to University licensing regulations for any images portraying Washington student-athletes and registered trademarks.

Press Box Elevator: The press box elevator is located on the lower level of the south side of Husky Stadium. The elevator is used by members of both teams' coaching staffs, media representatives and handicapped fans. Only accredited media will be allowed access to the elevator and press box. Please arrive at least 90 minutes before kickoff to assure your arrival at the press area well before game time. Media members do have priority elevator use, so be sure to indicate to the elevator attendant that you are a credentialed member of the media.

Services: Quarterly play-by-play accounts, computerized halftime and final statistics, scoring summaries and coaches' quotes will be distributed in the press box, in the postgame interview area and in the Tyee Center media workroom following the end of the game. Play-by-play information, statistics, injury updates, etc., will be reported over the internal press box public address system. A light lunch will be served prior to kickoff and at halftime.

Statisticians and Spotters: Qualified statisticians and spotters are available if you contact the Media Relations Office one week in advance of the game. A minimum fee of $35 per person is recommended.

Telephones: The Media Relations Department has two telephone lines installed in the press box (543-2230 and 543-2231). These lines are intended for Media Relations use only. If media members require telephones, please call Pat Jones of the University of Washington Telecommunications Department at (206) 543-0133. The Telecommunications Department will arrange to install phone lines at your expense.

Adapters: Three-pronged adapters are required for operation of electronic equipment and are not provided. Please be sure to bring your own three-pronged adapters.

Postgame Interviews: The elevator will leave the press box level with eight and four minutes remaining in the game for all members of the media wishing to go to the interview area. The elevator will leave again immediately following the end of the game. Media Relations personnel will escort the media to the interview room (assembly room, stadium tunnel) and will bring athletes to the interview room by request. The visiting Sports Information Director determines postgame interview procedure for the visiting locker room.

Postgame Work Area: Media members may work in the press box following games, but are advised to use the Tyee Center (north stands) for filing purposes. The Tyee Center is enclosed with plenty of work space, phones to use for filing, restroom facilities and soft drinks available. Final statistics and coaches' quotes will be available in the work area.

Husky Stadium: Husky Stadium is located five miles north of downtown Seattle and approximately 30 minutes north of Sea-Tac Airport. To get to the stadium from downtown Seattle, take I-5 North and take the 520 East (Bellevue/Kirkland) Exit. Take the Montlake Exit and turn left at the stoplight. Husky Stadium is located off Montlake Boulevard, on the right side of the street. Traffic conditions can become congested prior to gametime and media are advised to arrive at Husky Stadium early.

Mondays with Coach James: Coach Don James holds a press conference each Monday morning at 10 a.m. during the season in the Tyee Center, beginning Monday August 30. The opposing coach will be available via telephone prior to James' comments. All members of the media are invited to attend these weekly conferences. The press conference can also be accessed by teleconference. Call the media relations office to acquire the phone number for the teleconference.

Professional Football Scout Tickets: Pro scouts should contact the Husky Media Relations Office (543-2230) to purchase tickets for scouting purposes.

NCAA Guidelines and the Media

Media members should be aware of several NCAA rules that apply to student-athletes. If there is ever a question if any media-related activity or event including a Washington student-athlete could be a possible NCAA violation, contact sports information director Jim Daves to get an interpretation. Areas of concern include:

- Coaches and University officials cannot make comments on prospective student-athletes until they sign a national letter of intent. A coach cannot comment on a prospective student-athlete who verbally commits to an institution.
- Student-athletes are not allowed to write "Diary" columns for print publications.
- Coaches and athletic staff are not permitted to write guest columns for publications.
- Student-athletes are not permitted to film or video "Diary" stories for broadcast.
- Do not ask student-athletes to list or endorse products.
- Photographers cannot provide student-athletes with photographs or slides. The media relations office offers a similar service for student-athletes to purchase photographs.
- Student-athletes may not be used in advertisements or endorsements of products, including media-related publications.
- Student-athletes are not permitted to conduct interviews for 1-900 services.

Husky Radio Network

Washington's football games are broadcast live over radio station KOMO, AM-1000, part of the Athletic Department's multi-million dollar radio package. KOMO's radio network includes stations throughout the state of Washington and in Alaska, Idaho and Oregon. A station has also been added in Massillon, Ohio — Don James' hometown — for the 1993 season.

The KOMO radio broadcast team is a veteran, respected group of three individuals. Bob Rondeau, a well-known KOMO-TV sports reporter, provides the play-by-play description of all Husky games, with former Seattle Seahawks quarterback Sam Adkins providing analysis and color commentary. Sideline reports are provided by KOMO radio's witty sports director, Bill Swartz.

PrimeSports Northwest

PrimeSports Northwest enters its fifth year of extensive coverage of Pac-10 football, and the fourth year of expanded Husky coverage in 1993. The foundation of this coverage includes:

Live Pac-10 Game of the Week

PrimeSports Northwest is the Northwest's partner for the Prime Ticket live Pac-10 game of the week. These live games air at either 3:30 p.m. or 7 p.m. starting on Sept. 4. Washington should be featured on one or more broadcasts.

Husky Sunday Night Replays

Every Husky football game can be seen in its entirety on special PrimeSports Northwest replays Sunday nights at 8 p.m. Don Poier and former Washington All-American kicker Chuck Nelson bring a distinctly local and informed flavor to these broadcasts, as they follow the players and coaches all season long.

Husky Profile

This will be the fourth season of Husky Profile, a one-hour monthly magazine show that features Washington's athletic department from players and coaches to the support groups behind the scene. Don Poier and Chuck Nelson as co-host bring out the personalities and style that makes Washington's athletic department unique.

PrimeSports Northwest serves 1.9 million households in Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana and Alaska.

Husky Highlights with Don James

"Husky Highlights with Don James" is a one-hour live program, which airs Sundays at 10 a.m. PT beginning Sept. 5 and running through Nov. 21. There is no show Sept. 19 following Washington's open week. The program features a complete videotape highlight recap of the previous Saturday's game with the Husky head coach, viewer's questions (by telephone), Pac-10 scores and highlights, and a preview of the next opponent.

KCPQ sports director Keith Shipman co-produces and hosts the show, which begins its eighth season in 1993. "Husky Highlights with Don James" has received two Emmy nominations for Outstanding Sports Series and one for Outstanding Technical team. Emmy winning director Douglas Wetz co-produces and directs the program. Game videographers are Keith Bride and Jim Erskine.

The Season Outlook

Huskies Aim to Stay on Top

One of the lesser known traditions around the Washington football program is the sign painted above the hallway leading from the player's lockerroom to the tunnel in Husky Stadium.

Each year it features a new abbreviated motto for the season.

Last year it was P-N-P, sending the message Present Not Past.

The '92 Husky squad lived up to that motto, climbing to number-one in the college football polls, running its winning streak to 22 games and earning a third-straight trip to the Rose Bowl. But three losses in the final four games put a damper on an otherwise spectacular season.

The disappointing finish will serve as the battle cry for this year's Washington squad that returns 13 starters, including eight on offense and both kickers. A total of 39 lettermen return to this year's squad.

"The thing we talked to the players about is, 'Are we going to go downhill now or maintain the same competitive football program that we've had the last three years,'" says Don James, who enters his 19th season as the Huskies head coach in 1993. "We told them to compare themselves to teams that were up there and maybe fell down a little or maybe never got back versus a Miami that stays competitive for the big one every year. That's the challenge."

The loss of two 3,000-yard career passers, a two-time All-American offensive tackle, a pair of linebackers that each led the Pac-10 in tackles and three-quarters of the secondary are the concerns Washington must address heading into the '93 season.

One of the best set of running backs in the nation, a solid and experienced offensive line, a group of speedy receivers and a deeper and improved defensive line are the foundation for this Washington squad to make another run for the Rose Bowl.

Offense

Sophomore Damon Huard (6-4, 220) and junior Eric Bjornson (6-5, 225) waged a tight battle in the spring for the starting quarterback position. James and his staff won't make a final decision on the position until fall camp convenes. That duo is looking to fill the shoes of former Rose Bowl MVP Mark Brunell, who was a fifth-round draft pick of the Green Bay Packers last spring. Once he regained his starting position last season, Brunell gave the Huskies a solid and accurate passing quarterback who also had the ability to scramble and run the option.

Last season Napoleon Kaufman became the first Washington running back to gain 1,000 yards as a sophomore. He averaged 6.5 yards per carry en route to 1,045 rushing yards.

"The thing we talked to the players about is, 'Are we going to go downhill now or maintain the same competitive football program that we've had the last three years.'"

-- Don James

Neither Bjornson or Huard enter the season with the total package Brunell possessed, but each is capable of filling the post. The two-man competition also ensures that Washington will once again have a capable backup at the quarterback slot.

When he was recruited, Huard was touted as the heir apparent for the Huskies' tradition-steeped quarterback position. As a red-shirt freshman he did nothing to dispel that belief by completing all five of his passes for 108 yards. One of those was the longest toss of the season by a Husky when he connected with Theron Hill for a 68-yard touchdown.

Bjornson, unlike Huard, has plenty of game experience — at flanker. After starting his Husky career as a quarterback the coaching staff switched him to the receiving corps to get him playing time and utilize his talents. Bjornson responded with 14 catches for 170 yards and two touchdowns. His familiarity with the passing game and good quickness will allow Bjornson to push Huard for starting honors.

"It's going to be a good competition between Damon and Eric," James says. "Eric has gotten bigger, he's bright and he's got better speed to go along with a good arm. Damon has the experience of playing quarterback."

A rock solid offensive line, dubbed "The Line of Steel" should make the transitional period at quarterback a smoother one. Last season, while All-American Lincoln Kennedy drew most of the attention, his teammates in the trenches grew from an inexperienced lot to a dependable unit.

Senior center Jim Nevelle (6-2, 280), one of the strongest players in Washington history, anchors the Washington line. Nicknamed "Rocco" he's a contender for postseason honors on and field and in the classroom where he sports a 3.2 GPA as an engineering major.

Other returning starters include guards Andrew Peterson (6-5, 305) and Frank Garcia (6-1, 290), tackle Tom Gallagher (6-5, 300) and top tight ends Mark Bruener (6-5, 240), who was second on the team with 21 receptions and Ernie Conwell (6-3, 235). Pete Kaligis (6-2, 260), who suffered a knee injury last season, also has starting experience.

While no one in the unit will attract preseason mention as all-conference picks, the unit as a whole might be the best in the Pac-10.

"I think, right now we could look at two to three tackles that could be starters and two to three guards we could look at as starters," James says. "We've got our center back and have our tight ends back. Most of our receivers are back. That's encouraging."

And behind the starters there is a solid group of up-and-coming guards, tackles and centers. Prince Arthur Emerson (6-4, 270) and Donald Willis (6-2, 340) are capable backups at tackle, while Patrick Kesi (6-3, 305) at guard and David Reiner (6-6, 310) at center have plenty of game experience under their belts.

The top two groups of offensive linemen pose a massive challenge to Husky opponents. Combined, they average 6-4 and 295 pounds.

"We really need to do a good job of protecting a young quarterback and establishing a running game," James adds. "We don't want to get into a lot of third and long situations."

Washington's gifted running backs should again be a strength in the Husky attack. Spearheading that group is junior

Mark Bruener pulled down 21 receptions in 1992.

Joe Kralik topped the Husky receivers last year with 33 catches, including three for touchdowns.

A healthy Beno Bryant will fortify Washington's running backs.

Napoleon Kaufman (5-9, 175), one of the top tailbacks in the nation.

While San Diego State's Marshall Faulk and Georgia's Garrison Hearst drew most of the attention among running backs last season, Kaufman accomplished something no other previous Husky back had done — rushed for 1,000 yards as a sophomore.

On a team that balanced its total offense with just a 14-yard difference between passing and rushing, Kaufman was an explosive weapon. He averaged 6.5 yards per carry, averaging just 15 carries per game and also returned punts at a 14.2 clip and kickoffs at 17.6 yards per return.

Opponents concentrating on creating a Waterloo defense to stop Kaufman will be faced with another tailback threat this year thanks to the return of senior Beno Bryant (5-11, 185). A hamstring injury shortened his '92 season after only 19 carries. As a junior he averaged 6.0 yards per carry while helping the Huskies to a share of the national title. The top punt returner in Husky history, Bryant is a multi-dimensional threat like Kaufman who will add to Washington kicking game in addition to his tailback duties.

Matt Jones (6-2, 215), a solid blocking fullback, who also rushed for 126 yards last season, also returns. Jones was sixth on the team last year with 14 receptions. Richard Thomas (5-9, 217), Leif Johnson (5-11, 215) and Eteka Huckaby (6-1, 205) are other returning veterans from last year's squad.

"We sat around all last spring and last summer and talked about the great depth we had at tailback and then within four days of fall camp we were down to one," recalls James of the injuries to Bryant and Jay Barry. "If we can go into games with a healthy Kaufman and Bryant, we'll be in pretty good shape."

Bjornson's departure from the receiving corps will allow more playing time for a talented sophomore class behind senior Joe Kralik (5-10, 195) and junior Damon Barry (6-1, 195). The acrobatic and speedy Kralik led Washington last year with 33 receptions for 487 yards while Barry overcame some early-season injuries to finish the season with 16 catches.

While Kralik and Barry have been solid contributors over the years the sophomore "Wonder Twin" combination of Jason Shelley (6-2, 180) and Theron Hill (5-11, 175) bring sprinters speed and deep threat credentials to the Husky attack. Shelley was third on the team in '92 with 20 catches for a 19.1 average and he added a 64-yard touchdown catch in the Rose Bowl. Hill averaged 22.7 yards on six receptions during the season. Red-shirt freshman Dave Janoski (5-10, 185) could be the surprise of the lot with his skills and speed.

"We have two really experienced players back in Barry and Kralik," James says. "Last year the two freshmen got to play a lot. I feel good about the talent level. There's just a big void in experience outside of the top two guys. The key is going back to the quarterback situation and seeing what they can handle."

Defense

While the offensive side of the ball is full of familiar names, the Husky defense will feature a number of new starters, particularly among the linebackers and secondary.

A handful of players, Andy Mason, Jamal Fountaine, D'Marco Farr, Steve Hoffmann and Josh Moore, are the only returning starters from Washington '92 defense.

Fountaine (6-3, 250), Farr (6-1, 265) and Hoffmann (6-6, 265) return to anchor the defensive line with a year of experience under their belts. There's plenty of competition for those spots that should make the unit better this season. Farr led that trio last year with 44 stops while Fountaine recorded 38 tackles and 6.5 sacks. Hoffmann, who took over as a starter midway through the season, managed 14 tackles.

"As a corps, the defensive line will be a little bit stronger," James says. "We're now more experienced there and we will be bigger and stronger with Farr, Hoffmann and Fountaine back and players that have been in the wings like Mike Ewaliko (6-4, 270) and Trevor Highfield (6-4, 285). Then there's the freshmen, Cedric White (6-3, 275), Bob Sapp (6-5, 260), David Richie

(6-4, 235) and Doug Barnes (6-6, 240). Justin Thomas (6-5, 245) will compete and could start because he runs so well. You can look down through there and see three deep and plenty of guys with a chance to play."

"We feel good about what we're doing on defense. We've just got to take out the number of big plays that we gave up. Even some of the games we won and kept the score down, we gave up big plays. People just didn't hammer us for 12-minute stretches, they would just hit something." -- Don James

Mason (6-2, 230), a candidate for the Lombardi Award this year, has moved to Jaime Fields' vacated outside linebacker spot. The move should highlight Mason's talents, especially his quickness, and places him in pass coverage situations. Mason had 14.5 tackles for loss last year, including eight sacks. Donovan Schmidt (6-3, 245), Mason's backup last season, figures to fill his opening.

Seniors Steve Springstead (6-1, 230) and Hillary Butler (6-2, 235) will fill the vacated inside linebacker spots left by All-

American Dave Hoffmann and James Clifford. They have the biggest shoes to fill on the team after combining for 40 tackles last year. The duo of Hoffmann and Clifford ranked first and second on the team and accounted for 173 tackles last years. They'll get support from redshirt freshman Ink Aleaga (6-2, 220), who stole the spotlight in the spring after Springstead suffered a knee injury.

The departure of Shane Pahukoa, Tommie Smith and Walter Bailey will not be as tough to overcome as some other areas on the team. That trio accounted for 325 tackles and 22 interceptions in their collective careers. But their backups saw plenty of action last season. Josh Moore (6-1, 200), who led Washington with four interceptions last year as a junior, returns to one cornerback spot. Reggie Reser (5-10, 180), who played most of the Rose Bowl after an injury to Bailey, should fill in at the other corner slot. Lamar Lyons (6-3, 208) and red-shirt freshman Lawyer Milloy (6-2, 200) will vie for the free safety spot while Louis Jones (6-2, 222) and David Killpatrick (6-1, 210) compete for the roverback.

"If we can keep the players we have healthy, we'll be okay," James says. "It's like the linebackers — we had some fairly good guys in the wings last year ready to move up, but they don't have a lot of experience."

James feels the key to the Husky defense will be preventing big plays.

"We feel good about what we're doing on defense," James says. "We've just got to take out the number of big plays that we gave up. The Rose Bowl, the Washington State game are examples of times when big plays really hurt us. Even some of the games we won and kept the score down, we gave up big plays. People just didn't hammer us for 12-minute stretches, they would just hit something."

"The defense can also do a lot to protect the quarterback if we can stay away from shootouts. Obviously, then the quarterback doesn't have to carry as much of a load."

Travis Hanson (6-0, 185) returns as the Husky placekicker and John Werdel (6-2, 205) will again handle the punting chores. Hanson converted all 36 extra points last year and made 10 of 13 field goals in the regular season. Opponents average field position after his kickoffs was just the 22-yard line. Werdel averaged 38.5 yards per punt and placed 21 of his 69 boots inside the 20-yard line.

The Huskies will not have to wait long to see how they'll fare in this year's Pac-10 race. Washington plays hosts to Stanford in the season opener for both teams on Sept. 4 at Husky Stadium. The non-conference schedule includes East Carolina, San Jose State and a night game at Ohio State to be broadcast in prime time to a national audience by ABC Sports.

Arizona drops off the Huskies' Pac-10 schedule but UCLA returns after a two-year absence.

"I don't look at anybody as being a slam dunk favorite in the Pac-10," James says. "The Arizona teams are going to be tough. UCLA came on strong late last year and they're always in the race with USC. The Bay area teams got the most publicity out of the recruiting classes and the Northwest teams are always rival games for us. So it is going to be another great race in the league."

Last year the Pac-10 was considered the top conference in the nation, especially in terms of defense. Washington's third-straight league title was particularly impressive, considering the team figured eighth in total defense in the Pac-10.

The message James has for his team is a simple one if it hopes to earn a fourth-straight Pac-10 title and trip to the Rose Bowl.

"The trend in the last four games is not the way we want to go," James says. "That ties into what our feeling is, 'Are we going to get back to a championship level?'"

With that thought in mind, the motto that hangs above the player's tunnel this year is R.A.W. You'll have to figure out what that means. That's another Husky tradition — only the players and coaches know the meaning of the message when it's freshly painted.

Washington: A candidate for the Lou Groza award ... the first Washington kicker ever brought in as a scholarship freshman since Don James began coaching the Huskies in 1975 ... that includes veteran NFL kickers Jeff Jaeger, Mike Lansford and Chuck Nelson who were all walk-on players ... right-footed, soccer-style kicker ... owns the Rose Bowl record with five career field goals ... has scored 26 points in Rose Bowl play to set career record ... previous record of 25 established by Michigan's Neil Snow in 1902 ... can also punt if needed. 1992: Honorable mention Pac-10 All-Academic team selection ... had a very steady year as the Husky placekicker, taking all of the team's field goal and point-after attempts, only giving way to backup Jason Crabbe on a few late kickoffs ... hit all 36 of his PAT attempts in 1992 and missed only three field goals, going 10 for 13 on the year ... led the team in scoring with 66 points, 18 more than the next highest scoring Husky, Mark Brunell ... also had one tackle ... kicked a 42-yard field goal, three PATs and missed a 25-yarder in opening win at Arizona State ... hit next five field goals in a row ... booted two three-pointers against Wisconsin, from 39 and 32 yards out ... added another two field goals of 42 and 32 yards, against Nebraska ... ran streak to five in a row with a 40-yard kick against USC ... second miss of the season was on his longest attempt of the year, a 44-yard try against California ... nailed a 38-yarder and missed a 37-yard attempt at Oregon ... kicked only four field goals (on five attempts) in the season's last six games ... converted all four PATs in the Rose Bowl against Michigan, and made a 44-yard field goal, while missing from 22 yards ... 44-yarder was his fifth made field goal in the Rose Bowl, extending his own record ... also served as the backup punter late in the year, but saw no action in that role ... in the regular season 12 of his 54 kickoffs went for touchbacks ... opponent average field position was only the 22-yard line. 1991: Was Washington's regular placekicker most of the season ... the only game he missed was against Toledo when he was troubled by a sore back ... converted eight of 15 regular-season field goal attempts, including three field goals each against Oregon and Arizona State ... made both of his field goal attempts in the Rose Bowl, hitting from 24 and 23 yards ... those two field goals, paired with two in the 1990 Rose Bowl, gave him a Rose Bowl-record four career field goals ... handled both kickoffs and placekicking chores until Jason Crabbe took over the kickoff duties against Oregon ... long kick was against Oregon, a 44-yarder ... also had a 43-yard effort against Stanford ... was successful on 40 of 44 PATs ... finished fifth in the Pac-10 in field goals ... voted the team's Most Improved Placekicker/Punter by the coaching staff following spring drills. 1990: Appeared in 10 of 11 regular season games and the Rose Bowl ... was strictly a kickoff man early in the year and then took over the field goal and extra point duties from Mike Dodd for the final five games and the Rose Bowl ... did not kick off from the Stanford game on ... finished the year with 30 points, converting all 21 extra point attempts and three of four field goals ... had successful field goals of 42 (California), 40 (Arizona) and 42 (WSU) yards and his only miss was a 45-yarder against UCLA ... made kicks from 23 and 38 yards in the Rose Bowl ... he and his brother scored the only points in the opening period of the UW-WSU game as his brother's 46-yarder matched his 42-yarder.

High School and Personal: Born March 6, 1972, in Spokane, Wash. ... has one older brother, Jason, an All-America placekicker and punter at Washington State who was drafted in the second round by the Detroit Lions ... was student body president ... had a 3.5 high school GPA ... was a two-year letterman at Spokane's Mead High School ... handled all kicking for the club and also worked some at wide receiver as a senior ... made 5-of-7 field goals his senior year and all 23 PATs ... long kick was a 49-yarder vs. Ferris High School ... also had kicks from 47, 46 and 45 yards ... made one from 50 yards but it was negated by a penalty that was accepted by his coach ... averaged 37.0 yards per kick as a punter ... made just three field goals as a junior ... had three catches with one touchdown as a wide receiver senior season ... team was 8-3 and made it to the state playoffs ... coach was Mike McLaughlin ... named second-team All-Greater Spokane League as a senior and was also named to that league's all-academic team ... was second team All-GSL as a punter as a junior ... named a blue chip recruit by Seattle Times ... three-year letterman on Mead soccer team that was undefeated in GSL play in 90 games ... a first-team All-GSL selection as a junior ... was soccer captain two years ... majoring in history.

15 Travis Spring

December 1, 1972 - April 28, 1992

On April 28, 1992, the Seattle community was saddened by the news of Travis Spring's untimely death. A 19-year-old freshman wide receiver on the Washington Husky football team, Spring passed away from complications arising from his battle with cancer.

Travis was an all-state defensive back out of Seattle's Franklin High School. The two-time All-Metro League honoree intercepted 25 passes during his career. He also caught 29 passes his senior year, guiding the Quakers to a 10-1 record and a berth in the state semifinals.

As a freshman at Washington, Travis worked out with the team and traveled to the Rose Bowl. His brief collegiate playing career will best be remembered for his performance with the UW scout team leading up to the Rose Bowl. His portrayal of Michigan Heisman Trophy winner Desmond Howard proved so accurate, and prepared his teammates so well, they were able to limit Howard to just one reception in the victory. He played a large role in Washington's national championship triumph.

However, it is his life off the field for which Travis will best be remembered. Born in South Vietnam and raised in the United States, Travis knew no cultural barriers. He was a friend to many, regardless of their background.

The loss of Travis Spring is shared by his family, his teammates, his coaches, the University of Washington community and the entire city of Seattle. The Huskies wear a number 15 decal on the back of their helmets in remembrance to him. Last year a Travis Spring Award was inaugurated and presented to an outstanding freshman player.

HEAD COACH DON JAMES

The nurses at Massillon Community Hospital in Massillon, Ohio knew what they were doing when they gave young Donald Earl James his football. The story has it, that all young boys born in Massillon are presented a football at the hospital. That's how much the town loves its favorite sport.

The hope is, someday, the youngster will grow up to become a Massillon Tiger. And that's exactly what Don James did. But he did not let his football career end there. A record-setting quarterback at the University of Miami, James has steadily moved up the ranks to become one of the most respected coaches in the college game.

He is one infant from that Massillon nursery who has surely made the nurses proud.

Over the last two decades James has gone about his job in his typical business-like manner. And in that time, he has established himself as one of the winningest and most successful coaches in college history.

Since his arrival at Washington in 1975, there have been many great days for Husky fans. His teams have participated in a postseason bowl for 13 of the last 14 seasons, including a Pacific-10 Conference record nine straight from 1979-87.

James became the fourth individual to coach in six-or-more Rose Bowls last year when the Huskies posted a 9-3 record, including a third straight Rose Bowl appearance. His overall bowl record is 10-5, including a 5-2 mark on New Year's Day.

The season before, in 1992, James guided Washington to a 34-14 victory over Michigan, putting himself in an exclusive club of only four coaches who have registered at least four Rose Bowl victories. That victory also paved the way for Washington's first national championship.

James currently ranks fourth on the all-time bowl game coaching victory list, a chart topped by legendary Alabama coach Paul "Bear" Bryant.

Last year's Husky squad picked up right where the '91 unit left off, winning the first eight games of the year to give Washington a 22-game winning streak. The Huskies'

9-2 mark earned a third straight Rose Bowl trip — the sixth Washington appearance in Pasadena on New Year's Day under James' direction. The season saw the Huskies climb to number-one in the Associated Press poll for five weeks and finish 10th in the final regular season poll. James' efforts earned him finalists honors for the Bear Bryant Award and he was also named as one of 15 semifinalists for the Football News coach of the year.

The 1991 Washington squad was his finest yet. The Huskies posted a 12-0 record and were voted the National Champions in the final USA Today/CNN Coaches' Poll, the first time a UW squad had earned such an honor. The team was also listed atop the polls sponsored by the Football Writers Association of America, the National Football Foundation/UPI and The Sporting News. A convincing 34-14 win over Michigan in the 1992 Rose Bowl helped seal the Huskies' title. During the regular-season, Washington rolled through its schedule with the first unbeaten and untied record by a Husky squad since 1915. The Huskies were the first Pac-10 team to finish with an unbeaten, untied record since Southern California in 1972.

The pinnacle of college football had finally been attained by the individual they call the dean of Pacific-10 coaches. Don James earned that title by building a consistent, winning, nationally-prominent program during the longest current tenure of any conference coach. All the while James' program has maintained its trademark class and integrity.

Under James, Washington earned a Pac-10 record nine straight bowl invitations (1979-87) and 13 in the last 14 years. James has produced 16 consecutive winning seasons and 17 of his 18 UW teams have finished in the upper division of the conference race. A total of 13 of those teams have finished either first or second in the league, including three straight Pac-10 championships.

Washington won more games than any other Pac-10 school in the 1980s with 84 victories and was the only team in the conference to have a winning season each year during the 1980s.

That winning legacy has carried over into the 1990s as James has guided the Huskies to 10-2, 12-0 and 9-2 records, including two Rose Bowl wins, and a 21-3 mark in conference play. For molding the Huskies into one of most dominant teams in conference history, James was been honored as the Pac-10 coach of the year in '90 and '91.

Following the '91 season, James received the Bear Bryant Award as the nation's best coach, as well as the Chevrolet College Coach of the Year award and the National Football Foundation Coach of the Year award.

That wasn't the first time. Previously, he was voted National Coach of the Year at the Seattle-based Gold Helmet Banquet and by the Columbus (Ohio) Touchdown Club in 1984. In 1987, he was named National Coach of the Year by Kodak, District Coach of the Year, West Coast Coach of the Year, Pacific-10 Coach of the Year and Seattle's Sportsman of the Year, to name a few. In June, 1987, James was enshrined in the Florida Citrus Bowl Hall of Fame. A number of publications - Sports Illustrated, Sport, Inside Sports, Playboy, The Miami Herald and most recently Don Heinrich's Pro Preview - have all, at various times, named James as the best in the business.

James, 59, served as President of the American Football Coaches Association in 1989, gaining the lofty position by a vote of his peers. Among Pacific-10 coaches he is peerless.

153-56-2 in 18 seasons at the UW, James owns the most Pac-8/Pac-10 victories in the history of the prestigious conference with 97. In 1988, he surpassed the mark of 70 conference victories established by former USC coach John McKay.

James, still a leading voice in the AFCA, is also active in the NCAA, having served on several committees during his career. He is currently a member of the NCAA Professional Sports Liaison Committee. He is also active in many local civic affairs, including the Boy Scouts, March of Dimes, American Cancer Fund, Junior Achievement and Cystic Fibrosis.

It is his on-field accomplishments that have earned James acclaim. He is admired nationally for his teams' disciplined offenses, rock-solid defenses and well-drilled special teams.

Four James-coached clubs in the 1980's were ranked No. 1 in the country at some point in the season in at least one major poll or magazine. The 1982 club was ranked No. 1 by the wire service polls for seven straight weeks. The 1983 club was a pre-season No. 1 choice. The 1984 club was ranked No. 1 by the wire services for four weeks and No. 1 at the conclusion of the season by football News and the Chicago Tribune. The 1985 club, like '83, was a pre-season No. 1 pick. The 1990 Husky unit climbed as high as No. 2 in the national polls and led all Division I-A schools in rushing defense and turnover margin.

In his 18 years at Washington, James has seen 87 Husky players drafted by the NFL, including 59 during the 1980s. Thirty-nine of his players have been drafted in the first five rounds, including seven first-round picks. More than two dozen other James products have gone to the USFL and CFL, and numerous Huskies have made the NFL as free agents.

James has proven to be a worthy mentor for assistant coaches seeking head coaching jobs. Eight of James' assistants have moved on to head coaching positions following their stay at Washington. Among the former assistant coaches now serving as head coaches are Jim Mora (New Orleans Saints), Jim Heacock (Illinois State), Bob Wagner (Hawaii), Gary Pinkel (Toledo), Bob Stull (Missouri), Keith Gilbertson (California) and the late Dick Scesniak (Kent State). USC quarterbacks coach Ray Dorr was also a James' aide who went on to become the head coach at Southern Illinois.

Dean of the Pac-10

Since his arrival at Washington in 1975, Don James has become the dean of Pac-10 coaches. In his 18-year run with the Huskies, there have been 42 other coaches come, go and even return to the league. Here's a list of other Pac-10 head coaches during James' tenure:

James was hired at Washington on December 23, 1974. In the previous four seasons (1971-74), he was head coach at Kent State where he posted a 25-19-1 overall record and took Kent State to its first-ever bowl game, a 21-18 Tangerine Bowl loss to Tampa. Before landing his first head coaching job, James served his apprenticeship in some outstanding programs, including Colorado (1968-70), Michigan (1966-67) and Florida State (1959-65). He was a freshman coach at Kansas while earning his master's degree and coached at Southwest HS in Miami (Fla.) before joining Florida State.

James grew up in the football hotbed of Massillon, Ohio, where he played quarterback and defensive back for two state championship teams at Washington High School. He accepted a scholarship to Miami of Florida where he set five school passing records. He graduated in 1954 with various academic and military honors, and earned the Optner Trophy honoring Miami's top scholar-athlete. Last winter he was inducted into the University of Miami Hall of Fame in a group that also included Buffalo Bills' quarterback Jim Kelly.

James was commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the U.S. Army (1st Transportation Corps) where he served two years before resuming his studies at the University of Kansas and doubling as the Jayhawks' freshmen football coach. He graduated in 1957 with a master's degree in Education and then returned to Miami (Southwest H.S.) where he coached football and basketball.

Turning to the college ranks, James spent seven years at Florida State and was elevated to assistant head coach and defensive coordinator. It was at FSU where James really began to make a name for himself as a defensive mastermind. In his four seasons as a defensive coordinator, the Seminoles recorded 13 shutouts, held three teams to a single field goal and held 14 others to only one touchdown. The 1964 FSU squad capped a 9-1-1 season with a 35-19 win over Oklahoma in the Gator Bowl.

James moved to Michigan where he served as head defensive coach for two seasons, and then moved to Colorado where he served as defensive coordinator for three years and helped the Buffaloes to a pair of Liberty Bowl appearances. After a dozen years in the assistant coaching ranks, James was hired by Mike Lude to become head coach at Kent State University.

James remained at Kent State for four seasons (1971-74), compiling a 25-19-1 overall record. His club upset North Carolina State 21-10 in his very first game as a head coach. He took Kent State to its first-ever bowl game (Tangerine Bowl) the following year and was named both Mid-American Coach of the Year and Ohio College Coach of the Year. His 1973 team produced a 9-2 season, best in Kent State history. Following a 7-4 mark in 1974, Joe Kearney offered James the Washington job and he accepted two days before Christmas.

His success at Washington wasn't far away.

Don and his wife, Carol, also a native of Massillon and a graduate of Miami (Fla.), have three adult children, Jeff, Jill and Jeni, and six grandchildren. Daughter Jeni is a 1993 graduate of the University of Washington and a former member of the Husky Rally squad.

The Husky coach was born December 31, 1932. He is an avid reader and runner, and an accomplished golfer who recorded his third hole-in-one in June, 1985. He has hiked to the summit of Mt. Rainier and completed his first marathon in 1987.

What They're Saying About Don James

Bob Sherwin, Pacific Northwest Magazine

"Although he may be viewed as something of a miracle-worker after taking over the floundering University of Washington football program in 1975 and transforming it into a perennial national power, Don James is not godlike; he's god-fearing. He is not all-powerful; he admits to weaknesses. He is not and doesn't want to be perceived as anything but what he is: just a college football coach, perhaps the best in the country, but, still, just a coach."

John Carlson, Seattle Post-Intelligencer

"Don James makes dozens of visits every year to lift the spirits of hospital patients. Not with camera crews in tow. Just him. When Bear Bryant donated $100,000 to the University of Alabama, he received national attention. But how many people know that Don James also established a $100,000 endowment at the University of Washington? Not many. It hasn't been made public until now."

Robert Arlen, Western World Magazine

"The secret to James success is his unerring reliance on the management techniques employed in most successful businesses. He is considered the most thorough and detail-conscious coach in America. He is known as a "coach of coaches" in that he delegates virtually all aspects of the game operation to his assistants. He is the leader, the planner, the organizer — the "Chairman of the Board," in the words of his assistant coaches."

Sports Illustrated on listing the top college coaches.

"Best Coaches: 1. Don James, Washington. 2. Don James, Washington. 3. Don James, Washington."

Carol James

"In my scrapbook I have a clipping quoting Bear Bryant saying Don James is a good passing quarterback, so that's like God speaking there."

LaVell Edwards, head coach BYU

"He never uses his driver; he always drives with a three-wood. He wants to keep it under control, the same way he is with his football team."

Hugh McElhenny

"Organizer and leader. That describes Don James — the best kept secret in college football. Please don't tell anybody."

Chuck Nelson, former husky placekicker

"That horn was blowing and squads of people were moving this way and that — with no directions — and I was lost. Being just out of high school, it seemed like the Marines to me. But you know exactly where to be, what to do at each moment. You don't waste time or get bored. You might think a substitution drill is trivial, but it stole us a win at Stanford in 1980. There were only a few seconds left and we got the field goal team on immediately. I got the ball up with the clock at 0:00, and we won 27-24. Without that one, no Rose Bowl. His system works — I'm a believer."

Doug Looney, Sports Illustrated

"The reason James is so successful is that no other coach has demonstrated the willingness to change every one of his theories, plans and schemes as James has. And that flies in the face of everything James seems to be. When unmasked, one of football's most intransigent coaches is actually the ultimate flexible man."

Keith Gilbertson, head coach California

"Coach James likes to change, grow, experiment, ask questions. He always wants to do what is best for his football team."

Vince Bruun, Everett Herald

"Organization is what has enabled James to become the dean of Pacific-10 Conference football coaches. And organization is the legacy James has passed on to his assistant coaches."

Bob Stull, Missouri head coach

"Don is able to focus in on the big things and the little things. He is a master of organization. They talk about me being organized, but I'm light years away from Don. Don can tell you how many miles he ran a year ago last Thursday."

Beano Cook, ESPN

"If he took over a pro team, he'd have them in the Super Bowl in three years."

Skip Hall, former UW assistant coach

"Don's not interested in personal acclaim. He's only interested in the team and what the team attains. He's very much a team player, and everyone on the team has a role to play. What Don is is the chairman of the board. He makes sure everything is tied together."

LaVell Edwards, head coach BYU

"Playing Don's team is no different than playing a Joe Paterno-coached team or a team coached by Bo Schembechler. Those kinds of teams are always well-organized and well-coached. It's what all good programs do and what all teams, even pro teams, try to do. If they're going to get beat, you have to beat them. They don't make mistakes."

Carol James on her early courtship with Don

"He worked hard. He slept through many a date when he was supposed to pick me up because he had worked so hard, practiced with the football team and then would come home exhausted. He always apologized, but it was no big deal."

Joe Kearney, former Washington athletic director.

"I had no doubt he could be a successful football coach from his first interview."

Blaine Newhman, Seattle Times

"Every season, almost every day, James shows the hold he has on his program through an obsession with detail, organization and problem solving. He has the kind of leadership and success that should cause college football to remember him among its greatest coaches."

Michael Jackson, former Husky linebacker

"The same man that recruited me is the same man that coached me ... He's an awesome coach but he's very human and I could go to his office and talk anytime. It was funny once, but I needed to watch film and couldn't find a projector and he asked me what was the matter. I told him and he said, 'Here, take mine,' and walked out of his own office. I was dumbfounded."

John Carlson, Seattle Post-Intelligencer

"James is more than a great coach. James is a great man, a man who deserves to be called what men like him were called years ago: a hero. That word isn't used much these days. In fact, in all my time in the media, I haven't used the word very often myself. But I am today. It fits."

Gary Shelton, Miami Herald

"James may be the most organized man in America. Few get as much out of his players as James."

Eddie Crowder, former Colorado coach

"People like Don James may not have the flamboyant strokes of great genius, but everything they do is genius by their consistency."

Mike Lude, former Washington athletic director

"He keeps that cutting edge of excellence by not getting fat, dumb and happy by what has happened in the past."

Carol James

"Our favorite song for as long as I can remember has been 'Always.' Whenever we've written or sent something to each other, we've always used that phrase. It sums up our lives together."

Husky Football

Don James On ...

His Favorite Slogan

"Isn't it wonderful what can be accomplished when no one cares who gets the credit."

His Idols

"If somebody asked me who the all-time greatest football coach in America was, I'd have to say Paul Brown. He got my attention when I was in high school, and he sort of turned me to coaching."

Practice

"Our goal is to run 60 plays in a 10 minute, one-on-one passing drill. It doesn't do much good to have a clinic out there for a few players while 50 more stand around."

Preseason Ratings

"Most coaches would like to go into the season rated high. This means their program has gained the respect of the media and sports fans. To get that annual Fall rating you obviously have to end up in the top 10 or 20 teams a few times at the end of the season."

A College Playoff

"I don't believe Division I needs a playoff. If we were Division II or III and lacked exposure it would be very important. I don't think it would be very difficult to set up a playoff plan, but with the bowl structure as it is and the countless millions of dollars they have pumped back into our universities, I wouldn't want to do anything to destroy the present structure."

The Polls

"The polls provide a lot of interest ... interest during the week when people are reading about last week's game and thinking about next week's game. It's good for football. Sure there's some debate about 'I'm better than you' or 'I should be eighth and you should be 10th,' but it just makes our sport a lot more interesting."

Being Successful

"When you're successful you become a target. Everybody wants to be where you are. You're the team to beat. You won't even recognize your opponents on game day because they're going to give you their best shot."

Failure

"I don't want to be associated with failure. Before a game, when we're finished with everything, I do sit down and worry. You can't think about anything else. There is self-doubt. You wonder sometimes how you can beat anybody. They look so good on film."

Entering the Coaching Profession

"Thinking back to the reasons why I am in this business, it's because of the coaches I've played for. I've had great respect for them. Of all the courses I've taken in high school and college, I can't remember my teachers, but I remember all my coaches."

Bowl Games

"The greatest thing for a football coach is to be away at Christmas."

Following His Brother, Tommy, Into the NFL

"That was one of my goals when I was starting in college, to follow my brother's footsteps. I wanted to be a pro quarterback. But I knew there were not many 5-9 quarterbacks in the NFL. Looking back on it, though, if I hadn't have had that goal, I probably wouldn't have gone as far as I did."

Working at His Uncle's Construction Company Carrying Bricks

"That's really what triggered me. That's hard work and I told myself I was going to college and was not going to do this the rest of my life."

Growing Up in Massillon

"It was a great and exciting time. If ever there was a football town, Massillon was it. You'd walk downtown and see your picture in store windows. It was a town that truly supported its team."

On Dining with Paul Brown, His College Roommate's Father

"I don't remember any casual conversations with him. It wasn't always football, but it was always important. It's like you wanted to take notes at dinner."

Changing Philosophy

"Coaches probably research their positions more than any other profession. You hear about General Motors, Chrysler — they set aside millions for research dollars. But we have run into it all the time. With the advent of television to go with our films and now video, with all the games on TV, I don't know that there's a profession that is subject to more visibility and change than coaching football."

Spring Football

"I've always said this is the most enjoyable time of the year. You've finished recruiting, and now you start plotting, planning and strategizing. The enjoyable thing is you get to teach without having to win a game on Saturday."

His College Career

"We went to the Orange Bowl my first year, when I was on the freshman team. When I was a reserve quarterback as a sophomore, we went to the Gator Bowl. After I started playing, we didn't go to any more bowls."

Coaching at Kent State

"I applied for the job. It was only 30 miles from my home. I wasn't worried about how much it was going to pay. When you're getting to be a head coach for the first time, you don't worry that much about money."

A 32-year-old native of Renton, Mallory received his bachelor's degree in Political Science from Washington where he was a three-year letterwinner (1981-83). for the Huskies, earning All-Pac-10 and All-Coast honors as a senior, while serving as team captain. He was selected in the ninth round of the 1984 draft by Tampa Bay, and played five seasons with the Buccaneers.

Mallory and his wife Shannon have three children, Ryan (11), Adam (nine) and Cameron (six).

The Administration

The University of Washington

Founded in 1861, the University of Washington is one of the foremost institutions of higher education in the nation, richly combining its research, instructional and public service missions.

Its internationally acclaimed faculty includes two Nobel Laureates, and the winner of the 1990 National Book Award for Fiction. Washington is part of an elite group of research universities whose contributions to American life are unique because they generate the basic knowledge upon which practical innovations are based.

The UW student body totals over 34,000, with an undergraduate enrollment of approximately 25,000 and a graduate enrollment of approximately 9,000.

For more than two decades, the university has been among the country's top five institutions in the dollar value of federal research grants and contracts awarded to its faculty. Total grant and contract activity for 1991 exceeded $356 million. More than 80 percent of the university's grant and contract funds come from federal agencies. Research contributes directly to the educational goals of graduate and professional students, as well as to those of undergraduates.

Instruction and research at Washington are supported by a library system that is one of the most extensive in the nation. It consists of five major units and 17 branches, housing more than five million volumes. In addition to offering instruction in more than 100 academic disciplines, the university offers a spectrum of continuing education courses that advance technical and professional skills and provide opportunities for personal growth and enrichment to more than 24,000 personal annually.

Washington has 16 major schools and colleges: Architecture and Urban Planning, Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Dentistry, Education, Engineering, Forest Resources, The Graduate School, Law, Medicine, Nursing, Ocean and Fishery Sciences, Pharmacy, Public Affairs, Public Health and Community Medicine, and Social Work. Washington has branch campuses in Tacoma and Bothell.

About 87 percent of the University's students are state residents, although instructional programs draw students from every region of the country and overseas. About 75 percent are undergraduates; 25 percent are enrolled in graduate and professional programs. Most freshmen entering Washington are in the top third of their high school graduating classes.

Beyond its academic and service missions, the UW has a strong economic impact on Washington and the Pacific Northwest.

With about 17,000 employees, Washington is the second largest employer in King County. Washington operates the University of Washington Medical Center and Harborview Medical Center, which annually provide more than 200,000 days of patient care and record more than 300,000 visits to their outpatient clinics.

Washington also plays a critical role in attracting new business to the region. It provides these, and established businesses, with a steady stream of well-educated graduates and with highly skilled faculty members who assist business and industry in a variety of ways.

The University of Washington is located on 694 acres in Seattle's northeast residential area, a beautiful setting on the shore of Lake Washington and Portage Bay. The majestic Cascade Mountains can be seen to the east, while the western view includes downtown Seattle and Lake Union. The combination of this spectacular setting with buildings in both neo-Gothic and modern styles gives the campus a distinctive aura.

University Administrators

William P. Gerberding President

William P. Gerberding became president of the University of Washington July 1, 1979, having previously served as chancellor of the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, and executive vice chancellor of the University of California, Los Angeles (UCLA).

Gerberding's tenure as president has been marked by increased support for the University, both public and private; an emphasis on improving the quality of undergraduate instruction; the opening of branch campuses in Bothell and Tacoma in 1990; and a major effort to modernize the University's facilities through construction of the Kenneth S. Allen Library, a new Physics/Astronomy building, a new Chemistry building, additions to the Magnuson Health Sciences Center, and other capital projects.

Private support for the University has grown dramatically under Gerberding's leadership. The University's first major fund drive, the Campaign for Washington, raised more than $284 million in gifts and pledges from 1987-92. The University's Consolidated Endowment Fund has grown from less than $20 million when Gerberding became president to more than $225 million by the end of 1992.

Gerberding's leadership in higher education has been recognized nationally. In 1989-90, he served as chair of the Association of American Universities, a group representing the 58 top research universities in North America.

A 1951 graduate of Macalester College in St. Paul, Minn., where he majored in philosophy, Gerberding received his master's degree and his doctorate in 1959, both in political science, from the University of Chicago. A specialist in U.S. foreign policy, he was a member of UCLA's political science faculty from 1961 to 1972, and in 1966 was one of four recipients of the Distinguished Teaching Award given annually by the UCLA Alumni Association.

Gerberding is a fan of intercollegiate athletics and professional baseball, and plays golf and tennis. A classical music devotee who enjoys all the arts, he and wife Ruth are the parents of four grown children — David, Steven, Liza and John — and they have one granddaughter.

James R. Collier Vice President for University Relations

The University of Washington has brought under a single administrative umbrella most of the UW departments and agencies that advance the University's interest to the public in some visible way.

The Office of University Relations is headed by Vice President James R. Collier, who was ranking administrator at the University of Illinois before joining President William P. Gerberding and the UW's central administrative team in 1981.

University Relations includes:

- The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics
- A comprehensive Alumni Relations Program that serves some 200,000 former UW students.
- Office of News and Information, which provides through the mass media, public information about the University's faculty, staff and students, and its broad-based programs in teaching, research, and public service.
- KUOW-FM, the UW's public radio station, serving Western Washington and parts of British Columbia, Canada.

- KCMU-FM, a student-run station serving Seattle.

- Office of Public Exercises, responsible for the University's Commencement and other official functions.

- Administrative Support Services, a department that is home to the Visitor's Information Center, the Speaker's Bureau, Department of Trademarks and Licensing, and other units.

The Office of University Relations has responsibility for conducting community relations programs and is involved in government relations programs as well.

The senior University officer with administrative oversight responsibility for the Husky athletic program, Vice President Collier is involved with athletic director Barbara Hedges on a routine basis in management matters.

A native of South Dakota, Collier earned his master's degree at the University of Iowa and his bachelor's degree in Kansas at Wichita State University. He is married to April Collier. He has three children - Jamie, a 1987 graduate of the UW; Jill, a 1989 UW alumna; and Erin, a sophomore at University of Arizona in Tucson.

Husky Football Seattle

First-time visitors are astonished at the wealth of natural beauty in and around Seattle. Literally touching the city's boundaries are thousands of square miles of ever-green forest and hundreds of miles of salt and freshwater shoreline. With this wealth of nature at their doorstep, both Seattleites and visitors concentrate much of their recreation in the outdoors.

Bracketed east and west by freshwater Lake Washington and saltwater Puget Sound, the city occupies a north-south corridor, slender at the waist and embracing numerous hills. On a clear day, the views of the mountains and water are spectacular.

Most of Seattle's attractions are clustered in pedestrian-scale sections, best savored on foot. Central business district buses are free and the Monorail speeds quickly between downtown and the Seattle Center.

Crown jewel of Seattle's attractions is the Seattle Center, the 74-acre legacy of the 1962 World's Fair. Its distinctive 605-foot Space Needle is the city's leading landmark. From its lofty observation deck, there's a 360-degree view of the city and Puget Sound, backdropped by the snowcapped Cascade Range to the east and the Olympic Mountains to the west.

Seattle Center is enjoyable in any season but on weekends and fairweather days between April and October, it's a beehive of activity with outdoor concerts, amusement park attractions, impromptu performances and special events.

Downtown, just two blocks uphill from the water, Pike Place Market is one of the last authentic farmer's markets in the country. A walk through the colorful old market becomes truly a sensory experience as vendors hawk their wares in a dozen different languages; coffee, tea and spice shops assail you with their pungent odors; and seemingly limitless heaps of fresh fruit, vegetables and seafood stretch away on every hand.

Pioneer Square, the city's preserved historic district, lies adjacent to the southern end of the downtown waterfront. Here the city has its roots, centered around the original Skid Road (Yesler Way), a road used to skid timber down from the hills to Elliott Bay.

Many of the fine old brick and sandstone buildings have been painstakingly restored in recent years and a half-dozen square blocks of the district offer excellent shopping and dining as well as historic ambience. The Underground Tours that go beneath the current-day Pioneer Square cobblestones provide a glimpse of Seattle, circa 1890.

Seattle's strong maritime environment comes into sharp focus at Fisherman's Terminal, home of hundreds of purse seiners and gill net boats. Residents often take time to stroll along the piers, watch fishermen mending their nets and admire the sturdy boats that take these men to sea.

Getting out on the water is easy. The cheapest way is to board one of the big green and white Washington State Ferries for a ride across the Sound to Bremerton (55 minutes each way) or Bainbridge Island (30 minutes each way). Both ferries move through the bustling harbor traffic, offer a look at the islands and residential shorelines across Puget Sound and provide stunning views of the city skyline and waterfront from Elliott Bay.

Seattle is famous for its fresh seafood, especially local clams, oysters, salmon, halibut and crab. The best seafood restaurants also have water views where you can sit beside Puget Sound, Lake Union or Lake Washington and watch the marine traffic. But, Seattle dining is much more than seafood. Large Scandinavian and Oriental populations add exotic fares of those regions to Seattle menus. Visitors can also partake of French, German, Italian, Greek, Polynesian, Thai and a dozen other cuisines.

Barbara Hedges -- Director of Athletics

Barbara Hedges begins her third year as the director of athletics for one of the nation's most successful and respected college athletic programs. Hedges began her tenure as director in July of 1991 and has encountered a great deal of success in her first two years as a Husky.

Hedges was on hand for the Huskies' first-ever national football championship in 1991 and the team's third consecutive trip to the Rose Bowl in 1992. She has seen a number of other UW teams post successful seasons.

A few highlights from last season included: the Husky baseball squad won its second consecutive Pac-10 Northern Division title; the Husky men's soccer team was ranked as high as fifth in the nation and advanced to the NCAA championships; the men's and women's tennis teams won conference titles and produced an All-American player; men's and women's crew won Pacific Coast and Windermere Cup titles and posted top-five national finishes; men's and women's cross country and track and field sent representatives to NCAA championship competition; the women's basketball team advanced to the second round of NCAA play and the women's gymnastics team consistently topped team scoring marks and drew national rankings.

More importantly than just championships, under Hedges' guidance Washington has become one of the national leaders in participation for student-athletes. Last season 750 student-athletes competed for Husky teams — the most in the Pac-10. Washington has also emerged as a leading school in terms of gender equity, fielding a program that provides near equal participation opportunities for males and females.

It is clear that Hedges is committed to a quality athletics program across the board. She has encouraged the Husky coaching staffs to upgrade the level of competition in the Olympic sports programs. Since her arrival, Washington has added two women's sports and is currently undergoing a facilities upgrade that will see capital improvements in several of the Husky Olympic sport competition venues.

Hedges is similarly committed to a high level of academic achievement among Washington's student-athlete population. To this end, she has instituted a number of progressive measures — such as mentor programs, career nights and self-development seminars — that she hopes will aid the student-athletes in more easily achieving all their non-athletic goals.

Hedges is no stranger to the responsibilities of running nationally prominent athletic programs. In 1985, she assumed responsibility for the daily operation of 17 men's and women's sports, including the administration of a $4 million budget, as an associate athletic director at the University of Southern California. In June of 1989, Hedges was promoted to senior associate director of athletics at USC.

She joined the USC staff in 1974 when she was appointed associate athletic director in charge of USC's nine women's sports. Under her guidance, USC built a winning tradition for its women's sports programs that reflected a commitment to high standards of athletic and academic excellence. During her tenure, 13

USC women's teams won national championships and 68 women earned individual national titles. More than 150 Trojan women were honored as All-Americans and 36 athletes reached the Olympic ranks.

Since 1985, when she assumed the administrative responsibility for eight men's sports, USC earned three more national championships and 12 individual titles. More than 100 USC men garnered All-American acclaim and 10 were Olympians during her tenure.

Hedges was one of the founders of the USC Scholarship Club, which supports both men's and women's athletics programs. She was also the creator and co-founder of the Women of Troy, a premier USC athletic support group.

She took the welfare of her student-athletes to heart through her membership on the President's Task Force to Review Student-Athlete Academic Services, the USC Student-Athlete Review Task Force and the USC Student-Athlete Drug Testing Review Committee.

Her commitment to the field of college athletics makes her a familiar name on the national scene as well. Hedges has served as president of the Council of Collegiate Women Athletic Administrators and the Western Collegiate Athletic Association and also served a term as president of the Division I-A Women's Athletic Administrators. She chaired the NCAA Women's Tennis Committee for eight years and the NCAA Division I Men's and Women's Tennis Committee in 1988. She was one of a three-member NCAA Special Television Committee to negotiate the NCAA rights for all sports except football and basketball with ESPN, ABC, CBS and international television.

Hedges is also experienced with the administration of championship events. She served as tournament director of the 1993 NCAA Men's Basketball West Regional at the Kingdome, the 1984 West Regional Women's Basketball Championship. She will also serve as tournament director for the 1995 NCAA Men's Final Four to be held at the Kingdome. Hedges was also instrumental in bringing the 1992 Division I Women's Final Four to Los Angeles. At USC, she was administratively responsible for the 1988 NCAA Division I Men's Golf Championship and the 1990 NCAA Division I Men's Tennis Championship.

Hedges has been a featured speaker for the National Association for Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA), the NCAA Professional Development Seminar, the Council of Women Athletic Administrators and numerous other professional and community organizations.

Before going to Southern California in 1973, Hedges coached gymnastics and taught physical education at the University of Arizona. During her five years with the Wildcats, Hedges coached her team to three conference championships and assisted in integrating women's athletic programs into the university's athletic structure. She developed a community education program for high school students in the area, helping them become more knowledgeable about Arizona's athletic programs.

From 1967-68, Hedges coached and taught gymnastics at Carey Junior High School in Cheyenne, Wyoming. As part of her responsibilities, she established a gymnastics program for the entire school system, including the training of student-athletes, judges and meet officials. She also headed fund-raising efforts to acquire equipment for the program and organized a parents' support group.

Hedges began her career as the head of the West Denver High School girls physical education department. Her responsibilities included coaching and teaching gymnastics, teaching tennis, field hockey and other sports, and coordinating various fund-raising efforts.

Hedges received her bachelor's degree in physical education for Arizona State University in 1963 where she was honored as the university's outstanding physical education major while also being named to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. She received her master's from the University of Arizona in 1971.

Hedges was born on August 23, 1937, in Glendale, Arizona. She and her husband, John, have two children, Mark (36) and Greg (31).

Kit Green
Senior Associate
Athletic Director

Kit Green continues in her fifth year as senior associate athletic director, and her 20th in the Washington athletic department.

Green is the administrator for Washington's Olympic Sports program, overseeing all personnel, program and budget responsibilities for the program's 21 men's and women's sports since 1982. She began with the department in 1975 as an associate director for women's athletics, after five years as associate director for intramural activities and four years as an instructor in the Department of Physical Education.

Her teaching experience also includes a stint as an assistant professor of Health and Physical Education at Seattle University from 1964-69, and at Middlebury College from 1959-60.

A native of Schenectady, N.Y., who earned her bachelor's degree in physical education from Skidmore College in 1954, and taught physical education and coached at a private school in Princeton, N.J., for three years, before enrolling at Colorado, where she earned her master's degree in 1959.

Green has been active in a variety of community organizations, serving on the board of directors for Camp Fire, Inc. and Medina Children's Services and on the sports advisory council for the Seattle Parks and Recreation Department and Women + Business.

Her current professional involvement includes a post on the NCAA Women's Basketball Rules Committee and the board of directors of Women in Business, for which she is also past president. Green is a former member of the executive committee of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics, and the board of directors of both the Northwest College Women's Sports Association and the Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women.

Donald K. Smith
Senior Associate
Athletic Director

Don Smith begins his 23rd year in the Washington athletic department and his fifth year as senior associate athletic director. Smith is responsible for most of the support areas in the department, which includes the training, equipment and weight rooms, video services, housing and food services, drug education and testing, community relations, speakers bureau, donations, recruiting coordination, parking, boat mooring, field and game security, affirmative action programs and special research.

Smith was hired by Washington in 1971 as an assistant athletic director to help in athletic administration and to create a program to improve human relations. A year later he was advanced to associate director where he worked as the director's right-hand person in all areas of administration before being promoted to his current post in 1989.

A native of Keokuk, Iowa, Smith came to Seattle in 1963 to take a job with the Seattle Times as a sports and urban affairs reporter. In 1966, Smith joined Pacific Northwest Bell and was transferred to American Telephone & Telegraph Company in New York City where he worked as a public relations specialist before joining the UW staff in 1971.

Smith earned his bachelor's degree in technical journalism from Iowa State in 1959, following a four-year stint in the U.S. Air Force. He worked as a sports and county editor for the Ames Tribune and UPI until moving to Seattle in 1963.

Smith has been honored by his peers and has had a perpetual scholarship created in his name at Iowa State. He most recently was honored with the "Martin Luther King, Jr. Spiritual Award" by The Medium newspaper in Seattle.

Smith and his wife Flossie have five grown children, Azizi, Thaddies, Valerie, Leslie and Shelly.

Mike Alderson
Executive Associate Athletic Director for Business and Finance

Mike Alderson is in his 13th year with the UW as executive associate athletic director. He is responsible for the overall management of all athletic programs, involving policy making strategic planning, financial management, staff and organization development.

Prior to coming to Washington, Alderson worked as division controller for John Fluke and as a staff accountant at Cooper & Lybrand.

A 39-year-old native of Dubuque, Iowa, Alderson graduated Cum Laude with a bachelor's degree in accounting from Luther College where he was captain of the basketball team and was named All-American.

Alderson is active in the community, serving on the board of directors of the Boys and Girls Club and Ballard Church, and as treasurer of Seattle Host Committee.

Alderson and his wife Karin have two children, Anna (nine) and Siri (six).

Chuck Knox
Associate Athletic Director for Development

Chuck Knox begins his first year as associate athletic director for development after spending the last three years as director of university development. Knox was hired in February 1993 to coordinate all funding and development responsibilities for the department.

Prior to coming to Washington in 1990, Knox was an administrator at UC Santa Barbara, where he served as assistant chancellor for development and executive director of the UCSB Foundation. His previous administrative experience includes stints at UCLA where he was associate director of development and major gifts, and at Claremont Men's College where he was director of annual giving.

Knox received his bachelor's degree from the College of Idaho in 1972 and his master's in English from UW in '74.

The 43-year-old Whittier, Calif., native is a member of the Council for Advancement and Support of Education, the Northwest Development Officers Association, and the National Society of Fund Raising Executives, for which he is a board member of the Washington chapter.

Knox and his wife Terry have two children, Caitlin (seven) and Andrew (four).

Dr. Richard Dunn Faculty Athletic Representative

Richard Dunn begins his 10th year as Washington's Faculty Athletics Representative, responsible for overseeing the relationship between the University and the athletic department.

Dunn is the current Associate Dean for Humanities and was chair of the English department from 1982-92 after being a member of the department since 1967.

The Uniontown, Pa., native boasts considerable experience on the national level, currently serving on the NCAA Infractions Committee, and formerly chairing the NCAA Faculty Athletics Representatives Association. Dunn also chaired the Pac-10 Compliance and Infractions Committee from 1989-93.

Dunn graduated Phi Beta Kappa from Allegheny College where he is a member of the Athletic Hall of Fame, and earned a Ph.D from Western Reserve University. Dunn and his wife, Virginia, have three grown children, Richard (28), Susan (26) and Catherine (22).

Chip Lydum Assistant to the Athletic Director

Now in his 10th year with the department, Chip Lydum begins his third year as assistant to the athletic director. Lydum provides key administrative assistance to director Barbara Hedges, arranges travel logistics for all Husky football trips, and currently serves as the department's interim compliance coordinator.

Before assuming the responsibilities of his current position, Lydum was an assistant sports information director at UW, from 1984-91. He coordinated all media relations for the men's basketball team, as well as providing sports information assistance for each of Washington's 21 other sports. During that time, Lydum also played a major role in the department's media relations planning and execution for various bowl games and NCAA championship events as well as serving as venue press chief for the Goodwill Games volleyball and wrestling competition in 1990.

Lydum has been honored several times by the College Sports Information Director's of America (CoSIDA) for his writing, winning Best in the District honors in 1985 and 1986.

The 35-year-old Seattle native is active in the UW Speaker's Bureau, as well as the UW Community Outreach Committee.

Lydum, who received his bachelor's degree in journalism from UW in 1984, is a member of CoSIDA, the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics and the National Association of Athletics Compliance Coordinators. His wife, Lisa, is a 1983 Washington graduate.

Vern Wagner Assistant Athletic Director for Sports Facilities and Event Management

Vern Wagner begins his seventh year at Washington, and second as assistant athletic director for sports facilities and event management. Wagner joined the Washington staff in 1987 as event management director, a position he held until being promoted to his current post last year.

Prior to his hiring at Washington, Wagner was the athletic director at San Jose State, after having been the assistant athletic director and assistant to the chair at UC Irvine.

The 56-year-old native of Bell, Calif., began his career as a high school teacher and coach before moving on to Orange Coast College where he was an associate professor of health and physical education, while coaching football and wrestling.

Wagner received his bachelor's degree in education from Pepperdine and obtained a master's in the same field from Chapman University.

Wagner holds membership in several professional organizations, including the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics, the International Association of Auditorium Managers and the Stadium Managers Association.

Dick Erickson Event Manager

Dick Erickson begins his 27th year with the Washington athletic department, and his second year as event manager. Erickson is responsible for overseeing the facilities and logistical arrangements for all intercollegiate athletic events at Washington.

Erickson became the assistant event manager in 1987 after 20 years as the head crew coach at Washington. During his tenure, Erickson coached the Huskies to 15 Pacific Coast titles and two national championships. His 1984 team was recognized as such for its first place finish in the Cincinnati Regatta, and his 1970 team was crowned national champion for its victory in the Intercollegiate Rowing Association Regatta, regarded as the national championship race from 1939 to 1972.

Erickson was inducted in 1992 into the National Rowing Hall of Fame sponsored by the United States Rowing Association.

A native of Arlington, Wash., Erickson received his bachelor's degree in physical education from Washington in 1959 and his master's degree in education administration from Harvard in '64. While at Washington he rowed all four years, three of them in the first varsity boat.

Erickson began his coaching career at Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1963 as a freshman crew coach before being hired to coach the freshman at Washington in 1964. He was then appointed head coach in 1967.

Erickson and his wife, Irma, have three grown children, Alan, Jeff and Jon.

Leslie Keast Coordinator for Olympic Sports

Leslie Keast begins her second year as coordinator for Olympic sports at Washington. The 26-year-old Washington graduate is responsible for the coordination and planning of all home regular season and special events for 21 men's and women's sports. She also coordinates the department's community outreach program and is the advisor to the Captain's Council.

Keast came to Washington after a one-year internship with the public affairs group of the National Collegiate Athletic Association's national office. At the NCAA, Keast assisted in the administration of inquiries from the news media, promotion of NCAA championships, NCAA Productions, marketing, licensing and corporate sponsorships, collegiate records and statistics and the Association's honors program.

In February of 1992 Keast received her master of science degree in sport management from Massachusetts, where she worked as a graduate assistant in sports information.

Keast graduated from Washington in 1990 with bachelor's degrees in speech communication and business administration. While at Washington, Keast served as chairman of the Washington Student Athletic Board and was the ASUW representative to the Intercollegiate Athletics Advisory Board. She also worked for two years as a student assistant in the media relations office.

Keast is active in a number of community organizations and is a member of the National Association of Collegiate Women Athletic Administrators and the Women's Sports Foundation.

Gertrude Peoples Student-Athlete Services Director

Beginning her 22nd year as Student Athlete Services Director is Gertrude Peoples. She is responsible for developing and implementing the academic tutoring program for all of Washington's 750 student-athletes and overseeing a staff of tutors who work directly with the student-athletes.

Peoples joined the department in 1972 after working at United Intercity Development, assisting small minority businesses, and prior to that, at the UW Education Opportunity Program. Since starting Washington's student-athlete services program, Peoples has been influential in determining the course and structure of the program, and has been recognized nationally for her work. In 1991 she received the Lan Hewlett Award for Outstanding Performance as an Academic Advisor for Athletics.

A native of Seattle, Peoples is a former vice president of the National Association of Academic Advisors and was inducted into the Frederick Douglass Distinguished Scholars Honor Society in 1988 for her dedicated service to the lives of young people in their pursuit of quality education and scholarship.

Jim Daves Media Relations Director

Jim Daves is in his second year as the media relations director at Washington, overseeing a full-time staff of four assistants. In addition to publicizing Washington's athletic teams, Daves served as the media coordinator for the West Regional of the 1993 NCAA Men's Basketball Championship. He will serve in the same role for the 1995 Final Four in Seattle.

Prior to joining the Husky staff, Daves was an associate sports information director at Notre Dame from 1986-92. In addition to his responsibilities with football and men's basketball media relations, he was editor of both the football and basketball game programs. His football programs earned best in the nation citations five consecutive years from the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA). Daves has also been the recipient of several CoSIDA national writing awards.

Prior to his arrival at Notre Dame, Daves served as the director of communications for the Midwestern Collegiate Conference from 1985-86. He has also handled publicity duties for the women's North Star Conference (1985-86) and statistical duties for the American Collegiate Hockey Association (1986-88).

A 31-year-old native of Greensboro, N.C., he received a degree in business administration from North Carolina Charlotte in 1984. He spent four years as a student assistant in the UNCC sports information office, two years as student sports promotions director for UNCC and his senior year as sports editor of The 49er Times, UNCC's student newspaper.

His wife, Patti, is the former public relations director for the United States Gymnastics Federation and the United States Ski Team.

Jeff Bechthold Assistant Media Relations Director

Jeff Bechthold enters his third year as an assistant media relations director at Washington. Bechthold is responsible for all media relations for Husky baseball, gymnastics and soccer, and serves as the local editor of Husky football game programs.

Bechthold joined the Washington staff in 1991 after a stint as an intern in the Stanford sports information office, and a one-year public relations internship at the Pacific-10 Conference office in Walnut Creek, Calif.

The 25-year-old Bechthold received his bachelor's degree in sports information from Southern California in 1990. While at USC, Bechthold served as sports editor of the Daily Trojan and was a sports writer for the Los Angeles Herald-Examiner.

Bechthold is a graduate of Shawnee Mission East High School in Prairie Village, Kan., and is a member of the College Sports Information Directors of America.

Cindy Fester Assistant Media Relations Director

Cindy Fester begins her sixth year as an assistant media relations director at Washington, working primarily with women's basketball, men's and women's crew and golf.

Fester is responsible for writing, editing and publishing media guides, programs and press releases, for which she has been nationally honored by the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA). Her 1991 and '92 women's basketball media guides were voted first in the District, and third- and fourth-best in the nation, respectively.

Prior to coming to Washington, Fester spent three years as an assistant sports information director at Washington State. The 36-year-old Laramie, Wyo., native began her full-time sports information career in 1982 as an assistant at New Mexico State.

Fester received her bachelor's degree in journalism from Wyoming in 1983. As a student at Wyoming, she was an intern in the sports information office for four years and received the Admiral S. Land Award in recognition of "the individual who has done the most for the promotion of athletics at the University of Wyoming." While there she also served as a sports writer for the student newspaper, The Branding Iron, and was managing editor of the Summer Branding Iron.

A graduate of Laramie Senior High School, Fester has been a member of CoSIDA since 1982, and has served on the GTE Academic All-America, workshop and publications contest committees. She currently serves on the writing contest committee.

Dan Lepse Assistant Media Relations Director

Dan Lepse begins his fourth year as an assistant media relations director, responsible for men's basketball, and men's and women's cross country and track. He is responsible for writing and editing media guides, programs and press releases for his sports, while serving as a liaison between the department and the media for UW's 23-sport program.

Lepse has been recognized by the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA) for his work at Washington, winning best in the district and fourth in the nation honors for his 1991 cross country media guide.

Lepse joined the UW staff in 1989 after spending four years as an assistant sports information director at Seattle Pacific University. During that time he also worked for the Associated Press as a beat writer covering Husky basketball and Seattle Mariners baseball, while working as a regular correspondent for Soccer America and Inside the Seahawks.

A 30-year old native of Seattle, Lepse received his bachelor's degree in sociology from Washington in 1987 and attended graduate school at Seattle Pacific. While at Washington he worked as a sports information student assistant and played in the Husky marching band from 1981-85.

Active in several professional organizations, Lepse is a member of CoSIDA, Basketball Writers Association of America and Football Writers Association of America. Lepse is also active in the community and the campus, working with the Easter Seals and with Senator Henry Jackson's campaigns, as well as being a member of the Husky Marching Band Alumni Association.

Lepse is married to the former Tricia Hanson.

Jina Solis Assistant Media Relations Director

Jina Solis begins her third year in the Husky media relations office, working with volleyball, softball, and men's and women's tennis and swimming.

Solis produces and edits media guides, programs and press releases for her sports, while serving as a liaison between the department and the media, as well as contributing to the media relations operations for other sports in Washington's 23-sport program.

A native of El Paso, Tex., Solis received her bachelor's degree in journalism from UTEP, where she worked as a student intern in the sports information office. She was hired as an assistant media relations director upon graduation, and worked at UTEP for two years before moving on to a similar position at Oklahoma. Solis joined the Husky staff in November 1991, and has since been involved with the media relations for the '93 Rose Bowl and NCAA West Regional men's basketball championships.

Solis' professional affiliations include membership in the College Sports Information Directors of America and the Football Writers Association of America.

Cindy Holt Director of Marketing and Promotions

Cindy Holt begins her ninth year with the athletic department, and her second year as the director of marketing and promotions. Holt is responsible for developing and implementing marketing and promotion plans for all Husky sports. Her activities include coordinating special events, giveaways, group nights and other general functions that will broaden the community's awareness of Husky athletics.

In addition, Holt assists with the Husky Hostess/Host program and serves as the department supervisor for the Washington Student Athletic Board, an organization of students whose purpose is to get the campus community more involved with Husky athletics.

A 1985 UW graduate, Holt began her athletic department career as a program assistant in the sports information office, a position she held for four years before becoming the assistant director of marketing for women's promotions in 1989. She took over the marketing and promotions responsibilities for the entire department in August 1992.

A 30-year-old native of Yakima, Wash., Holt received her bachelor's degree in psychology with emphasis in communications from Washington in '85. She is a member of the National Association of Collegiate Marketers of Athletics.

Gae Burr Ticket Manager

Gae Burr begins her 18th year as the ticket manager for the Washington athletic department. Burr is responsible for all aspects of ticketing including the management, allocation and financial accountability.

As a lifelong resident of the Seattle area, Burr has been active in numerous community activities including Women's University Club trustee, precinct committeewomen Repertory Theater board, director of Creative Activities League.

Burr earned her bachelor's degree in business and economics from Washington. She has three children and six grandchildren.

Paul King Business Manager

Beginning his fourth year as business manager for the Washington athletic department is Paul King. King worked previously in the business office as an accountant, and is now responsible for overseeing all accounting, budgeting, payroll, purchasing/accounts payable and inventory controls for the department.

King's previous business experience is in the airfreight and woodstove industries.

A 40-year-old native of Minneapolis, Minn., King received his bachelor's degree in accounting from Minnesota. He and his wife Deborah have three children, April (11), Andrea (10) and Benjamin (nine).

Rick Huegli Head Strength and Conditioning Coach

Now in his 13th year as the head strength and conditioning coach is Rick Huegli. Huegli is responsible for directing the strength staff and coordinating training programs for each of Washington's 23 intercollegiate sports, while managing the weight room and handling the budget.

Huegli joined the Washington staff in 1981 after two years as the head strength at Wake Forest. He received his master's degree in education from Bowling Green in 1977, after receiving his bachelor's degree from Western Michigan in '74.

Following his graduation from Western Michigan, Huegli was a teacher and coach at Bishop Noll Institute in Hammond, Ind., from 1974-76. He was a graduate assistant football coach at Bowling Green while earning his master's degree, and moved on to coach football at Findlay College in '77.

The 41-year-old native of Livonia, Mich., was honored in 1992 as the Strength Coach of the Year by the National Strength and Conditioning Association, for which he is an active member. Huegli is also active in the community, serving as a church director for "crop walk," and speaking frequently to schools and organizations.

Huegli and his wife Gail have two children, Jordan (three) and Carlin (one).

Bill Gillespie Assistant Strength Coach

Bill Gillespie begins his third year as an assistant strength coach at Washington, responsible for coordinating strength and conditioning programs for athletes in volleyball, baseball and women's basketball, as well as assisting with the football team.

Prior to coming to Washington, Gillespie was head track coach and assistant strength coach at Liberty University where he worked with former NFL coach of the year Sam Rutigliano.

A 33-year-old native of Tacoma, Gillespie received his bachelor's degree in coaching and religion from Liberty where he was a four-time All-American in track and field. During his powerlifting career Gillespie set six American records and was a two-time national champion. He received his certification as a strength and condition specialist in 1989.

Gillespie is active in several professional organizations, including the National Strength and Conditioning Association and the American Drug-Free Powerlifting Association.

He and his wife Anita have two children, Cameron (five) and Rachel (three).

Stephanie Armitage-Johnson Assistant Strength Coach

Beginning her second year as an assistant strength coach is Stephanie Armitage-Johnson. She joined the Washington staff in 1992 as a part-time assistant. Armitage-Johnson is responsible for developing and implementing strength and conditioning programs for softball, men's and women's tennis and gymnastics, as well as assisting with football.

Armitage-Johnson came to Washington from Pacific Lutheran where she was head strength coach and assistant track coach for two years, while also teaching physical education. She also was an assistant at Washington State and is a former director of practical education for the National Strength and Conditioning Association.

A 33-year-old native of Puyallup, Armitage-Johnson received her bachelor's degree in physical education with a minor in coaching from Washington State. She also received her master's degree in physical education with an emphasis in program development and implementation from WSU. She is a former national champion in Olympic style weightlifting and a five-time national silver medalist at the Olympic Sports Festival.

Armitage-Johnson brings with her an impressive list of professional affiliations. She is a member of the National Strength and Conditioning Association (NSCA), the Women's Sports Foundation and the United States Weightlifting Federation (USWF).

She is also active in the community, speaking at local high schools on safe weight training and conditioning. She is married and her husband's name is Frederick.

Tony Piro Head Equipment Manager

Tony Piro begins his 12th year in the Husky equipment room, and his sixth as the head equipment manager, coordinating equipment needs for Washington's 23-sport program. Piro's responsibilities include the management of three equipment rooms, laundry needs and overseeing a staff of seven full-time assistants and a staff of students.

A former student football manager, Piro received his bachelor's degree in political science from Washington in 1982. His professional involvement includes certified membership in the Athletic Equipment Managers Association.

The 35-year-old Seattle native and his wife Sherry have two children, Jennifer (seven) and Matthew (four).

Bart Fullmer Asst. Equipment Manager

Bart Fullmer begins his fifth year in the Washington equipment room, working primarily with the football and men's basketball teams. Fullmer is responsible for inspecting, modifying and repairing all athletic equipment for his sports, as well as being responsible for other aspects of the daily operations of the equipment room.

A 31-year-old native of Shelley, Idaho, Fullmer received his bachelor's degree in psychology from Washington and is a member of the Athletic Equipment Managers Association.

Jose Naguit Sports Equipment Technician

Jose Naguit begins his sixth year in the Washington equipment room, working mainly with the football team. Naguit assists with football equipment issue, repair and travel, and supports the main equipment room operations.

A 33-year-old Seattle native, Naguit has previous experience as a YMCA recreational camp counselor before joining the Husky athletic department staff.

Bill Bissell Director of Husky Bands Cheer Squad

Bill Bissell begins his 24th year as band and rally squad director, coordinating all phases of the Husky band program.

Bissell began his career at Washington as an assistant professor in the school of music in 1970. He also has 17 years of experience as a high school band director.

The 62-year-old Bissell, born in Dunsmuir, Calif., was raised in Ashland, Ore., and received his bachelor's degree in music education from Willamette University. He received his master's in music from Illinois in 1956.

As a Willamette graduate, Bissell was honored last year with a Distinguished Alumni Award, and also inducted into the Northwest Bandmasters Association. Bissell was also honored with a Citation of Excellence from the National Band Association in 1981.

Bissell and his wife Shirlee have two grown children, Bruce and Sherry.

Moe Herman Video Operations Manager

Moe Herman begins his fifth year as the Huskies' video operations manager. Herman is responsible for directing and managing the videotape and film operations division of the athletic department, which serves every intercollegiate sport.

Herman began working in the university's health sciences television department in 1974, before moving over to the athletic department in '78 as a sports media producer, while also working in studio and remote production at KCTS. Herman then spent several years at other local television stations, working as an engineer at KIRO for three years and as a studio lighting director and remote broadcast television engineer at KOMO for four years. After two years in video production and consulting at Halcyon Productions, Herman returned to the athletic department in 1989 to assume his current post.

The 46-year-old native of Pittsburgh, Pa., who earned his bachelor's degree in sociology from Pittsburgh, has been honored for his work by the IEKA, winning a sports video production award in 1991.

Herman has three children, Seth (11), Rachel (eight) and Alana (five) and is active in the PTA and neighborhood community council.

Dennis Sealey Head Athletic Trainer

Dennis Sealey begins his 16th year as Washington's head athletic trainer, responsible for coordinating and administering medical service and health care for over 800 Husky athletes competing in 23 intercollegiate sports.

Sealey also supervises a staff of six full-time assistant trainers and a number of student assistant trainers, who provide medical care and attention to as many as 350 athletes per day in two separate training rooms in the athletic department.

Sealey began his career at Washington in 1972 as an assistant trainer, then spent five years at Nebraska as an instructor and chief athletic trainer. He returned to Washington in 1978 to assume his current post.

A native of Stromsburg, Neb., Sealey received his bachelor's degree in biology from Wayne State in 1970 and a master's in physical education from Nebraska in 1977. He also holds a certification degree in physical therapy from Iowa and was certified as an athletic trainer in 1974.

Sealey is active in several professional organizations, holding membership in the American Physical Therapy Association and National Athletic Trainers Association (NATA). He is president of the Northwest Athletic Association and is on the NATA board of directors. Sealey also served as chairman of the 1982 National Athletic Trainers Association Convention in Seattle and won the Eddie Wojcicki Award in 1974 for superior performance on the NATA certification exam.

Sealey and his wife Becky have three children, Gregory (22), Jason (20) and Kyle (15).

Vic Belfiore Assistant Athletic Trainer

Vic Belfiore enters his fourth year on the athletic training staff, where his primary training duties include baseball and men's soccer, as well as assistance with gymnastics and swimming.

The 28-year-old native of Walnut Creek, Calif., served as a graduate assistant trainer at Florida from 1988-90 while earning a master's degree in exercise and sports sciences.

Belfiore received his bachelor's degree in sports health from Washington in 1988, while working as a student trainer for four years. Belfiore was honored in 1985 with the Kurt Gegner Memorial Award, given to the outstanding student trainer.

Active in several professional organizations, Belfiore holds membership in the National Athletic Trainers Association and the Washington State Athletic Trainers Association.

Doug Calland Assistant Athletic Trainer

Now in his 11th year as an assistant athletic trainer is Doug Calland. Calland joined Dennis Sealey's staff in 1983 and serves as the head trainer for the Husky men's basketball team, and assists Sealey with the training and medical duties for the football team.

Calland received his master's degree in educational administration from Oklahoma State in 1983, while serving as a graduate assistant trainer for Cowboy athletics. He also spent four years as a student trainer at Ohio State while earning his bachelor's degree in physical education, with a minor in health education. During that time, Calland also was the head athletic trainer for the Pittsburgh Pirates rookie club in the summer of '80.

The 35-year-old Columbus, Ohio, native is a former executive director of the Washington State Athletic Trainers Association (1990-92) and was associate director from '88-'90, as well as being a certified member of the National Athletic Trainers Association.

Calland is married to the former Natalie Andreas, who is the travel coordinator for Washington athletics, and has two sons, Brandon (six) and Ryan (four).

Cheryl Parker Assistant Athletic Trainer

Cheryl Parker is in her fourth year as an assistant athletic trainer at Washington. Parker's primary training responsibilities include women's basketball, golf and tennis, in addition to administering physical examinations for all Husky sports.

Parker joined the UW staff in 1990 after three years at Washington State University and two years at Idaho State. The 31-year-old Charleston, S.C., native had worked previously at Paradise Valley Physical Therapy and Desert Springs Hospital in Las Vegas.

Parker earned a bachelor's degree in athletic training from UNLV in 1985 and a masters in athletic administration from Idaho State in '86. Her professional affiliations include membership in the National Athletic Trainers Association and The Athletics Congress.

Mike Wilson Assistant Athletic Trainer

Mike Wilson begins his fourth year as an assistant athletic trainer at UW. Wilson handles all training and medical responsibilities for Washington's men's and women's cross country teams, as well as indoor and outdoor track.

Wilson received his master's degree in exercise physiology from Ohio State in 1990, where he worked for two years as a graduate assistant in the Buckeye training room. He received his bachelor's degree in biology from Washington State in 1987.

A native of Olympia, Wash., Wilson has previous experience as a firefighter and EMT. He was honored as the Lacey, Wash., Resident Firefighter of the Year in 1985. Wilson is active in several professional organizations, including the National Athletic Trainers Association and the American College of Sports Medicine.

The 28-year-old Wilson is married to the former Valerie Girand, who is also a trainer at Washington.

Heidi Stettler Assistant Athletic Trainer

Heidi Stettler begins her second year on the Washington athletic training staff, working primarily with volleyball and men's and women's crew.

Stettler came to Washington after working as a graduate assistant at Michigan State where she earned her master's degree in exercise science. She received her bachelor's degree in biomechanics from Wisconsin in 1990.

A 25-year-old native of Fountain City, Wisc., Stettler is a member of the National Athletic Trainers Association and the National Strength and Conditioning Association.

Valerie Wilson Assistant Athletic Trainer

Beginning her third year as an assistant athletic trainer is Valerie Wilson. Her main training responsibilities include women's soccer, softball and men's and women's swimming.

Wilson joined the Washington staff in 1991 after working as an assistant and head women's trainer at UCLA. She received her bachelor's degree in kinesiology from UCLA and her master's degree in exercise physiology from Ohio State where she worked as a graduate assistant.

A 27-year-old native of Phoenix, Wilson is a member of the American College of Sports Medicine and the National Athletic Trainers Association. Her husband, Mike Wilson, is also an assistant trainer at Washington.

Steve Bramwell Team Physician

Steve Bramwell begins his 15th season as the head physician for the Washington football team. A former standout football player for the Huskies, Bramwell received his M.D. with honors from Washington in 1971, after receiving his bachelor's degree in economics in '67. While attending Washington, Bramwell was honored with the Harkins Surgery Award, the UW Pediatrics Award and the UW Psychiatry Award.

Bramwell began his work in the field as an intern at Strong Memorial Hospital at the Univ. of Rochester in Rochester, N.Y. (1971-72). He then came back to Washington for his residency training in orthopedic surgery from '72-'76.

A native of Salt Lake City, Bramwell was appointed Assistant Professor of Orthopedic Surgery at the UW School of Medicine in 1977 and was also Director of the UW Department of Sports Medicine. He served in both capacities until starting a private practice in 1981.

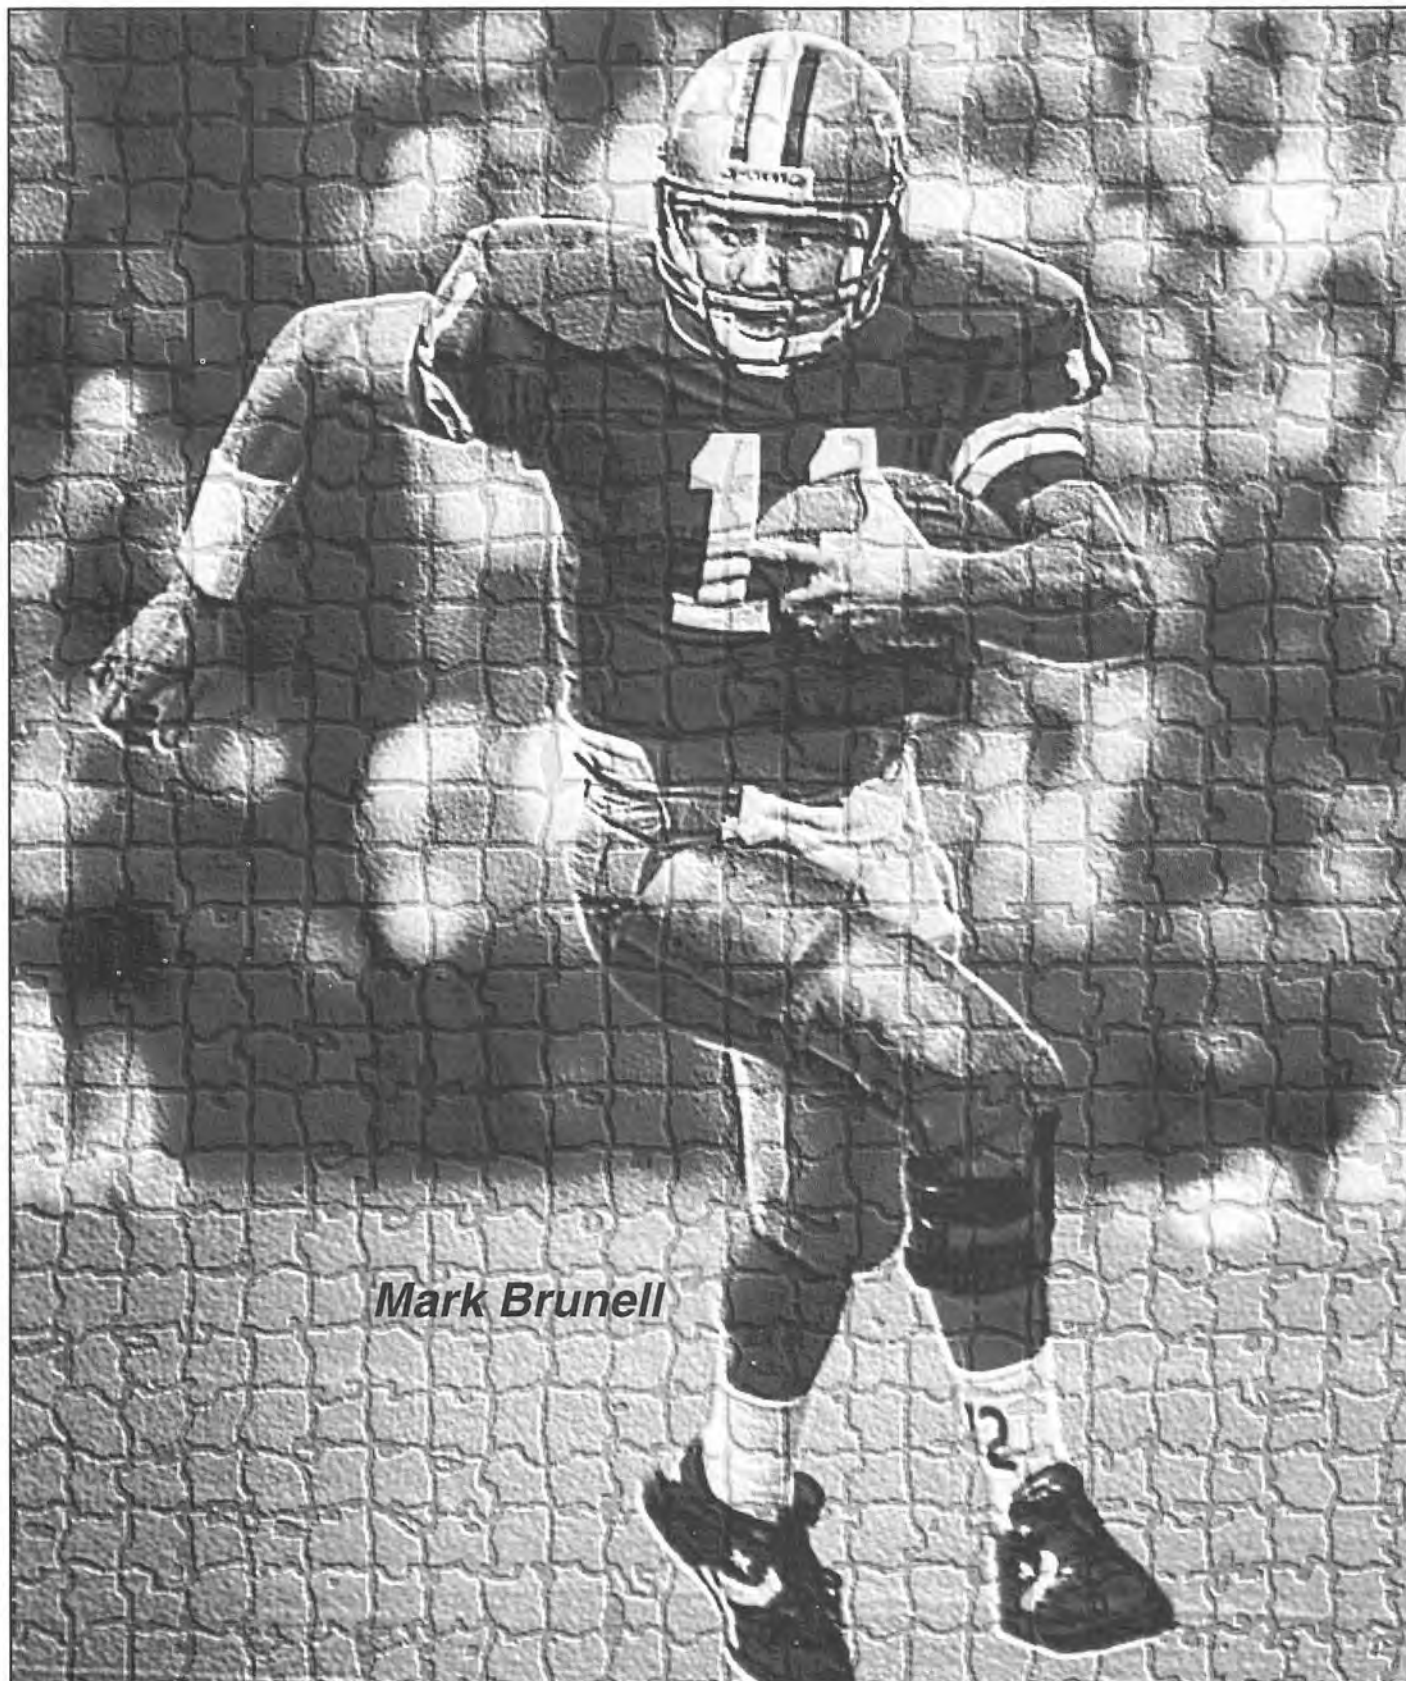

On the gridiron, Bramwell was a three-year letterman halfback ('63-'65) and excelled as a kick returner. He still holds the Husky career record for kickoff returns (54 for 1,443 yards and a 26.7 average) and is second on the career punt return list (59 for 704 yards and an 11.9 average) as well as ranking seventh on Washington's list of career all-purpose yards (2,827).

His career kick return yardage and his combined kick and punt return yardage both established NCAA records upon his graduation. He was a first team Academic All-America choice in 1964 by the College Sports Information Director's of America (CoSIDA), and was inducted in May 1989 into the CoSIDA/GTE Academic All-America Hall of Fame as a member of Hall's second class of inductees.

Bramwell and his wife Linda have five children.

Tempe, Arizona
Sun Devil Stadium
Attendance: 53,782
Weather: 92 degrees, clear

Washington opened the 1992 season on the road in convincing fashion with a 31-7 victory over Arizona State, as sophomore tailback Napoleon Kaufman contributed 250 all-purpose yards and the Husky defense kept the Sun Devils out of the end zone for most of the game.

Arizona State found it difficult to create any sort of a passing game with fourth-string quarterback Troy Rauer, who faced constant pressure from the Huskies' ferocious pass rush.

The starting nod went to Rauer just days before the game after a bizarre series of events in which the first- and third-string quarterbacks were suspended and the second-stringer, Bret Powers, quit the team. That left Rauer, who had been switched to defense and still practiced with that unit until mid-week, as the starting quarterback.

Though it was hardly the way the Sun Devils would have liked to approach a season opener against the defending national champions, they avoided an offensive catastrophe by establishing a spectacular ground game which carved up the Husky defense for 275 rushing yards. Sophomore Mario Bates gave the Huskies fits all night as he racked up 214 yards by himself.

By the time Bates did most of his damage, the Huskies had already staked themselves to a 21-0 halftime lead and had a hot tailback of their own in Kaufman. After quarterback Billy Joe Hobert led Washington to its first touchdown of 1992 with a series of short pass plays and a 21-yard scamper on a quarterback keeper, Kaufman stole the show with two long-distance carries.

Late in the first quarter Hobert and Kaufman executed a perfect option play as Kaufman took the pitch at the last second and turned the corner to race 63 yards for a touchdown without a Sun Devil getting within three arms length of him, giving Washington a 14-0 lead.

"I've coached enough defense to know it is the hardest play there is to defend against," head coach Don James said. "I don't think we'll ever throw out the option."

Especially not with Kaufman in the backfield. The next time he touched the ball, the lightning-quick sophomore sailed 70 yards before being dragged down at the 10-yard line, setting up a Darius Turner touchdown to put the Huskies ahead 21-0 at the half. Kaufman may have scored had he continued down the sidelines.

"I just went to the inside, when I should have just stayed where I was," said Kaufman, who tallied 159 yards rushing on just six carries.

Hobert finished the game with 162 yards on 22-of-35 passing with one touchdown and no interceptions as the Huskies displayed a short, controlled passing game. Junior Joe Kralik led the Husky receiving corps with seven catches for 81 yards, while converted quarterback Eric Bjornson caught four for 28 yards and a touchdown in his first game at split end.

Despite holding the Sun Devils to just seven points, the defense had the opportunity for an even better performance. Sophomore rover Louis Jones and senior rover Tommie each returned interceptions for touchdowns, only to have them called back because of penalties. Those miscues, coupled with the porous run defense, left James dissatisfied with his team's season-opening win.

"We made too many mistakes this evening," James said. "Against a lot of football teams, we would have lost tonight. We were impressed with ASU's effort and their running game."

Game 2 • September 12, 1992 Washington 27, Wisconsin 10

Husky Stadium
Seattle, Wash.

Attendance: 72,800

Weather: 65°, partly cloudy

Quarterback Billy Joe Hobert threw for one touchdown and ran for another as the Huskies extended their winning streak to 16 games with a home-opening 27-10 victory over Wisconsin.

Washington struck first just two-and-a-half minutes into the game when Hobert connected with former high school teammate Joe Kralik on an 18-yard touchdown pass to cap a two-play drive. The score was set up when Napoleon Kaufman returned a Wisconsin punt 20 yards to the Badger 22-yard line, where his fumble was scooped up by Richard Thomas and advanced to the 14.

Jay Barry lost four yards on first down before Hobert found Kralik open over the middle in the back of the end zone for the 18-yard scoring play. Kralik was the game's leading receiver with five receptions for 80 yards.

The Badgers, however, responded with a touchdown of their own just two minutes later when quarterback Jay Macias capped a four-play, 65-yard drive with a 17-yard touchdown pass to wide receiver Tim Ware, knotting the score at 7-7. The big play of the drive was a 48-yard run by Jason Burns to the Washington 16-yard line, where he was finally dragged down by Jaime Fields and Shane Pahukoa.

The Badgers would not score again until late in the third quarter, by which time the Huskies had put the game out of reach.

Billy Joe Hobert's 60-yard touchdown run broke open a tight game in the second quarter.

Washington took the lead for good when Hobert kept the ball on a third-and-one option play, turned around, then cut upfield and rambed 60 yards for a touchdown, putting on several nifty moves along the way. Hobert's teammates enjoyed it as much as he did.

"After I got to the sideline, I asked myself, 'Why did I do that?'" Hobert said. "Everybody made fun of me after the game in the lockerroom. They told me it was a nasty run."

But 'nasty' or not, it turned the momentum of the game and put the Huskies back in control after the underdog Badgers had gained some confidence.

"You don't usually get a big run from the quarterback there," Coach Don James said. "It's a short yardage situation. But the seas parted for him."

Washington could have put the Badgers away before halftime but failed to capitalize on good field position. First downs on the Badgers 24-, 12- and nine-yard lines in the first half resulted in just six points on Travis Hanson field goals of 39 and 32 yards, putting the Huskies up 20-7 at the break.

Tailback Jay Barry extended the Huskies lead to 27-7 in the third quarter when he scored from two yards out to cap a 12-play, 80-yard drive. Barry (17 carries, 36 yards) and Kaufman (seven carries, 43 yards) shouldered much of the rushing load for Washington while starter Beno Bryant rested a sore hamstring.

Backup quarterback Mark Brunell saw significant action in place of Hobert in the second and fourth quarters, completing 11-of-18 passes for 96 yards.

The win improved the Huskies' to 2-0 on the season, but left James concerned about the following week's matchup with Nebraska.

"We had a lot of yards. We just didn't get the points I'd have liked," James said. "We're not batting on all cylinders right now."

Washington outgained the Badgers 455 yards to 218 and recorded 26 first downs to Wisconsin's nine.

Game 3 • September 19, 1993

Washington 29, Nebraska 14

Husky Stadium
Seattle, Wash.

Attendance: 73,333

Weather: 65°, partly cloudy

The second-ranked Huskies thrilled the sold-out crowd of 73,333 at Husky Stadium with a 29-14 victory over 12th-ranked Nebraska in the first night game at home since 1985.

A national television audience on ESPN also looked on as Washington used several big plays on both sides of the ball to defeat the Cornhuskers for the second straight year. The win proved that the 1992 Huskies could be national contenders after opening the season with two less-than-dominating victories.

"When you win two games in a row to start the season, and still don't feel very good about yourselves, then something is missing," Coach Don James said. "Tonight we went out and answered the challenge. The defense grew up tonight."

Senior rover Tommie Smith brought the crowd to its feet late in the first quarter when he zeroed in on Nebraska quarterback Mike Grant in the end zone and dropped him for a safety. The play put Washington ahead 2-0, and more importantly, set the defensive tone for the game, in which the opportunistic Huskies parlayed four Nebraska turnovers into 17 points.

The first turnover came in the opening minute of the second quarter when senior linebacker James Clifford pounced on a fumble after Grant was sacked by defensive end Andy Mason at the Nebraska 39-yard line.

Billy Joe Hobert then went to work, passing 16 yards to Joe Kralik and 18 yards to Mark Bruener to set up the Huskies at the one-yard line, where tailback Beno Bryant scored one play later on a dive over the top. Bryant, who was questionable until game time with a sore hamstring, rushed for 19 yards on nine carries in his first action of the season.

Nebraska, however, stalled the Husky momentum two series later when I-back Calvin Jones dashed around right end and raced to a 73-yard touchdown to pull the Cornhuskers to within 9-7.

The Huskies then responded as they had so many times in '91 by scoring two touchdowns in just 42 seconds. The first came when the Huskies answered the Jones scoring run with a 12-play, 80-yard drive. Napoleon Kaufman broke off a 35 yard gain to the one-yard line, then scored two plays later.

On the second play of Nebraska's next series, senior cornerback Walter Bailey intercepted a Grant pass at the Cornhusker 47-yard line. Two plays later Kralik got behind the secondary and hauled in a 29-yard pass from Hobert in the back of the end zone and suddenly the quick-strike Huskies were ahead 23-7 going into halftime.

There was some dispute as to whether Kralik had possession of the ball inbounds.

"I'm pretty sure my knee was down (in bounds)", Kralik said. "I don't know when the ball came out."

Nebraska fought back with an 80-yard drive to open the second half, cutting the lead to 23-14, but was held to just 102 yards the rest of the game as Washington added two Travis Hanson field goals for the 29-14 victory.

The Cornhuskers entered the game averaging 558 yards per game, but were held to 309 by the Husky defense, led by the 13 tackles of James Clifford, including two for losses.

"Our defense talked all week about needing to make some big plays today and get some points on the board," Clifford said. "We got it done tonight. Our defensive line has been criticized, but they came out and played great."

Eric Bjornson's conversion from quarterback continued to pay dividends as the sophomore split end caught three passes for 72 yards, including two big third-down receptions of 31 and 25 yards.

Game 4 • October 3, 1992

Washington 17, Southern California 10

Husky Stadium
Seattle, Wash.
Attendance: 73,275
Weather: 60°, overcast

Washington's big-play defense provided the spark for the second straight game, forcing five Trojan turnovers, which the offense used to score all 17 Husky points.

Southern California outgained the Huskies 332 yards to 271 and had more first downs (16-14), but had numerous drives stopped by turnovers, as the Washington defense came up big, time after time, preserving the Huskies' top ranking.

Though the Husky offense struggled with inconsistency, it capitalized on the outstanding field position set up by the defense to stake Washington to 14-0 lead just five-and-a-half minutes into the game.

Senior free safety Shane Pahukoa provided the first highlight reel act when he intercepted Trojan quarterback Rob Johnson on the game's first play and returned it 31 yards to the one-yard line. Billy Joe Hobert then found fullback Matt Jones in the end zone and the Huskies had a 7-0 lead after just two plays.

The next Trojan drive ended at the Husky 32-yard line when USC flanker Curtis Conway fumbled in the open field after catching a nine-yard pass, and it was recovered by senior linebacker Dave Hoffmann.

Washington then embarked on an eight-play scoring drive, highlighted by a Beno

Walter Bailey's interception in the endzone spoiled USC's late rally.

Bryant 18-yard run and capped by an 18-yard touchdown pass from Hobert to Joe Kralik.

The Huskies led 14-0 but managed only a field goal the rest of the game, as the offense sputtered and missed opportunities. The defense, however, led by senior linebackers James Clifford, Hoffmann and Jaime Fields, slammed the door on the Trojans all afternoon. The trio accounted for 10 unassisted tackles and 33 total.

"Their defense is definitely as good as it was last year," said USC Coach Larry Smith. "They were causing big plays. Our mistakes and their big plays were the difference."

And no plays were bigger than Hoffmann's. In addition to his fumble recovery, the All-Pac-10 performer registered 2.5 sacks on two different Trojan quarterbacks and four tackles for loss, totaling 23 yards.

"As a defense we felt we had to go out there and make things happen," Hoffmann said. "We did make some mistakes, but we can go back and correct them. The only thing that matters right now is that we got the win."

In the end, those mistakes nearly cost the Huskies the game. The first came shortly before halftime when Pahukoa leaped to try to intercept a bomb by Trojan quarterback Reggie Perry at the three-yard line, but instead misjudged it and tipped into the waiting hands of Conway for a 53-yard touchdown, making the score 14-10.

Then, late in the game, leading 17-10 after a Travis Hanson 41-yard field goal, USC third-string quarterback Kyle Wachholtz led the Trojans to a first down at the Washington 28-yard line. But, once again, the defense came up big with when senior cornerback Walter Bailey intercepted Wachholtz in the end zone with 1:32 remaining, preserving the victory.

"We had to get out of it somehow," Coach Don James said. "It was scary, but Walter had that play in the end zone. We really can't fault the defense. The defense just played great all day long. A couple of long balls got away, but from our standpoint it's a big win."

Napoleon Kaufman had a career-high 208 rushing yards and two touchdowns to help spark the offense, leading top-ranked Washington to a 35-16 victory over 24th-ranked California in an ABC regionally-televised contest.

Kaufman, making his first start while Jay Barry and Beno Bryant sat out with injuries, earned Pac-10 Offensive Player of the Week honors as he turned in the best statistical performance by a Husky tailback since Hugh McElhenny set the school record of 296 yards in 1950.

His 36-yard scoring scamper early in the second quarter put the Huskies ahead 7-0, but it took three big third-quarter plays from other Huskies to turn the tide for Washington after a sluggish first half by both teams.

Junior flanker Joe Kralik set up the first of three third quarter Husky touchdowns with a diving catch of a 36-yard pass from Mark Brunell on third-and-10 from the Husky 48-yard line. The catch extended an eight-play, 64-yard drive that ended with a three-yard touchdown run by junior fullback Matt Jones.

"They were in man and I pretty much knew Mark was going to throw to me because there wasn't a free safety deep,"

Russell Hairston pounced on a fumbled kickoff to boost Washington's lead to 21-7.

Kralik said of his diving catch. "I just made a good release at the line and he put it up there and I made a pretty good catch."

California return man Lindsey Chapman then fumbled the ensuing kickoff at the goal line and could not recover the ball before Husky cornerback Russell Hairston pounced on it in the end zone to increase the Husky lead to 21-7.

After a California field goal, Washington struck again with a 14-yard Kaufman touchdown run after Brunell had kept the drive alive by dashing 37-yards on a quarterback keeper. Brunell appeared to have trouble handing off to fullback Darius Turner before deciding to keep the ball and cut upfield.

"It was a designed option play and we got a little caught up on the fake (to Turner)," Brunell said. "That was more my fault than anything, but it turned out to be a good play."

Brunell and starting quarterback Billy Joe Hobert accounted for just 119 yards through the air on seven-for-23 passing, making the effort by Kaufman even more crucial in the Husky victory.

"I don't think there's any question he did a good job," Coach Don James said. "It's just what this offense needed to be able to establish the run."

Kaufman, who carried the ball 30 times, was especially satisfied in showing he had the endurance to carry the load.

"I'm getting tired of people criticizing me for not being consistent and not being durable," he said. "I wanted to prove some things."

Turner capped the Husky scoring with a one-yard run in the game's final minute to give Washington the 35-16 victory.

Senior free safety Shane Pahukoa led the Husky defensive effort with five unassisted tackles and 10 total, while senior linebackers Dave Hoffmann and James Clifford turned in another solid defensive effort with nine tackles each.

Game 6 • October 17, 1992 Washington 24, Oregon 3

Autzen Stadium
Eugene, Ore.

Attendance: 47,612

Weather: 68°, mostly sunny

Senior quarterback Mark Brunell started for the first time in nearly two years and the defense forced four Oregon turnovers as the Huskies prevailed 24-3 in front of an Autzen Stadium-record crowd of 47,612.

Brunell replaced Billy Joe Hobert as the starting quarterback and threw for one touchdown and ran for another in leading the Husky offense to 343 total yards.

After a scoreless first quarter, Washington got on the board first when Brunell kept the ball on an option play from the Oregon 14-yard line and turned the corner for a touchdown. The run capped a 13-play, 87-yard drive in which the Huskies converted three third-down conversions.

Leading 7-0 late in the first half, Washington again showed its ability to strike quickly and score in spurts, putting 10 points on the board in the final 1:14, sparked by the stellar defense of sophomore Louis Jones.

Jones found a gap in the Oregon line and blocked a Tommy Thompson punt, which was recovered by Shane Pahukoa at the Ducks 25-yard line with 2:02 to play.

After Napoleon Kaufman lost six yards on first down, Brunell connected with freshman receiver Jason Shelley for a 31-yard touchdown pass. The play was created when Brunell scrambled to his left, evading tacklers, and released the ball just before reaching the sidelines. Shelley hauled in the pass, which fell just beyond the outstretched arms of Oregon cornerback Devon Hosey, just before falling out of bounds for his first collegiate touchdown.

"I saw Mark scrambling and just took off for the end zone," Shelley said. "He threw it on the run over my outside shoulder so I had to lean out while trying to keep my feet in bounds."

Washington quickly got the ball back when Oregon was forced to punt, and converted a Travis Hanson 31-yard field goal to make the score 17-0 at halftime. The drive started at the 50-yard line with Brunell completing an 18-yard pass to senior Damon Mack on first down. Brunell was then sacked at the Oregon 42-yard line, but managed to find Joe Kralik open for a 21-yard pass with three seconds remaining in the half to set up the field goal.

"The obvious difference is that great football teams make great plays when they have to," Oregon Coach Rich Brooks said. "The punt block was a killer. Those 10 points broke open what, to that point, had been a close game."

Oregon began to move the ball in the second half, but had two straight potential scoring dives snuffed out by turnovers deep in Husky territory. Sophomore cornerback Josh Moore picked off his second pass of the game with 3:08 remaining in the third quarter, intercepting Oregon quarterback Danny O'Neil in the end zone on a second-and-goal play.

Oregon's next drive ended at the Washington 26 when tailback Ricky Whittle fumbled after a 28-yard gain, and it was recovered by linebacker Jaime Fields.

Washington followed the Moore interception with an 80-yard scoring drive to go ahead 24-0, as Napoleon Kaufman rushed for a two-yard touchdown. The big play of the drive was a 50-yard pass from Brunell to Kralik to set up the Huskies at the Oregon nine-yard line. Kralik led the Husky receiving corps with three receptions for 73 yards.

Washington sacked O'Neil six times, including two by senior linebacker Dave Hoffmann who totaled eight tackles for the day.

Weather: 58°, rain

Napoleon Kaufman rushed for 128 yards on 20 carries and the Huskies racked up 467 total yards as Washington defeated the outmanned, but resolute, Pacific Tigers in a non-conference contest at Husky Stadium.

Though the 31-7 score would suggest an easy victory, the Huskies led just 14-0 at halftime and did not put the game away until early in the fourth period when quarterback Mark Brunell scored on a 13-yard run.

"We're not satisfied," offensive coordinator Jeff Woodruff said, "but we'll take it. I know there have been a lot of teams this year beaten or embarrassed by a team they were supposed to blow out."

Brunell started at quarterback for the second straight game and threw for 102 yards on 11-for-18 passing. He also contributed his second highest rushing total ever as he tallied 78 yards on 13 carries.

The Huskies scored first for the seventh straight game this season, this time on an eight-yard run by Kaufman. Linebacker Dave Hoffmann recovered a Pacific fumble to set up the two-play, 12-yard drive.

Washington made it 14-0 just minutes later when Brunell scored the first of his two rushing touchdowns on a three-yard scoring scamper. This time it was the special teams that set the table for the offense with good field position after a 37-yard Kaufman punt return.

A hard-charging Jaime Fields zeros in on a Pacific quarterback.

The Huskies were unable to create any sort of offensive rhythm due largely in part to numerous injuries to the receiving corps. Joe Kralik, Eric Bjornson and Jason Shelley all played sparingly, while offensive tackle Lincoln Kennedy also saw limited action and fullback Darius Turner did not play.

After its first two scoring drives covered just 12 and 36 yards, Washington's third drive was the shortest yet, as the Huskies moved the ball only two yards to set up a Travis Hanson 35-yard field goal. The field position was again courtesy of a Kaufman punt return, this one covering 23 yards.

But while the offense sputtered, the defense again rose to the occasion, holding in check Pacific's array of talented offensive players. All-American running back Ryan Benjamin began the day as the nation's leading all-purpose runner, averaging 221.6 yards per game, but was held to 143. The Tigers' highly-touted senior quarterback Troy Kopp was limited to just 102 yards on five-for-17 passing before giving way to backup Dave Henigan.

Early in the fourth quarter the offense finally clicked and drove 97 yards on 12 plays, the longest of the season, to give the Huskies a comfortable 24-0 lead. Brunell scored his second touchdown of the day on a 13-yard run to complete the drive.

The injuries and the comfortable lead allowed several younger players to enter the game. Freshman wide receiver Theron Hill caught his first collegiate pass, an 11-yarder, and sophomore Eteka Huckaby scored the Huskies' final touchdown on a two-yard run to make the score 31-0. Huckaby finished the day with 43 yards on eight carries.

Pacific ruined the Huskies' shutout bid in the final minute, connecting on a 47-yard touchdown pass against the reserve defense.

"I think maybe this was good for us," Brunell said. "Maybe this was a little bit of a wakeup call to make us realize that we've got four more games going and we can't have any letdowns. We can't play like we did today and expect to come away with a win against Stanford next week."

Game 8 • October 31, 1992 Washington 41, Stanford 7

Husky Stadium
Seattle, Wash.
Attendance: 70,821
Weather: 54°, showers

Before a national television audience on ABC Sports, Washington put together its best overall performance of the season in a 41-7 rout of 15th-ranked Stanford, just one week after slipping from the top spot in the national polls to second.

The Huskies gained a total of 467 yards -- 275 rushing and 192 passing -- against the Stanford defense, which entered the game as the third-best unit in the country.

"It was a dominant performance by our offense against a strong, strong defensive football team," Coach Don James said. "We haven't been lighting it up offensively, but a lot of good things happened for us today."

Offensively, one of those good things was the reemergence of freshman wide receiver Jason Shelley, who played only sparingly the week before against Pacific because of an ankle injury. Shelley caught five passes for 117 yards, including a 40-yard touchdown pass from Mark Brunell in the third quarter.

"The quarterbacks just made some nice passes," Shelley said. "All they ask of us is to get open. All I wanted to do was get open and try to help out any way I can, and it came out like this so I'm happy."

Brunell ran for one touchdown and threw for two more as he passed for 161 yards in a 12-for-19 performance. Junior Billy Joe Hobert, in his final action of the season, was two-for-five for 31 yards in second and fourth quarter play.

It was Stanford, however, which flexed its offensive muscle first, as the Huskies fell behind for the first time all season, 7-0, on a 31-yard touchdown pass. Stanford quarterback Steve Stenstrom connected with receiver Justin Armour for the scoring play just 3:03 into the game.

From that point on it was all Washington, as the offense got revved up and scored 41 straight points. The first touchdown was ignited by a spectacular 65-yard punt return by sophomore Napoleon Kaufman, who came within an eyelash of scoring on the play, as he was brought down at the Stanford four-yard line. The game was tied just two plays later when Brunell passed three yards to fullback Leif Johnson for the touchdown.

The special teams play seemed to fire up the defense as well. Stanford began its next series with consecutive quarterback sacks, the first by Jamal Fountaine and Steve Hoffmann and the second courtesy of Fountaine and Jaime Fields.

Brunell then led the offense on an 11-play, 85 yard drive for a 14-7 lead, covering the final yard himself for the touchdown.

The lead quickly grew to 21-0 when linebacker James Clifford intercepted a Steve Stenstrom pass intended for Glyn Milburn and returned it 42 yards for his first collegiate touchdown.

"It was right to Milburn," Clifford said. "I kind of grabbed it out of his arms. I figured there was someone right behind me. I thought I was going to get tackled right then. There must have been some great blocking out there."

Washington increased its lead to 34-7 before Hobert replaced Brunell in the fourth quarter, and scored the final touchdown on a 50-yard run. It was Hobert's second long-distance touchdown run of the season.

The Husky defense totaled seven quarterback sacks 10 tackles for loss on the day, and knocked Stenstrom from the game in the third quarter.

"Washington is better than us in all categories," Stanford Coach Bill Walsh said, "and it showed today."

Game 9 • November 7, 1992

Arizona 16, Washington 3

Arizona Stadium
Tucson, Ariz.
Attendance: 58,510
Weather: 76°, clear

Washington had its school-record 22-game winning streak snapped at Arizona Stadium as the 16th-ranked Wildcats scored 13 points in the fourth quarter to defeat the Huskies 16-3.

Though the Husky offense put up decent numbers, it could not overcome the effects of four costly turnovers, and failed to score a touchdown in a game for the first time since 1985.

Arizona relied on its ground attack to punish the Huskies, tallying 197 yards on 54 carries, as the Wildcats offensive line began to wear down the Husky defensive front as the game wore on. Washington held Arizona to just 54 yards passing on five completions, but was unable to stop the Wildcats from pounding the ball up the middle in the second half.

In addition to the turnovers, Washington was dogged by penalties and the outstanding leg of Arizona punter Jason Miller, who averaged 47.3 yards on eight punts.

"Penalties, turnovers and lack of field position due to their special teams kind of backed us up and took us out of our game," Husky offensive tackle Lincoln Kennedy said.

Washington started no drive beyond its 31-yard line, as nine series began at the 20 and others began at the 14- (twice), 12- and six-yard lines.

The only first half points came in the second quarter when Arizona kicker Steve McLaughlin converted a 34-yard field goal. Washington had narrowly avoided a disaster earlier when sophomore Napoleon Mark Brunell set a personal record by passing for 243 yards against the Wildcats.

Kaufman fumbled a punt at the Huskies 23-yard line and Wildcat Heath Bray recovered it at the four. Arizona quarterback George Malauulu fumbled four plays later, giving the ball back to the Huskies at their own 14.

The Huskies missed a chance to score just before halftime, driving to the Arizona eight-yard line before failing to convert a field goal. Holder Eric Bjornson picked up the fumbled snap and rolled out to his right but could not find a receiver in the end zone as his pass fell incomplete.

Brunell completed five-of-seven passes on the drive, including completions of 31 yards to tight end Mark Bruener, 15 yards to Jason Shelley and 12 yards to Joe Kralik, before the drive stalled.

Washington was again able to move the ball in the second half, driving 62 yards on 10 plays to the Arizona seven-yard line on its first possession before settling for a Travis Hanson field goal to tie the game at 3-3.

Arizona came back with a pair of McLaughlin field goals to go ahead 9-3 before Washington threatened again. Brunell, who had his best statistical game as a Husky with 243 yards on 25-for-41 passing, drove the offense to the Arizona 48 with completions to fullback Richard Thomas (eight yards) and Kralik (13 yards). But the next two plays typified the luck the Huskies would have this day.

On first-and-10, receiver Damon Barry got behind the Arizona secondary but was underthrown at the 10-yard line. Then on second down, Brunell found Shelley and connected on a pass that would have given the Huskies a first down inside the Arizona 20, but Shelley, running at full speed, was hit by Tony Bouie and popped the ball into the air where it was intercepted by Arizona's Keshon Johnson.

Two series later Arizona put the game out of reach on a one-yard touchdown by Malauulu, capping a six-play, 43-yard drive.

"They played a great game," Husky defensive end Andy Mason said. "They did everything that they've been doing. It's kind of funny playing against a team like that because it was like playing against yourself. You see everything they do, and they are the things we've done all year long."

Game 10 • November 14, 1992 Washington 45, Oregon State 16

Husky Stadium
Seattle, Wash.
Attendance: 70,149
Weather: 54°, foggy

Washington clinched its third straight Pac-10 title and a trip to the Rose Bowl with a 45-16 victory over Oregon State in the final home game of the season and the last Husky Stadium appearance for 21 Husky seniors.

The victory also extended Washington's home winning streak to 13 and wrapped up the Huskies' second straight perfect season at home.

"This team has proven itself on the field, and I'm very proud of the job it has done," Coach Don James said. "There are only a handful of teams that have been to three straight Rose Bowls, so they've joined a special group."

"We had to send the seniors out right," junior defensive end Andy Mason said. "And we did."

The sixth-ranked Huskies rebounded from the previous week's loss to Arizona by taking care of business early against the Beavers, scoring on their first three possessions to take a 21-0 lead by the end of the first quarter.

Senior tailback Jay Barry, starting for the first time in weeks after a foot injury, scored the first touchdown on a one-yard run, capping a 16-play, 65 yard game-opening drive.

Senior rover Tommie Smith set up the next Husky score when he broke up a pitch from Oregon State quarterback Mark Olford and recovered the fumble at the Beavers' nine-yard line. Smith was the defensive standout for Washington, registering 13 tackles, 3.5 for losses, and an interception in his final home game.

Damon Mack led Washington's receivers with four receptions against the Beavers.

Senior quarterback Mark Brunell, who completed 14-of-21 passes for 202 yards and two touchdowns also rushed for two touchdowns, the first coming from six yards out just three plays after the Smith fumble recovery, putting Washington ahead 21-0.

Brunell's 254 yards of total offense moved him past Warren Moon for sixth on the Huskies' all-time list.

Sophomore tailback Napoleon Kaufman rushed for 146 yards on just 12 carries, including a 31-yard jaunt on the Huskies' next possession to set up a Brunell to Eric Bjornson touchdown pass. He would later take a pitch from Brunell and race 45 yards down the sidelines to set up another Brunell touchdown run before leaving the game in the third quarter with a case of turf toe.

Washington racked up a season-high 539 yards in total offense, while limiting the Beavers to just 260, and only nine yards through the air. Oregon State completed just one pass in six attempts.

"I said all along that Washington was the best team in the Pac-10," Oregon State Coach Jerry Pettibone said. "They had a tough loss last week, but I felt that with Washington's stability, tradition and coaching staff, they would be focused and ready to play."

Husky fans got to see a glimpse of the future in the fourth quarter when Brunell was replaced by redshirt-freshman quarterback Damon Huard. Huard completed all three of his passes, including a picture-perfect 68-yard touchdown toss to true-freshman Theron Hill for the Huskies final touchdown.

"Damon put the ball right on the money," Hill said of the Huskies' longest pass completion of the season, and second-longest in the Pac-10. "As soon as I looked up, it was there."

Hill finished the day with 100 yards on three receptions, while fellow freshman Jason Shelley also caught three passes for 56 yards.

Game 11 • November 21, 1992

Washington State 42, Washington 23

Martin Stadium
Pullman, Wash.
Attendance: 37,600
Weather: 32°, snow

Washington State running back Shaumbe Wright-Fair rushed for 193 yards on 22 carries and quarterback Drew Bledsoe orchestrated an effective short passing game en route to an 18-for-30, 260-yard effort as the Cougars made the best of the snowy conditions to pin a 42-23 loss on the fifth-ranked Huskies in annual Apple Cup game.

The 25th-ranked Cougars outgained Washington 476 to 267 as the Huskies had trouble establishing a consistent offensive attack.

"I just think they handled it much better than we did," Coach Don James said in reference to the weather conditions. "We can't make excuses. We both played on the same surface."

"It hurt, but I don't think it's something they should hang their heads over," James said. "Disappointing as it is, they went out and did the best they could."

The Copper Bowl-bound Cougars went to work right away on their first possession, marching 80 yards through the blizzard in nine plays, scoring on a three-yard run by Wright-Fair. The extra point failed, leaving Washington State ahead 6-0.

But Washington shut down the Cougars for the rest of the first half and took a 7-6 lead early in second quarter on a one-yard run by Mark Brunell. The drive began at the Cougar 40 and was highlighted by a 14-yard pass from Brunell to Damon Barry on third-and-10.

Both teams combined for only 134 total yards in the first half as each adjusted to the persistent blowing snow and the accumulation on the field that made the footing slippery.

Washington State, though, came out inspired after halftime and exploded for four touchdowns in the third quarter to take a 35-7 lead and put the game out of reach.

The scoring started when Cougar quarterback Drew Bledsoe hit Calvin Schexnayder with a 44-yard touchdown pass, and continued when they hooked up on a 15-yard scoring play on their next possession.

Washington began to chip away at the 35-7 lead in the fourth quarter, but it was too late. Brunell led Washington on a five-play, 29-yard drive, in which he rushed three times for 25 yards, including a one-yard touchdown run, to make it 35-15.

Washington State answered with a 41-yard Wright-Fair touchdown run to go ahead 42-15, before Brunell engineered Washington's final touchdown drive. The Huskies drove 65 yards in 10 plays, most of them coming on a 48-yard pass play from Brunell to freshman Jason Shelley. Darius Turner scored from one-yard out to cap the Husky scoring.

Brunell finished the day 11-for-25 for 122 yards passing, and ran for another 60 yards, while Shelley led the receiving corps with two catches for 52 yards.

"Neither could really do what they're capable of doing," James said. "They just did a better job on skates than we did. The footing was just very treacherous. The wind was brutal."

Senior linebacker James Clifford led all Husky defenders with nine tackles, five of them unassisted. The Huskies were unsuccessful getting through the Cougar offensive front, registering just one sack and four tackles for loss.

Game 12 (Rose Bowl) • January 1, 1993 Michigan 38, Washington 31

Rose Bowl
Pasadena, Calif.
Attendance: 94,236
Weather: 68°, clear

The ninth-ranked Huskies attempted to make history by winning their third straight Rose Bowl, but instead suffered a 38-31 defeat at the hands of seventh-ranked Michigan.

Washington led 24-21 at halftime but could not control Michigan tailback Tyrone Wheatley, who ran for 235 yards on just 15 carries, including touchdown runs of 88, 56 and 24 yards.

"He's so big and strong," Husky Coach Don James said. "We had guys in the open field who couldn't make a move on him. You have to give all the credit to Tyrone Wheatley."

Michigan grabbed an early 3-0 lead on its first drive with a 41-yard Peter Elezovic field goal.

Washington answered with a one-yard touchdown run by Darius Turner, capping a nine-play, 80 yard drive to go ahead 7-3. The key play of the drive was a 35-yard pass from senior quarterback Mark Brunell to tight end Mark Bruener across the middle, setting the Huskies up at the Michigan one-yard line.

The see-saw first half continued with Michigan taking a 17-7 lead before the Huskies pulled to within three on a 64-yard touchdown pass from Brunell to freshman Jason Shelley. Shelley, who would finish his first Rose Bowl with three receptions for 100 yards, made the over-the-shoulder grab at the Michigan three-yard line and just cleared the plane of the goal line before having the ball knocked loose on a hit by Corwin Brown. Brunell's hot passing continued on Washington's next possession when he again connected with Bruener, this time in the corner of the end zone to put the Huskies ahead 21-17 at halftime.

Mark Brunell set five Rose Bowl career records.

Bruener, who also caught a touchdown as a freshman in the '92 game, was the Huskies' second-leading receiver with four catches for 85 yards.

Wheatley broke free again on the first play of the second half, bursting through the middle of the Husky line and racing 88 yards for a touchdown, putting the Wolverines back on top 24-21.

Husky sophomore Napoleon Kaufman, who was held to 39 yards rushing on 20 carries, gave the Huskies a boost on special teams when he answered the Wheatley touchdown run by returning the ensuing kickoff 47 yards to the Michigan 46-yard line. Fittingly he would cap the drive seven plays later with a dive over the top for a touchdown and a 28-24 lead.

Washington added to the lead on its next possession when Travis Hanson converted a 44-yard field goal for a 31-24 Husky lead. With the field goal, Hanson extended his career Rose Bowl record to five.

Despite the high-scoring offense, the Husky defense could not contain the Wolverine's rushing attack and surrendered the lead once again. Two possessions later Michigan took advantage of a Kaufman fumble at the Washington 24-yard line as Wheatley scored on the first play, tying the game at 31.

Michigan then scored the only points of the fourth quarter when Wolverine quarterback Elvis Grbac threw 15 yards to tight end Tony McGee for the eventual game-winning touchdown with 5:29 remaining.

Washington had two more possessions and drove as far as the Michigan 26-yard line but failed convert and turned the ball over on downs each time.

The loss spoiled what was perhaps Brunell's finest performance in a Husky uniform. The senior quarterback completed 18-of-30 passes for 308 yards and two touchdowns, and nearly directed a late Husky comeback.

"It's frustrating for us because we wanted to win three in a row," said Brunell, who was the MVP of the '91 Rose Bowl. "Michigan is a good football club. We give a lot of credit to those guys. They played great the whole game."

And so did Brunell. Playing in his third Rose Bowl, he broke four career Rose Bowl records and tied another. The records broken were passes completed (39), passing yards (560), total offense (618) and total touchdowns (seven). He tied the record for touchdown passes with five.

Washington's defense failed to sack Grbac and came up with only two tackles for losses, its lowest totals of the season.

The Washington loss was its first in the Rose Bowl since the 1981 game in which Michigan defeated Washington 23-6. Washington won its next three Rose Bowl appearances, 28-0 over Iowa in '82, 46-34 over Iowa in '91 and 34-14 over Michigan in '92.

Noting the Huskies in '92

THE RANKED OPPONENTS: Washington played a total of seven teams in '92 that are ranked in the Associated Press poll. The Huskies fared 3-4 in those games. At one point, Washington played three consecutive ranked opponents. Nebraska was 11th at game time in the season's third game while USC came into its contest with the Huskies ranked 20th and California was ranked 24th at kickoff.

THE WINS: Washington's 9-3 record in '92 marked the ninth time in Don James' 18-year career with the Huskies the team has reached the nine-win mark. Over the past three years Washington has put together a 31-5 record and stands 37-6 (.860) in its last 43 games.

THE BALANCED OFFENSE: In terms of total offense, Washington might of had the most balanced offense in the nation last season. There was just 14 yards separating the Huskies passing and rushing totals in 1992. Washington's offense rushed for 2139 yards and passed for 2125. The Huskies rushed the ball 478 times (59.1 percent) last season and passed on 331 occasions (40.9 percent).

COMING UP ROSES: Washington head coach Don James became only the fourth coach to direct his teams to six-or-more Rose Bowl appearances with last year's Pac-10 championship. Michigan's Bo Schembechler leads that list with 10 Rose Bowl appearances. Woody Hayes (Ohio State) and John McKay (USC) are second with eight appearances. McKay is the only Pac-10 mentor with more Rose Bowl showings than James. Alabama's Wallace Wade and USC's Howard Jones each guided five of their squads to the Rose Bowl.

KAUFMAN SURPASSES 1,000: Napoleon Kaufman became the first sophomore in Washington history to rush for 1,000 yards in a season. Kaufman ended the regular season with 1,045 yards. There have only been five 1,000-yard rushers in Husky history. Kaufman finished the year fifth on the single-season rushing list. Greg Lewis owns the single-season record with 1,279 yards in 1990. Kaufman's average of 6.5 yards per carry is higher than anyone else listed among the Huskies' top-10 single-season rushing performances. Earlier in the season Kaufman rushed for 208 yards and a pair of touchdowns on 30 carries in Washington's 35-16 victory against California. It was the most yardage by a Husky running back since complete lists were kept starting in 1968. Hugh McElhenny set the single-game record in 1950 with 296 yards against Washington State. Kaufman was stopped behind the line of scrimmage just once (one-yard loss) and had touchdown runs of 36 and 14 yards against the Golden Bears. He averaged 6.9 yards per carry in the game, which actually lowered his season average from 8.0 yards per carry to 7.5 yards per carry.

HOFFMANN HITS: Senior inside linebacker Dave Hoffmann finished his career with 45 tackles for loss which ranks third on the all-time list. His total of 189.5 lost yards is sixth on the all-time list. Hoffmann's 17.5 tackles for loss this season rates as the fifth best total in Husky history.

LOOKING BACK AT THE STREAKS: Washington's loss at Arizona ended the most successful run of success in the Huskies' modern football history. Only 32 teams have put together longer winning streaks in Division I history than the Huskies' 22-game mark. Washington's 14-game Pac-10 winning streak was the second longest in conference history. During the streak the Huskies also won 11 straight Pac-10 games on the road and 10 straight on a grass surface.

PERFECT AT HOME: The Huskies put together their second straight undefeated season at home in 1992. That marked the first time since the 1915-16 seasons Washington put together back-to-back perfect home records. This year's team posed a 7-0 mark at Husky Stadium that included victories against four opponents that were nationally-ranked at game time. The Huskies will carry a 13-game home winning streak into the 1993 opener against Stanford. That's the third-longest winning streak in Husky Stadium history. Between 1981-83 Washington won 15 consecutive home games and from 1923-24 the Huskies put together a 14-game win streak at home. Washington outscored its seven opponents 225-80 (32-11) last year in Husky Stadium. Since 1986, the Huskies have a home record of 38-6-1 (.856). During that seven-year stretch, Colorado (45-28 in '89) is the only non-Pac-10 team to hand the Huskies a loss on their home turf. Washington owns an all-time record of 283-123-20 (.688) at Husky Stadium.

POLL HISTORY: Washington's ranking in the final Associated Press poll in January of 1993 marked the 50th straight appearance by the Huskies in that listing. That's the longest streak in Husky history. Washington was ranked in 31 consecutive polls between 1981 and 1984. The Huskies have been ranked among the top 10 teams in 35 of the last 37 AP polls. Since the AP released its first poll on Oct. 19, 1936, the Huskies have appeared in 286 of the 720 polls (40 percent). During the Don James era, Washington has appeared in the poll 171 of a possible 283 times (60 percent). It's interesting to note that the Huskies were ranked eighth in the first-ever AP poll back in 1936.

HUSKIES IN THE NCAA STANDINGS: Here's a look at where Washington figured in the final NCAA statistics:

Team

Washington was 30th in rushing offense at 194.5 ypg.
Washington was 47th in passing offense at 193.2 ypg.
Washington was 39th in total offense at 387.64 ypg.
Washington was 47th in net punting at 35.7 ypp.
Washington was 18th in punt returns at 11.4 ypr.
Washington was 105th in kickoff returns at 16.0 ypr.
Washington was 24th in scoring offense at 27.8 ppg.
Washington was 35th in rushing defense at 144.7 ypg.
Washington was 24th in passing efficiency defense at 101.8
Washington was 25th in total defense at 310.0 ypg.
Washington was 7th in scoring defense at 13.5 ppg.
Washington was 11th in turnover margin at +.91

Individual

UW's Napoleon Kaufman was 23rd at 95.0 ypg.
UW's Napoleon Kaufman was 7th in punt returns at 14.16 ypr.
UW's Napoleon Kaufman was 22nd in all-purpose rushing at 131.82 ypg.

A WINNER: Washington's 31-7 victory against Pacific guaranteed the Huskies a winning season for the 16th straight year. All of those have come under Don James' direction. Over the last 16 years Washington has finished either first or second in the Pac-10 race 13 times.

THE KICKS: John Werdel's 38.5-yard punting average may not have impressed you in 1992, but you have to consider the position he put opponents in. Of Werdel's 69 punts, he placed 21 inside the 20-yard line. His performance against California earned him ABC's player-of-the-game honor.

THE KICKS II: Junior kicker Travis Hanson did a good job of keeping opponents pinned down in 1992 on kickoffs. Hanson kicked off 54 times last season and 12 resulted in touchbacks. Opponents average field position after kickoffs this year was the 22-yard line.

THE 3,000 MARK: Washington quarterback Mark Brunell became the ninth Washington quarterback to break the 3,000-yard mark in passing against Arizona on Nov. 7. Earlier in the season Billy Joe Hobert became the eighth to do it against Stanford on Oct. 31. Hobert had 3,028 career passing yards. Brunell finished his career with 3,423 career passing yards. Washington has never had a team with two 3,000-yard quarterbacks.

WINNING WAYS: Did you know that Washington is one of just nine Division I programs that have not experienced a losing season in the past 10 years? The Huskies' 16-year mark without a losing or .500 season is the third best current streak. Only Nebraska (31 years) and Oklahoma (27 years) have longer streaks of winning seasons. Florida State, like Washington, has put together 16 consecutive winning seasons. Here's a look at the list of nine teams:

Team (cable)	Consecutive Non-Losing Seasons	Last Losing Season	Last .500 Season (If appli-)
1. Nebraska	31 years	3-6-1 in 1961	—
2. Oklahoma	27 years	3-7-0 in 1965	—
3. Michigan	25 years	4-6-0 in 1967	6-6 in 1984
4. Washington	16 years	5-6 in 1976	—
Florida State	16 years	5-6 in 1976	—
6. Brigham Young	14 years	5-6 in 1973	—
7. Miami	13 years	5-6 in 1979	—
8. Florida	13 years	0-10-1 in 1979	6-6 in 1987
9. Fresno State	11 years	5-6 in 1981	6-6 in 1984

THE BEST: Since his arrival at Washington in 1975, Don James has shaped the Huskies into the winningest team in the Pac-10 Conference. Since the '75 season Washington has posted a 150-60-2 record. USC has the second most victories since the '75 season with a 145-63-6 record. UCLA is third among Pac-10 teams in the last 18 years with a 140-61-9 mark. Since the league expanded to its current 10-team lineup in 1978, the Huskies also have the most impressive record (131-45-2) with USC second at 118-54-6. Since the '80 season the Huskies have gone 115-38-2 with UCLA posting the next highest win total (102-44-6) and USC third (95-53-5).

THE RED ZONE: Washington managed to score 34 of 40 times (.850) it entered the opponent's 20-yard line in 1992. That total included 28 touchdowns and six field goals. The other drives were ended twice by interceptions and downs and once each by a fumble and a missed field goal. Washington's opponents reached the Huskies' red zone 22 times and notched 10 touchdowns and six field goals. The other drives were ended twice by missed field goals and once each by interception, end of half, end of game and downs.

TURNING TURNOVERS: Washington did a good job of converting opponent turnovers into points last season. Washington forced 27 turnovers and converted 13 of those into scores (10 TDs, three FGs) for a total of 78 points. Two other times the Huskies intercepted passes at the end of the game. Washington turned the ball over 17 times in 1992, but the Husky defense allowed only four opponents (Stanford — TD, Arizona — 2 FGs, Oregon State — TD and Washington State — TD) to score following the miscue.

A PAC-10 TRADITION: Don James finished the year as the Pac-10 all-time wins leader. James tops all Pac-10 coaches in terms of victories with an 18-year record of 97-39-2. Don James has won six Pac-10 titles, surpassed only by John McKay (nine) and Howard Jones (seven) in that category. Here's what the Pac-10 coaching list by victories looks like:

1. Don James, Washington (1975-)	97	38	2	.715
2. Terry Donahue, UCLA (1976-)	85	40	5	.673
3. John McKay, USC (1960-75)	70	17	3	.794
4. Howard Jones, USC (1925-40)	65	23	12	.710
5. O.E. Hollingberry, Wash. St. (1926-42)	64	43	10	.590
7. Jim Owens, Washington (1957-74)	54	57	2	.487
8. James Phelan, Washington (1930-41)	51	31	8	.611

HANSON'S KICKS: Junior placekicker Travis Hanson had a solid year for Huskies in '92. Hanson made 10 of 13 field goal attempts last season. He has also converted all 36 extra-point attempts last year. His 21 career field goals ranks him sixth on Washington's all-time list. Hanson booted eight of 15 field goal attempts during the 1991 season.

SHUTOUT QUARTERS: The Huskies managed to hold opponents scoreless in 25 of 44 quarters (57 percent) in 1992. California, Arizona, Oregon State and Washington State were the only teams to score two or more times in the same quarter against the Huskies. Washington managed to score in 32 of 44 quarters (73 percent).

THE SHUTOUT STREAK: Washington's 38-31 loss to Michigan marked the 134th consecutive game in which Washington was not shutout. The last opponent to accomplish that was UCLA (31-0) on Nov. 7, 1981. Washington has played 86 Pac-10 games since then without being shutout.

TOTAL OFFENSE: Senior quarterback Mark Brunell finished sixth on the Huskies' total offense list this year. Here's a look at that list:

Total Offense	Rush	Pass	Tot.
1. Sonny Sixkiller (1970-72)	-208	5496	5288
2. Steve Pelluer (1980-83)	342	4603	4945
3. Cary Conklin (1987-89)	93	4850	4943
4. Chris Chandler (1984-87)	261	4161	4422
5. Don Heinrich (1949-52)	-62	4392	4330
6. Mark Brunell (1989-)	688	3423	4111
7. Warren Moon (1975-77)	429	3277	3706
8. Billy Joe Hobert (1990-)	290	3028	3318
9. Chris Rowland (1973-75)	220	2966	3186
10. Joe Steele (1976-79)	3091	46	3137

PASSING LEADERS: Quarterback Mark Brunell finished sixth the Huskies' career passing list. Here's a look at that list:

Passing	PA	PC	TD	YDS
1. Sonny Sixkiller (1970-72)	811	385	35	5496
2. Cary Conklin (1987-89)	747	401	31	4850
3. Steve Pelluer (1980-83)	755	436	30	4603
4. Don Heinrich (1949-52)	610	335	33	4392
5. Chris Chandler (1984-87)	587	326	32	4161
6. Mark Brunell (1989-)	497	259	23	3423
7. Warren Moon (1975-77)	496	242	19	3277
8. Tom Flick (1976-80)	418	252	24	3171
9. Billy Joe Hobert (1990-)	427	248	27	3028
10. Chris Rowland (1973-75)	475	201	24	2966

THE ATTENDANCE: A total of 504,500 fans turned out to see Washington's home games this season. That average — 72,071 per game — is the second largest single-season mark in Husky history, trailing only last year's average of 72,284.

THE HOME FIELD: Washington's 45-16 victory against Oregon State was the Huskies' 13th straight victory at home. Since 1986, the Huskies have a home record of 38-6-1 (.856). During that seven-year stretch, Colorado (45-28 in '89) is the only non-Pac-10 team to hand the Huskies a loss on their home turf. Washington owns an all-time record of 283-123-20 (.688) at Husky Stadium.

NOTES, NOTES, NOTES: In the 32 games he played in before the Nov. 7 contest at Arizona, senior quarterback Mark Brunell never had a 200-yard passing day. Then he did it two games in a row. Brunell passed for a career high of 243 yards against the Wildcats and followed that with 202 yards the following week against Oregon State ... Only two Washington receivers had receptions for over 100 yards in a game this season and both are true freshmen. Jason Shelley caught five passes for 117 yards against Stanford and Theron Hill pulled in three receptions for 100 yards against Oregon State ... Washington rolled up 539 yards of total offense against Oregon State. That was the most by the Huskies last season and the highest amount since they recorded 548 total yards in the fifth game last of the 1991 season against Toledo ... Napoleon Kaufman's 269 punt return yards ranks him sixth on the single-season list. His 14.2 yards-per-return average is third among players featured on that list ... Kaufman's average of 132 all-purpose running yards per game has him fourth on that single-season list ... Washington's two penalties against Oregon State were the fewest by the Huskies last season ... Washington's 45 points against Oregon State was the highest scoring output of the season and the fifth most scored by the Huskies against the Beavers in the 76-game series ... Washington gave up 33 points in the fourth quarter of its last three games after allowing only 10 fourth-quarter points in its first eight games ... Napoleon Kaufman's 146-yard effort against Oregon State marked his fourth 100-yard rushing day of the season ... Beno Bryant needs 19 yards to take over 10th place on Washington's career rushing chart. Bryant missed most of this season with a hamstring injury. He currently has 1,395 career rushing yards. Kyle Stevens (1976-80) is currently in 10th place with 1,413 career yards ... Bryant is already the Huskies all-time punt return leader with 874 yards on 76 returns (11.5 avg.) and figures eighth on the kickoff return chart with 649 yards on 32 runbacks (20.3 average) ... Bryant also ranks fifth on Washington's all-purpose rushing slate with 3,093 yards. Greg Lewis (1987-90) is above him with 3,564 all-purpose yards ... Both Arizona State and Wisconsin completed just eight passes against the Huskies, Nebraska managed just 11, USC only 13, Arizona just five and Oregon State only one.

THE TURNAROUND: Arizona State's victory over the Huskies in 1989 became a turning point for the Washington football program. Following the 34-32 Sun Devil win Nov. 4, 1989, at Husky Stadium, the Huskies adopted a more aggressive, attacking style of defense. Since that loss, the Huskies have posted a 34-5 record, outscoring opponents 1,377 to 515 (an average tally of 35-13).

THE 100-YARD FACTOR: Napoleon Kaufman's 146-yard performance in the 45-16 win against Oregon State was the 36th 100-yard performance by a UW back since the 1986 season. The Huskies are 34-2 during that time when a back eclipses the century mark in rushing.

LETTERWINNERS: Here's the list of Husky players that earned a letter in 1992: Bruce Bailey, Walter Bailey, Damon Barry, Jay Barry, Eric Bjornson, Todd Bridge, Mark Bruener, Mark Brunell, Hillary Butler, Richie Chambers, James Clifford, Ernie Conwell, D'Marco Farr, Jaime Fields, Jamal Fountaine, Tom Gallagher, Frank Garcia, Phil Green, Scott Greenlaw, Russell Hairston, Travis Hanson, Darren Harrell, Eugene Harris, Dave Hoffmann, Steve Hoffmann, David Ilsley, Leif Johnson, Louis Jones, Matt Jones, Napoleon Kaufman, Lincoln Kennedy, Pat Kesi, David Killpatrick, Joe Kralik, Mike Lustyk, Lamar Lyons, Damon Mack, Andy Mason, Josh Moore, Shaun Moore, Tom Nakane, Jim Nevelle, Shane Pahukoa, Andy Peterson, Pete Pierson, Dawayne Rainwater, Reggie Reser, Dante Robinson, Donovan Schmidt, Jason Shelley, Tommie Smith, Steve Springstead, Justin Thomas, Richard Thomas, Darius Turner and John Werdel.

THE NFL REPORT: At the start of the 1992 NFL season the Huskies had 28 players on that league's rosters — the fifth highest total of any school. (USC is first with 36.) That list features five quarterbacks. In the Don James era of Husky football, 10 players have been selected in the first round and a total of 104 Washington players have been picked in the draft.

'92 Senior Lettermen

The following are career capsules of players that lettered as seniors for Washington during the 1992 campaign:

88

Bruce Bailey

TE ... 6-5 ... 245

Seattle, WA

Roosevelt High School

Washington: Four-year squad member who earned his only varsity letter as a senior ... walked on to the Husky squad and earned a scholarship in '90 ... good athlete who played tight end, center, tackle and guard during his career ... saw most of his action as a long-snapper during the '92 season ... weighed just 185 pounds when he walked on as a freshman in 1988. 1992: Played in every quarter of all 12 games ... key member of Husky special teams as a long snapper for punts and kicks ... made four tackles, including two solos (Oregon State and Pacific) on special teams ... backed up Mark Bruener and Ernie Conwell at tight end position ... appeared in 30 of Huskies' last 31 during his career. 1991: Played in every quarter of all 11 games ... began '91 spring drills at weakside guard before being switched to tight end when a shortage arose at that spot. 1990: Moved to center in the spring, he finished the year as the team's third-string center behind Ed Cunningham and Jim Nevelle ... activity was limited to reserve duty in six of the final seven games ... did not play against UCLA ... saw his most extensive duty at Arizona State where he played almost the entire final period. 1989: Squad member who saw reserve duty at offensive tackle, but did not letter ... played three games, participating in three quarters of each. 1988: Red-shirt season ... worked out with the scout squad at tight end.

High School: Two-year letterman under coach Dave Hookfin ... played both tight end and defensive end final three seasons ... played tight end and outside linebacker freshman year, but did not letter ... an All-Metro League selection as a tight end his senior season ... hauled in 17 passes for 310 yards and three touchdowns for the Roughriders while recording five sacks as a defensive end ... best game was a non-league tilt against Port Angeles in which he had six receptions for 98 yards and one touchdown ... also lettered two seasons in basketball ... averaged 10 points and six rebounds per game during senior season.

Personal: Born July 28, 1970, in Seattle, Wash. ... father, Larry, is an attorney and played varsity football at Dartmouth ... mother's name is Mary Ann ... has two brothers, Peter (20) and Andrew (nine) and a sister, Robin (18) ... Peter played at Princeton as a at fullback ... graduated from high school with a 3.37 GPA ... a member of the high school Honor Roll and Torch Honor Society ... a National Football Foundation Hall of Fame nominee ... received the Seattle All-Metro Scholar-Athlete award ... political science major.

Walter Bailey

CB ... 5-11 ... 190

Portland, OR

Benson Tech

Western Washington

Washington: Played three seasons for Washington and earned three letters after transferring from Western Washington. 1992: Earned third letter in senior season ... in preseason publications he was listed as the second-leading Thorpe candidate by NCAA Football Preview magazine ... preseason rated as the top cornerback in the country by The Sporting News, second by Lindy's ... garnered preseason All-America accolades in several publications ... one of the primary reasons the Husky secondary was named the nation's best by The Sporting News and Lindy's preseason publications ... a second-team preseason All-America pick by Football News ... appeared in 11 of 12 games and started all of those contests ... saw limited time in the Rose Bowl after suffering a shoulder injury early in the contest ... tied for third on the team with two interceptions, both resulting in big plays ... first pickoff came in second quarter against Nebraska on the first play following a Husky touchdown ... Washington scored 47 seconds after Bailey's pick and gave the Huskies a commanding 23-7 lead ... second interception came in the endzone against USC with 1:28 remaining and the Trojans driving for a potential tying score ... finished 10th on the team with 33 tackles ... seventh on the team in solo stops with 25 ... caused two fumbles (Oregon and Washington State) ... second on the team with eight pass defenses ... best game came against California with six tackles ... had one tackle for loss for three yards against Nebraska on a fake punt attempt ... returned three punts for nine yards. 1991: Started 10 of 12 games at right cornerback, missing starts against Kansas State and USC ... earned second-team All-Pac-10 honors ... led the club with seven interceptions for 114 yards and two touchdowns ... had Washington's only interception in the Rose Bowl win vs. Michigan ... that marked only the seventh pickoff against the Wolverines during the season ... first UW defensive back to have at least seven regular-season interceptions since Tony Bonwell in 1972 ... tied for seventh nationally in interceptions and was second in the Pac-10 behind UCLA's Carlton Gray (10) ... returned two interceptions for touchdowns, a 24-yarder off Arizona's George Malauulu and a 37-yarder off Washington State's Drew Bledsoe ... six of his seven thefts led directly to UW scores (six touchdowns, one field goal) ... suffered a sprained ankle early against Arizona State which sidelined him for the rest of the game ... did not start the following week at USC but came off the bench to contribute five solo tackles in the 14-3 win over the Trojans ... totalled 31 tackles with high of six against Oregon and five at both USC and California ... credited with five passes broken up during the season ... recovered two fumbles, one at Stanford and one against Arizona State ... his fumble recovery on an Arizona State kickoff return helped set up the second UW touchdown in a 44-16 win ... that recovery came moments after his interception helped set up the UW's first score ... honored by the UW coaching staff as one of three defensive players of the game at California ... also returned three kickoffs, one at Stanford and two at Nebraska ... 1990: Won his first letter as a reserve cornerback and special teams player ... played in all 12 games and finished with five tackles ... added three more in the Rose Bowl ... worked at left cornerback behind All-Pac-10 choice Charles Mincy ... had his most impressive performance in Washington's 42-14 win over Arizona State in October ... picked off two passes in the game and broke up two others ... one of those thefts included a 42-yard return which was the second longest of the year by a Husky defender ... had two tackles against Stanford ... his lone kickoff return came in the finale at Washington State, covering 12 yards ... was named the Most Improved Defensive Back by the coaching staff following an outstanding spring session. 1989: Gained valuable practice experience and learned the defensive schemes, but was not eligible to play as a transfer ... selected backup player of the week twice by the coaching staff for his work on the scout squad before the USC and Washington State games.

Western Washington: One-year letterman ... won conference freshman of the year honors as a strong safety for the NAIA Vikings ... also garnered honorable mention all-league accolades ... started five games, making 42 tackles and breaking up five passes with one interception, two forced fumbles and a recovery ... returned a punt 89 yards for a score against Pacific Lutheran ... averaged 16.9 yards on seven punt returns and 21.2 yards on 12 kickoff returns.

High School: An honorable mention USA Today All-America selection ... earned first-team offensive and defensive all-state recognition ... an All-America pick by Super Prep and Street and Smith ... mentioned on the Tacoma News-Tribune best in the Northwest list ... received three votes in the Long Beach Press-Telegram best in the West poll ... runner-up for state defensive player of the year ... three-time Portland Interscholastic League selection ... rushed for 912 yards as a senior and completed two touchdown passes ... picked off three passes ... gained 997 yards rushing as a junior ... two-year basketball letterman who averaged 18.0 points as a senior, earning second-team All-City League honors ... also a standout track and field athlete, he won the Oregon State Class AAA long jump title as a senior and junior with a personal best mark of 23-feet, 11-inches ... ran a leg on the state champion mile relay team.

Personal: Born March 16, 1970 in Portland, Ore. ... the youngest of six children, including four brothers and one sister ... father, Robert, is a security guard ... mother, Joan, owns and operates her own day-care center ... enjoys listening to music and playing tennis ... majored in drama.

Jay Barry

TB ... 5-11 ... 190

Northglenn, CO

Kent Denver Country Day

Washington: Solid performer in Husky backfield ... earned four letters in his career ... career cut short when he suffered a foot injury his senior season ... turned his senior business project into a fundraiser auction that raised over $15,000 for Northwest charities. 1992: Played in seven games as a senior, starting the first three games prior to a foot injury ... came back to start last home game against Oregon State ... also played in the Rose Bowl ... missed four games with a stress fracture to his foot ... fourth on the team with 194 yards on 80 carries ... third on the team with three rushing touchdowns ... those scoring jaunts came against Arizona State, Wisconsin and Oregon State ... most productive day was 65-yard effort on 14 carries vs. Stanford ... also recorded his longest rush of the year with a 14-yard run against the Cardinal ... caught eight passes for 22 yards — more than his reception total for the three previous seasons ... led the team in kickoff returns with eight for 141 yards (17.6 avg.) ... finished the season with 1,114 career rushing yards and 16 rushing touchdowns. 1991: Shared starting tailback duties with Beno Bryant ... finished with 146 carries for 718 yards and 10 rushing touchdowns ... had 13 carries for 37 yards in the Rose Bowl ... led all rushers with 10 touchdowns on the season and also had a TD reception ... his 68 points were second only to Mario Bailey's total of 102 ... that tandem became the first in UW history to both score double-figure touchdowns in the same season ... finished seventh in the Pac-10 in rushing and eighth in scoring ... started four games (Stanford, Nebraska, Kansas State and Arizona State) and played in all the others ... earned Pac-10 offensive player of the week honors and ABC-TV's Chevrolet player of the game award for his 19-carry, 143-yard performance at California ... scored on a nine-yard run in that game ... also topped the 100-yard plateau against Nebraska with 110 yards on 11 carries ... his 81-yard fourth-quarter run secured the Huskies' 36-21 victory at Nebraska ... it was the longest run of his career, the longest by a UW runner since Joe Steele's 83-yard jaunt in 1977 and tied for the seventh longest scoring run in UW history ... that run also earned him the AT&T Long Distance Award as the longest collegiate scamper of the week ... registered two rushing touchdowns at Stanford and against Kansas State ... scored touchdowns in the first six games before his string was snapped against Oregon ... UW coaches chose him as an offensive player of the week against Nebraska, California and USC ... was the top UW rusher in the spring with 30 carries for 97 yards to his credit ... also caught seven passes. 1990: Was the club's third tailback and also one of the top special teams players ... ran 20 times for 102 yards during the year with three TDs ... had one rush for one yard in the Rose Bowl ... was productive in Washington's 55-10 win over Washington State, rushing eight times for 27 yards and three TDs ... scored against the Cougars on a pair of one-yard runs and also on a two-yard run ... played on all kicking teams and distinguished himself with six tackles and a fumble recovery ... his recovery came against UCLA and it was a critical one ... picked up a muffed punt by Scott Miller and it helped set up a Husky TD which evened the game at 22-22 ... blocked a punt in the third period against Arizona ... drew mention from the UW staff for his kicking team play against Arizona and UCLA. 1989: Finished third on the club in rushing with 100 yards on 26 carries (3.8 average) with a long run of 12 yards during the regular season ... caught one pass for one yard ... rushed for career high of 40 yards on 10 carries vs. Purdue ... rushed five times for 30 yards in the UW's Freedom Bowl win including a 30-yard gain late in the contest. 1988: Red-shirt season spent working with the scout team.

High School: Four-year letterman running back and defensive back ... as a senior, named honorable mention All-America by USA Today, all-state (all classifications), AA all-state and Player of the Year (Rocky Mountain News) and AA all-state (Denver Post) ... led the state as a senior when he rushed for 1,726 yards and 23 touchdowns as a senior ... finished eighth in all-time Colorado career rushing (4,175 yards) and scored 50 career touchdowns ... also intercepted 28 passes in high school career ... top game as a senior was vs. Lutheran when he rushed for 250 yards and five touchdowns ... team was undefeated in Metro League play during career (1984-87) and won AA state championship in 1985 ... basketball letterman who averaged 22 points per game ... named second-team all-state and Metro League MVP as a senior ... second-team all-state in lacrosse as a sophomore ... was a district champion in track in the 100m (10.93) and 200m as a senior.

Personal: Born October 29, 1969 in Denver, Colo. ... father, Odell, is a former Denver Broncos running back now working in real estate ... mother's name is Glenda ... younger brother, Damon, a junior split end for the Huskies ... pursuing a degree in entrepreneurship in the school of business.

Mark BrunellQB ... 6-2 ... 205*Santa Maria, CA*St. Joseph High School

Washington: Goes down as one of the best quarterbacks in Husky history ... picked by the Green Bay Packers in the fifth round in the 1993 NFL draft ... finished his career sixth on the all-time total offense list with 4,101 yards ... also sixth on all-time passing list with 3,423 yards ... is eighth on all-time touchdown list with 19 ... played in the Shrine Game and Japan Bowl. 1992: One of four co-captains for the Huskies ... saved his best for last, throwing for a career-best 308 yards in Washington's 38-31 loss to Michigan in the Rose Bowl ... completed 18 of 30 passes including two for touchdowns ... broke four Rose Bowl career records and tied another ... owns Rose Bowl marks for passes completed (39), passing yards (560), total offense (618) and touchdowns (seven) ... tied record for TD passes (five) ... earned All-Pac-10 second team honors for the second time in his career ... also earned second-team mention behind Oregon's Bill Musgrave in 1990, when he led the Huskies to the Pac-10 title and the Rose Bowl ... a finalist for the Johnny Unitas Golden Arm Award ... was a backup to Billy Joe Hobert, playing primarily in the second and fourth quarters of games, until the sixth game of the season (Oregon), when he took back over as the starter ... in that first start (since the 1991 Rose Bowl), completed nine of 15 passes for 151 yards and touchdown ... also scored on a 14-yard run to open up the scoring in the Oregon game ... ended the season as the team's third-best rusher behind Napoleon Kaufman and Darius Turner with 197 yards (326 gained, 129 lost) on 68 carries ... was second on the team in scoring with eight touchdowns ... combined with his passing, he accounted for 13 touchdowns on the season ... threw only four interceptions on the season in 189 attempts and didn't throw his first pick until the Stanford game, when he threw two ... had probably the best passing game of the season in the Huskies' streak-ending loss at Arizona when he hit on 25 of 41 passes for 243 yards, one interception and no touchdowns ... had another great game, both rushing and passing, against Oregon State ... against the Beavers, ran for two touchdowns and threw for two more ... gained 52 yards on seven carries and completed 14 of 21 passes for 202 yards in that game ... led the team in rushing in the Washington State loss when he gained 60 yards on 15 carries ... scored two of the Huskies' three TDs against WSU, both on one-yard runs ... picked up ABC's Player of the Game award against the Cougars ... another strong outing came in his second start of the year when he completed 11 of 18 attempts for 102 yards while rushing for 78 yards and two TDs on 13 carries against Pacific ... top outing as a non-starter was probably against Wisconsin when he completed 11 of 18 for 96 yards ... won two Texaco Star Performer awards (Oregon State and Washington State) and two Metropolitan Savings Player of the Game awards (Pacific and Arizona) ... rated the top all-purpose quarterback by NCAA Football Preview and sixth by The Sporting News in preseason publications ... was one of the key reasons the Huskies were rated the top offensive backfield by The Sporting News and Lindy's. 1991: Returned from spring knee surgery to play in eight games plus the Rose Bowl ... suffered an anterior cruciate injury to his right knee on April 18, during spring drills ... missed the season's first two games, at Stanford and Nebraska, while rehabilitating his knee ... saw first action in week three against Kansas State when he took over for Billy Joe Hobert on the final play of the third quarter ... played in eight of the final nine games as Hobert's back-up and also saw duty in the Rose Bowl win ... only game he did not play was at USC ... completed 26 of 44 passes for 333 yards with four touchdowns and two interceptions ... directed two scoring drives in the Rose Bowl, completing seven of eight passes for 89 yards and a 38-yard scoring strike to Mario Bailey ... during the year he started 27 drives and the Huskies scored on 10 of those ... saw his most significant playing time against Arizona State when he played most of the second half, completing eight of 13 passes for 84 yards ... in limited time against Arizona, completed five of seven attempts, two of which were touchdowns ... tossed a regular-season long 23-yard touchdown pass against Toledo ... rushed 13 times for 25 yards with a season high of 18 yards at Oregon State ... tallied his lone rushing touchdown in the regular-season finale against Washington State, scoring from five yards out ... named the recipient of the team's Guy Flaherty Award as the most inspirational player. 1990: Earned his first varsity letter, led the Huskies to their first Pac-10 title since 1981 and was named the Outstanding Player in the '91 Rose Bowl ... also won second team All-Pac-10 honors behind Oregon's Bill Musgrave ... had a big game in the Rose Bowl, completing 14 of 22 passes for 163 yards with two TDs and one interception ... also rushed 10 times for 48 yards and scored twice on runs of five and 20 yards ... threw for 197 yards and ran 38 more in a 31-0 victory over USC ... finished second on the squad in rushing with 105 carries for 444 yards and eight TDs ... his rushing total was the most by a UW quarterback since Denny Fitzpatrick gained 697 in 1974 and it was the most by a Pac-10 quarterback since Ronald Veal of Arizona rushed for 566 in 1987 ... ran for 47 yards on Washington's second play from scrimmage against San Jose State in the opener to help set up a field goal ... matched that 47-yard scamper a week later against Purdue but this one was for a TD in the 20-14 victory on the road ... had 76 yards rushing at Purdue which was his best performance until he gained 87 yards against California on the ground ... completed 118 of 253 passes for 1,732 yards with 14 TDs and just eight interceptions ... his 1,732 yards passing were the second best effort ever by a UW sophomore quarterback (exceeded only by Sonny Sixkiller's 2,303 yards in 1970) ... rushed for a TD in nine straight games including the Rose Bowl ... had six interceptions in the first four games and then had just two in the final seven regular season games and both of those came in one game (UCLA) ... worked his streak of consecutive passes without an interception to 128 before the Bruins' Eric Turner picked off a pass in the final quarter ... he fell nine passes shy of Steve Pelluer's school record of 137 without an interception ... had three scoring passes in the season finale against Washington State and two each against Stanford and Arizona ... scored or passed for at least one TD in all 11 games during the year ... even got into the act as a receiver against California, scoring on an 11-yard pass from halfback Beno Bryant ... averaged nearly 200 yards a game (197.8) in total offense for the year ... started 140 drives as the UW quarterback and Washington scored on 50 of those (36 percent), including 40 touchdowns ... his 2,176 yards in total offense were the fourth best effort in UW history. 1989: Served as Cary Conklin's backup ... played in three games, but did not letter ... completed six of 12 passes for 57 yards with two interceptions ... saw first collegiate action in the second game of the season vs. Purdue ... entered the Purdue game with 1:56 to go in the third quarter ... finished his outing against the Boilermakers by completing two of six attempts for 19 yards and one interception ... eight games later, saw his next action at Oregon State and completed four of six passes for 38 yards and one interception ... was close to starting the second half at California because of a pulled abdominal muscle suffered by Conklin, but Conklin was able to finish out the game ... had an impressive stint in the Freedom Bowl win, running for a 20-yard touchdown and hitting on three of five passes for 25 yards. 1988: Red-shirt season ... included in travel squad.

High School: Three-year letterman quarterback ... also saw time at safety as a senior ... three-year starter ... named to The Sporting News Top 100 ... eight votes in Best in the West (Long Beach Press-Telegram) ... chosen to Western 100 (Tacoma News-Tribune) and Super Prep All-America teams ... two time all-league quarterback ... two time All-Desert Mountain Conference (First Interstate) ... All-Santa Barbara County. (Santa Barbara News-Press) as a senior ... completed 148 of 273 pass attempts for 2,086 yards and 10 touchdowns as a senior ... all-league and second team All-Santa Barbara County as a junior ... completed 502 of 912 passes for 5,893 yards and 41 touchdowns during high school career ... had top game of 405 yards and four touchdowns passing vs. Santa Paula as a senior ... team advanced to CIF finals in 1986 and CIF semifinals in '87 ... was a second-team all-league guard in basketball and was a four-time all-league baseball player.

James CliffordILB ... 6-2 ... 230*Seattle, WA*Ingraham High School

Washington: Four-year letterman ... finished his career with 301 career tackles. 1992: Started all but the Pacific game alongside Dave Hoffmann and finished a narrow second to Hoffmann on the season tackles list with 40 solos and 42 assists for 82 total ... also had two fumbles caused, one fumble recovered, two pass deflections and one interceptions ... his 9.5 tackles for loss (for 28 yards) ranked him sixth on the team in that department ... also had one sack ... played in the Japan bowl ... opened the season with 10 tackles at Arizona State ... had top day of the year against Nebraska when he posted five solos and eight assists for 13 tackles, one sack and two tackles for loss ... earned Pac-10 Player of the Week, Texaco Star Performer and Metropolitan Savings Bank Player of the Week for his performance against the Cornhuskers ... also reached double figures for tackles when he racked up 10 against USC ... had nine tackles and two for loss against California ... perhaps the biggest play of his career came against Stanford when he picked off a Steve Stenstrom pass and returned it 42 yards for a touchdown ... that score probably put the game away as it made the score 21-7 in the second quarter of a 41-7 win ... named All-Pac-10 honorable mention ... one of the main reasons the Husky linebacking corps was named the nation's third best by The Sporting News in preseason rankings. 1991: Made a nice recovery from 1990 knee surgery to become a big contributor on the Husky defensive unit ... was listed second on the depth behind Dave Hoffmann most of the year but saw action in all 12 games ... finished ninth among all Husky tacklers with 32 ... added four more in the Rose Bowl, including one for a three-yard loss ... most productive day came against Arizona State, when he recorded eight tackles and broke up two passes ... caused a fumble at Oregon State and also recovered one in the same game ... also had a fumble recovery against Toledo which led to a first quarter UW touchdown ... shared three tackles for losses and also shared a sack against Arizona ... had his first career interception that set up a touchdown in the win over Arizona ... credited with a kickoff return of 11 yards at California. 1990: Missed the entire campaign after suffering a right knee injury at the start of fall practice which later required surgery ... suffered the injury on the first day of practice in pads in August ... spent nearly a month on the sidelines undergoing rehabilitation before attempting to play just prior to the USC game ... however, he reinjured the knee which made surgery necessary and it kept him on the sidelines the rest of the year. 1989: The Pac-10's leading tackler with 164 stops, a figure that ranks ninth among all-time UW single-season leaders ... won his second letter in his first year as a starter ... was in double figures in tackles in nine of 11 games with a high of 27 at USC ... that 27-tackle effort earned him Chevrolet/ABC-TV's Player of the Game award for the Huskies ... also chosen as the Metropolitan Federal Player of the Game (by vote of Husky Media) and the Texaco Star Performer (by KOMO Radio) ... his other big games were against Arizona State (19 stops) and Arizona (19 tackles) and Washington State (17 tackles, three for loss/sack) ... overall he had nine tackles for losses, broke up five passes, caused one fumble and recovered two others ... had one of the year's big plays when he hit Oregon tight end Joe Meerten and caused a fumble which he recovered at the UW 40-yard line in the last minute-and-a-half, allowing the Huskies to run out the clock to preserve a 20-14 win ... picked as UW's Defensive Player of the Week for his play against California ... collected 17 tackles, including one for loss, a sack, a fumble recovery and two pass deflections ... was named honorable mention All-Pac-10 and he was also recipient of the Earle T. Glant "Tough Husky" Award as voted on by the coaching staff ... 1988: Played in all 11 games, predominantly on the kickoff coverage team ... had 19 total tackles (eight solo, 11 assists) ... intercepted a fumble in the California game ... was the only true freshman to letter ... one of three freshmen, along with wide receivers Mario Bailey and Orlando McKay, to earn varsity time.

High School: Four-year letterman linebacker and fullback ... as a senior, named honorable mention All-America (USA Today), all-state (Sports-writers Assn., Seattle P-I), Star Times and Blue Chip (Seattle Times) ... three-time All-Metro linebacker ... 1987 Metro Defensive Player of the Year ... Best in the Northwest team (Tacoma News-Tribune) as a senior ... recorded 142 (94 solo/48 assists) tackles in eight games and rushed 48 times for 356 yards (7.4 avg.) and six touchdowns as a senior ... four-year letterman first baseman/designated hitter in baseball who was drafted by the Seattle Mariners in spring of '88 ... all-state as a senior ... hit .381 with a slugging percentage of .714 as a senior ... three-time All-Metro selection ... hit .410 with a league-leading nine home runs as a junior.

Personal: Born March 23, 1970, in Seattle, Wash. ... father's name is Ed and mother's name is Pat ... has two older sisters ... an uncle, Rusty Morrison, played football at Central Washington ... had a 3.27 high school GPA ... was drafted while in high school by the Seattle Mariners ... drafted again by the Mariners in June of 1992 after playing a season with the Washington baseball team ... helped lead the Huskies to their first NCAA appearance since 1959 by batting .304 with 10 home runs, the second-most homers in school history ... spent the last two summers playing in the Mariners organization as a member of the Class-A Bellingham Mariners of the Northwest League ... received Ingraham's 1988 Outstanding Citizenship Award ... majored in personnel systems.

The Team They Didn't Play

Since becoming the Pacific-10 Conference in 1978, league opponents have not played each other every year. Here is a list of the teams missed by Washington since the Pac-8 expanded to the Pac-10.

Year	Opponent(Opponent Record)
1978	California (6-5)
1979	Stanford (5-5-1), Arizona (6-5-1)
1980	California (3-8), UCLA (9-2)
1981	Arizona (6-5)
1982	Southern California (8-3)
1983	Arizona State (6-4-1), California (5-5-1)
1984	Arizona State (5-6), UCLA (9-3)
1985	Arizona (8-3-1)
1986	Arizona (9-3)
1987	California (3-6-2)
1988	Oregon State (4-6-1)
1989	Stanford (3-8)
1990	Oregon Stae (1-10)
1991	UCLA (6-5)
1992	UCLA (6-5)

The Team They Don't Play

The Pacific-10 Conference adopted a uniform eight-game conference schedule in 1991. Under the new format, teams will miss one opponent two years in succession. Here are the misses for the 1993 season.

Arizona — Washington	Southern California — Arizona State
Arizona State — Southern California	Stanford — Washington State
California — Oregon State	UCLA — Oregon
Oregon — UCLA	Washington — Arizona
Oregon State — California	Washington State — Stanford

The Pacific-10 Conference

With another nine NCAA team titles captured in 1992-93, more than any other conference, the Pacific-10 Conference once again lived up to its billing as the strongest overall intercollegiate athletic league in the nation.

The Pac-10's nine NCAA trophies ranked ahead of the 12-team Southeastern Conference's eight titles, while its 36 NCAA individual titles ranked a close second to the Big Ten's 38 crowns.

NCAA team champions from the Pac-10 in 1992-93 came from an impressive six institutions. Stanford earned four trophies (women's volleyball, men's gymnastics and men's and women's swimming and diving), while NCAA crowns also went to Arizona (softball), Arizona (women's golf), California (water polo), UCLA (men's volleyball) and USC (men's tennis).

The Pac-10 also fared quite well in non-NCAA Championship events during the 1992-93 campaign. A record six football teams participated in bowl games, California won its third straight national rugby title (also its 10th in 14 seasons), and Arizona State once again defended its six national titles in archery (men's, women's, mixed) and badminton (men's, women's, mixed).

Pac-10 members have now won 206 NCAA men's team championships (far ahead of the 137 claimed by the Big 10), and 40 women's crowns (ahead of the Southwest Conference, which has 27), to lead all conferences in both categories.

Men's NCAA team crowns have come at a phenomenal rate - 13 basketball titles by four schools, more than any other conference; 16 of the last 27 baseball titles; 18 of the last 34 titles in track and field, and an incredible 44 titles overall; 17 of the last 30 in swimming; 30 of the last 33 in tennis; 20 of the last 34 in water polo; and 18 of the last 24 in volleyball.

On the women's side, the story is the same. Since the NCAA began conducting women's championships 12 years ago, Pac-10 members have claimed four titles in a single season on eight occasions. Included in this are 10 of 12 tennis crowns, and nine of the 12 championships in softball. Plus, the 209 NCAA individual titles leads all leagues by a comfortable margin.

The roots of the Pacific-10 Conference go back more than 75 years. On December 15, 1915, the Pacific Coast Conference was founded at a meeting at the Oregon Hotel in Portland, Oregon. Original membership consisted of four schools - University of California, University of Washington, University of Oregon and Oregon State College (now Oregon State University). All are still charter members of the Conference.

Pacific Coast Conference (PCC) play began in 1916. One year later, Washington State College (now Washington State University), was accepted into the Conference, and Stanford University joined in 1918.

In 1922, the PCC expanded to eight teams with the admission of the University of Southern California and the University of Idaho. Montana joined the Conference in 1924, and in 1928, the PCC grew to 10 members with the addition of UCLA.

The Pacific Coast Conference competed as a 10-team league until 1950, with the exception of 1943-45, when World War II curtailed athletic competition at the university level to a minimum. In 1950, Montana resigned from the Conference and joined the Mountain States Conference. The PCC continued as a nine-team conference through 1958.

In 1959, the PCC was dissolved and a new conference was formed - The Athletic Association of Western Universities. Original AAWU membership consisted of California, Stanford, Southern California, UCLA and Washington. Washington State became a member in 1962, while Oregon and Oregon State joined in 1964. In 1968, the name Pacific-8 Conference was adopted.

Ten years later, on July 1, 1978, the University of Arizona and Arizona State University were admitted and the Pacific-10 Conference became a reality. In 1986-87, the Pacific-10 Conference took on a new look, expanding to include ten women's sports. The 1990-91 academic year saw the Conference celebrate its 75th anniversary.

Edward N. Atherton was named the Conference's first Commissioner in 1940. He has been succeeded by Victor O. Schmidt (1944), Thomas J. Hamilton (1959), Wiles Hallock (1971) and current Commissioner Thomas C. Hansen in 1983.

The Pacific-10 Conference offices are located 15 miles east of San Francisco in Walnut Creek, Calif.

Retired Husky Jerseys

2 Chuck Carroll

Chuck Carroll was a consensus All-American in 1928, capping an outstanding career in which he was a three-time letterwinner while helping lead the Huskies to a 24-8 overall record. He also received the Guy Flaherty award that season, as he set a Husky record with 17 touchdowns in one season, a record since tied by Husky greats Hugh McElhenny and Mario Bailey. Carroll, a two-time All-Coast selection (1927-28) also owns the Husky record for most points scored in a game — 36 against Puget Sound in 1928. Carroll was inducted into the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame in 1964 and the Husky Hall of Fame in 1979.

44 Roland Kirkby

Roland Kirkby was one of the most underrated members of the Washington's Fearsome Foursome backfield in 1950. As a senior he was named first-team All-Coast by a vote of the coaches and second-team by several different organizations. Kirkby set a school record that season when he caught three touchdown passes in a game against Kansas State, a record that has since been tied but not broken. Kirkby was honorable mention All-America as a sophomore in 1948 and honorable mention All-Coast as a junior.

33 George Wilson

George Wilson was described as one of the most fearless all-around players in the country during his Husky career, twice outplaying such well-known legends as Red Grange of Illinois and Ernie Nevers of Stanford. In 1925 he joined those two greats on the All-America team as Washington's first consensus pick. He also was a three-time All-Coast selection (1923-25). Wilson scored a school record 37 touchdowns during his career and led Washington to two Rose Bowl appearances in 1924 and 1926. Wilson was inducted into the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame in 1951 and the Husky Hall of Fame in 1980.

Washington's Head Coaches

Gil Dobie, 1908-16

Dobie attended Minnesota and played quarterback for the Golden Gophers from 1899 to 1901. He graduated from Minnesota in 1903 and was an assistant for the Gophers through 1905. He then took his first head coaching job at North Dakota State in 1906 where he went undefeated in two seasons (7-0). In 1908 he became head coach at Washington where he coached the Sun Dodgers in 61 of the 63 games that serves as the longest unbeaten streak in NCAA history. Dobie's Washington squads outscored opponents by a tally of 1,930 to 118 during his nine seasons. He left Washington following the 1916 season and moved to Navy until 1919 where he was 17-3-0. From there he coached at Cornell (1920-35, 82-36-7) and Boston College (1936-38, 16-6-5). Dobie's Washington record of 58-0-3 contributed to his overall record of 180-45-15 which earned him induction into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1951. Dobie died at the age of 69 and was inducted into the Husky Hall of Fame as part of the inaugural induction class in 1979.

Claude J. Hunt, 1917, 1919

Hunt graduated from DePauw University in 1911. Washington hired Hunt in 1917 after Hunt had guided Carleton College in Minnesota to consecutive undefeated seasons. Hunt did not coach the 1918 squad because he was off fighting World War I. Lincoln High School football coach Tony Savage led the 1918 squad which played only two games (1-1). Hunt's overall record at Washington was 6-3-1.

Leonard B. "Stub" Allison, 1920

Allison attended and graduated from Carleton College in Minnesota. He was promoted to head coach after serving as an assistant at Washington in 1919. Allison coached the last Washington football game at Denny Field on November 5, 1920 which ended in a 3-0 loss to Stanford. He also coached the first game at Husky Stadium on November 27, 1920 when Washington lost to Dartmouth 28-7 before 24,000 fans to finish the season a disappointing 1-5-0. Allison's squad was the last at Washington to be nicknamed the Sun Dodgers. Allison later resurfaced as the head coach at California in 1935 after serving as an assistant in Berkeley from 1931-34. In 10 seasons as the Bears' head coach, Allison compiled a 58-42-2 record including a 10-0-1 squad in 1937 that finished second in the AP poll and beat Alabama in the 1938 Rose Bowl 13-0 which is Cal's last Rose Bowl win.

Enoch Bagshaw, 1921-29

Bagshaw graduated from Washington in 1907 after becoming the first of two five-year lettermen in Washington history. Between 1903 and 1907 Bagshaw played end, halfback and quarterback for Washington under three different coaches. After graduation Bagshaw went to Everett High School where he was head coach from 1909 to 1920. His last Everett squad won consecutive national championships in 1919 and 1920. He was then hired as Washington's head coach in 1921. In his nine seasons at Washington, Bagshaw compiled a 63-22-6 record and took the Huskies to their first ever Rose Bowl in 1924 where they tied Navy 14-14. Bagshaw returned to the Rose Bowl in 1926 where the Huskies lost to Alabama 20-19. Bagshaw retired after the 1929 season and died of a heart attack October 3, 1930 at the age of 46. He was inducted into the Husky Hall of Fame in 1980.

James M. Phelan, 1930-41

Phelan graduated from Notre Dame in 1919 and started at quarterback for the Irish from 1915-1917 when he guided them to a 21-3-1 record in Jesse Harper's last three years as head coach. Following graduation Phelan served in the US Navy where he was assigned to the Missouri as First Lieutenant. In 1920 he was hired at Missouri as head coach where he was 13-3-0 in two seasons before he moved to Purdue in 1922. In eight seasons as the Boilermakers head coach Phelan was 35-22-5 including an 8-0 squad in 1929. In 12 years as head coach at Washington Phelan guided the Huskies to a 65-37-8 record. The Huskies went to the Rose Bowl in 1937 where they lost to Pittsburgh 21-0. Phelan guided the Huskies to their first bowl victory in the Pineapple Bowl in 1938 when they beat Hawaii 53-13. Phelan left Washington in 1941 for St. Mary's (Calif.). He later became the first Husky head coach to coach in the professional football league when he skippered the New York Titans, New York Yankees, Baltimore Colts, and Texas Rangers. He later got involved in politics and served three terms as County Commissioner for Sacramento County in California where he became a personal friend of then governor Ronald Reagan. He died November 14, 1979 at the age of 81. He was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1973 and into the Husky Hall of Fame in 1986.

Ralph "Pest" Welch, 1942-47

Welch graduated from Purdue in 1930 where he was an All-American half-back under Jim Phelan. Welch followed Phelan to Washington where he served as an assistant coach in all but one (1938) of Phelan's 12 years at Washington. Welch finished with a 27-20-3 record at Washington and took the '43 squad to the 1944 Rose Bowl where they lost to USC 29-0. Welch's six seasons were marked by the turmoil caused by World War II as players came and left as their war duties allowed them to. Welch resigned in 1948.

Howard Odell, 1948-52

Odell graduated from Pittsburgh in 1934 after playing at running back and punter on the 1932-33 Panther squads. He remained at Pittsburgh for two seasons as backfield coach. In 1936 he moved to Harvard for two seasons and then to Pennsylvania from 1938-40. In 1941 he served as the backfield coach at Wisconsin under Henry Stuhldreher, one of Notre Dame's Four Horsemen. He got his first head coaching job at Yale in 1942 and stayed through 1947 compiling a record of 35-15-2 which included Yale's 500th victory in 1945. He was hired at Washington in 1948 and stayed until 1952. Odell's overall record at the UW was 23-25-12. He coached two of Washington's greatest players in Hugh McElhenny and Don Heinrich. He opened a used car lot after he left the coaching ranks. In 1957 he was elected King County Commissioner and served until 1962 when he retired and moved to Southern California.

John Cherberg, 1953-55

Cherberg was a Seattle native who graduated from Washington in 1933. He played for Jim Phelan's 1930-32 squads and played every backfield position. After graduation Cherberg coached Cleveland High School from 1933-37 where he won the '37 State Championship. The same year he was named the Seattle Post-Intelligencer Sports Man of the Year. In 1938, he moved to his high school alma mater, Queen Anne High School, where he stayed until 1945 while winning two state titles. In 1946 he was hired at Washington as a backfield assistant under Ralph Welch. In 1948 he moved to the Huskies' freshman head coach position where he lost his first game but won the next 22. In 1953 he was promoted to head coach where he guided the Huskies to a 10-18-2 mark spanning three seasons. Cherberg then ran for Washington's Lieutenant Governor in 1957 and won, the first of eight consecutive victories. Cherberg served as Lt. Governor for 32 years which spanned five governors. He retired in January 1989. He died on April 8, 1992 at the age of 80. He was inducted into the Husky Hall of Fame in 1981.

Darrell Royal, 1956

Before attending college, Royal enlisted in the Air Force after graduating from high school in 1943. In the Air Force, he attained the rank of staff sergeant. Royal graduated from Oklahoma in 1950 where he lettered on four conference championship squads from 1946-49. Royal was an all-conference quarterback in 1949 when the Sooners finished 11-0. After graduation, Royal served one-year stints as an assistant at North Carolina State, Tulsa, and Mississippi State. In 1953 Royal moved to the Canadian pro league as head coach at Edmonton where he went 16-5 and won the Western Division Championship. In 1954 he returned to Mississippi State as head coach and went 12-8 over two seasons. In his one season at Washington the Huskies went 5-5-0. Royal then decided to settle down at Texas where he was head coach from 1957-76 and compiled a 167-47-5 record that included 11 Top 10 finishes, three national championships, 11 Southwest Conference crowns and 16 bowl games. He also served as Texas Athletic Director from 1962-80. In 1980 he was named a special assistant on athletics to UT President Peter Flawn, a role he still serves in on a part-time basis today. Royal was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1983.

Jim Owens, 1957-74

Owens served two-and-a-half years with the Naval Air Corps during World War II. Following his service, Owens enrolled at Oklahoma where he played from 1946-49. Owens was the Sooners' captain and leading receiver, earning him All-American honors on Oklahoma's 11-0 squad in 1949. After graduating in 1950, Owens played one season for the Baltimore Colts while also serving as a part-time assistant at John Hopkins University. Owens was then an assistant under Paul "Bear" Bryant at Kentucky from 1951-53 and followed Bryant to Texas A&M in 1954 and stayed until 1956. At Washington, Owens was 99-82-6 during his 18 seasons as head coach. Owens' Husky teams won three AAWU titles and went to three Rose Bowls including the Huskies' first ever Rose Bowl win in 1960, a 44-8 romp over Wisconsin. Owens split his other two trips to Pasadena when the Huskies beat Minnesota 17-7 in 1961 and lost to Illinois in 1964, 17-7. Owens retired following the 1974 campaign and still resides in the Seattle area. He was inducted into the Husky Hall of Fame as part of the inaugural class in 1979.

Rose Bowl

January 1, 1924

Washington 14, Navy 14

Washington missed a field goal "by a scant three feet" as time expired and the Huskies settled for a 14-14 tie with the heavily favored Midshipmen of the Naval Academy in the 1924 Rose Bowl, played before 40,000 fans.

The Huskies, coached to a 10-1 record coming into the game by third-year coach Enoch Bagshaw, had to fight back twice, falling behind 7-0 early and later trailing 14-7 to the well-drilled Middies of Annapolis. The Naval Academy (5-1-1) used a sophisticated passing attack, a style not seen before on the West Coast, to confuse the Husky defense in the first half. Navy completed all 11 passes it attempted in the first half, and hit 14 in a row before the Huskies managed to stop one. Navy completed 16-of-20 for the day.

Navy opened the scoring at the start of the second period on a 20-yard pass from quarterback Ira McKee to halfback Carl Cullen. Navy dominated the first period with its unorthodox passing offense, completing six tosses, but was unable to score before time expired in the period. The Midshipmen used a short, two-handed, basketball toss for the bulk of their passing attack.

Washington answered on its next drive. Husky guard Jim Bryan trapped the Navy kick at midfield. The Huskies tried the line for no gain, and then Husky quarterback Fred Abel threw a 30-yard pass out of punt formation to Kinsley Dubois on the right wing. Left halfback George Wilson took the next play off-tackle 14 yards for the Huskies' first touchdown. The extra point by Lester Sherman made it 7-7.

After an exchange of punts, Navy completed a 45-yard pass over center to the Washington 7-yard line. Three line plunges netted no gain, but on fourth down the Middies used the basketball toss from McKee to Cullen around right end for the touchdown. The extra point made it 14-7 at the half.

The game settled into a defensive struggle in the third quarter. Washington was unable to advance the ball against Navy and the Middies marched the field but could not score, thwarted by Husky center Chalmers Walter's interception of an errant McKee pass inside the Husky 20-yard line early in the quarter. Navy also missed a field goal as time expired in the period.

Midway through the fourth period the Huskies got a break. Trapped deep in its own end, Navy mis-snapped the ball in punt formation, with the Huskies recovering the loose ball on the Navy 10-yard line.

Two line plays netted the Huskies a loss of two yards and a third-down pass attempt also failed, leaving the Dawgs with a fourth-and-12 situation. Washington lined up, then had fullback Elmer Tesreau jump up to the line, and the end dropped back, leaving the left guard Jimmy Bryan eligible to catch a pass. Bryan delayed, then released and gathered in Abel's pass, stumbling across the goal line for the touchdown. The Sherman-booted extra point made it 14-14.

Washington had one last chance to win, as the Huskies drove to the 25-yard line with less than five minutes to play on a long pass from Abel to Wilson. Washington's field goal attempt by Leonard Zeil from 24 yards out had the distance but curved left. Navy took over on downs at the 20, and advanced as far as midfield when the game ended.

Rose Bowl January 1, 1926 Alabama 20, Washington 19

Coach Enoch Bagshaw's Huskies, 10-0-1 entering the Rose Bowl game, built a 12-0 lead, dominating the first half, only to lose the lead and the game in 12 frantic minutes of the third quarter as Alabama, 9-0, scored 20 unanswered points. Husky All-American halfback George Wilson, named the bowl's Most Valuable Player, was out of the game with an injury during the scoring binge as 'Bama took a lead Washington could not overcome in front of 45,000 fans at the Rose Bowl.

The game is remembered as Wilson's greatest, and is one that is rated a classic in Rose Bowl history.

Damon Runyon covered the contest for the Universal Service and put it succinctly: "As George Wilson went, so went Washington. If there ever was a one-man football team, George was it. When Wilson was on the field it was a ball game."

Wilson played 38 minutes and was out with injury for 22. During the 38 he played, Washington scored three touchdowns and gained 300 yards. Alabama threatened, but failed to score. During the 22 minutes Wilson was on the sideline, Washington gained a total of 14 yards and failed to score. Alabama, under coach Wallace Wade, notched the three touchdowns and two conversions which won the game during Wilson's defensive absence.

Wilson took a lateral to the 'Bama 1-yard line in the first quarter, and provided the blocking for right halfback Harold Paton's 1-yard plunge that gave the Huskies a 6-0 lead.

In the second quarter, a 36-yard Wilson run paved the way for Washington's second touchdown, a pass from Wilson to left end John Cole. The Huskies missed both PAT kicks in the first half-something that would have its greatest impact at game's end.

Trailing by 12 points after the half, "Pooley" Hubert took it upon himself to bring Alabama back. From the Washington 42-yard line, he called his own number five consecutive times, carrying the ball a total of 58 yards for the Crimson Tide score. On its next possession, Alabama returned the kickoff to its own 21-yard line. Five line plunges carried the ball to the 39. Alabama then struck on a 61-yard bomb from Hubert to Johnny Mack Brown to give Alabama its first lead in the game, 14-12.

Alabama continued its attack after recovering a Washington fumble at midfield. Another long pass to Brown, this one from Grant Gillis for 40 yards, placed the Tide on the Washington 5-yard line. Brown carried the ball the final 5 yards for a 20-12 Crimson Tide lead.

Wilson returned to lead the frantic Husky comeback attempt in the final period. Alabama was on the Husky 15-yard line, threatening to seal its victory, but the Tide could not convert a fourth-and-one situation. Washington took over on its own 12-yard line.

Wilson gained 17 yards on first down and three plays later Paton advanced to the 'Bama 43 around left end. After a short Wilson pass for a first down, the Husky left halfback threw to quarterback George Guttormsen for a 27-yard touchdown.

The extra point by Gene Cook put Washington within one, 20-19. Washington's final threat ended with an interception at midfield just before time expired.

Rose Bowl

January 1, 1937

Pittsburgh 21, Washington 0

The University of Pittsburgh, 7-1-1 under coach John "Jock" Sutherland, dominated both sides of the ball, handing coach James Phelan's 7-1-1 Huskies a 21-0 defeat in front of 87,196 fans at the Rose Bowl-then the largest crowd at a Rose Bowl game. Pitt notched three touchdowns, one on a 71-yard interception return, and held the Huskies to only 153 yards of total offense while racking up 300 yards themselves.

After an exchange of punts in the first period, Pitt took over on its own 45. On second down, left halfback Marshall Goldberg took a reverse to the Husky 35 and then halfback Bob LaRue took the same play to the Washington 10. Fullback Frank Patrick scored on a 1-yard plunge three plays later for an early 7-0 Golden Panther lead.

Pitt held the Huskies to end the first quarter leading 7-0, and Washington put together one of its only sustained drives of the day to begin the second period of play, against 10 Pitt second-teamers. All-America left end Bill Daddio was the only starter playing for the Panthers at the time.

The Huskies drove as far as the Pitt 40 but the passing offense bogged down, forcing a punt on fourth-and-four. Pitt promptly drove to the Husky 35, almost strictly on blasts through the middle of the line. On first down the Panthers tried to cross up the Dawgs with a pass, but reserve halfback Frank Waskowitz intercepted the pass. On first down, Waskowitz passed to Byron Haines who carried to the Pitt 36, followed by another Waskowitz to Haines pass to the 20. The Pitt pass defense stiffened with the return of the Golden Panther starters and the Huskies ended up turning the ball over on downs after a fourth-down pass fell incomplete.

The half ended with Pittsburgh still holding a 7-0 lead.

The Huskies kicked off to open the second half, and the Panthers took over on their own 27. Washington got the break it had been looking for when Pitt fumbled on second down, with right end Frank Peters recovering for the Dawgs. The Huskies squandered the opportunity, however, as Haines threw a first-down interception.

On the ensuing drive, Pitt drove 75 yards for a touchdown. LaRue raced to the Husky 30 on a man-in-motion play through the middle of the line. From there the Panthers simply stuck it to Washington, using five plays into the center of the line, with the fullback, Patrick, plunging over from the 5 for his second touchdown.

Washington's final comeback attempt was snuffed when Daddio intercepted a left-handed lateral attempt on the Husky 35 and returned it 71 yards for the clinching touchdown. Pitt eventually ran out the clock on the Husky 4-yard line.

Pittsburgh claimed the Rose Bowl title with a display of power football. The Panthers attempted only four passes and used their speediest back, Goldberg, largely in a decoy role with Patrick and LaRue running play after play through the middle of the line.

Pineapple Bowl January 1, 1938 Washington 53, Hawaii 13

Washington, 5-2-2 in coach James Phelan's eighth season, crushed the host University of Hawaii, rolling to a 53-0 lead before the Husky reserves allowed the Islanders two meaningless touchdowns late in the final period, in front of 13,500 spectators at the Pineapple Bowl.

Washington scored four times in the opening quarter, ignited by the open-field running of left halfback Jimmy Johnston. The Huskies' first score featured Johnston running 15 yards before lateralling to center Bud Ericksen, who carried 32 yards for a touchdown. Tackle Vic Markov kicked the extra point. After stopping Hawaii, Johnston threw a 35-yard pass to end Merle Miller for the second Husky score in as many possessions.

Minutes later, Johnston returned a Hawaii punt 70 yards to the Islander two, and Miller went through the center of the line for the third Dawg touchdown. Johnston rambled for another 30-yard gain, stopped this time on the 1-yard line. Reserve fullback Don Jones notched the score on a plunge through the line. Dick Johnson's kick gave Washington a 26-0 lead at the end of the first quarter while Hawaii had yet to manage a first down.

The second quarter saw a continuation of the Husky onslaught. Despite having pulled most of its starting players, Washington continued to man-handle the smaller Hawaiian line. Everett Austin, a Husky halfback, rambled 41 yards for a touchdown. Washington kicked off, and held the Islanders, forcing a punt. Washington halfback Joe Dubsky took the punt on the fly and returned it 39 yards before lateralling it to tackle Rich Worthington, who carried it the final 11 yards for a touchdown. Dubsky's conversion gave the Huskies a 39-0 lead which they took into the half.

The Huskies scored single touchdowns in the third and fourth quarters. In the third, Lloyd Phelps broke loose for a 53-yard touchdown run. The final Husky points were tallied by Jones on a 20-yard run in the fourth quarter.

The Islanders scored on two short plunges by fullback Vernon Akee Choy and added one Joe Kaulukukui PAT kick to avoid the shutout. For the day, Washington outgained Hawaii 370 yards to 95. The Huskies were 3-of-7 passing for 60 yards. Hawaii was 10-of-28 for 160 yards.

Rose Bowl

Southern California 29, Washington 0

A regular Pacific Coast Conference season was not played in 1943 because of wartime travel restrictions, so the Northern Division champion, Washington, faced the Southern Division champion, Southern California, in the Rose Bowl. The Rose Bowl winner would reign as champion of the Pacific Coast Conference.

The Trojans (7-2) ended Washington's perfect season (4-0) by upsetting the heavily favored Huskies, 29-0, with four touchdown passes to uncovered receivers in front of 68,000 at the Rose Bowl. Earlier in the season the Southern California team lost to the 4th Air Force Flyers, 35-0, while Washington defeated this same club handily, 27-7. Because of a lack of opponents during wartime, the Rose Bowl game was the first activity in two months for coach Pest Welch's Washington Huskies.

Washington controlled the first period, twice driving deep into Trojan territory, but was unable to convert the drives into points. Washington could not run against the USC line inside the 40 and was unable to mount a passing attack the entire day, completing only five tosses for 51 yards with three interceptions. The second period was similar, as the Trojans continued to attempt to run against Washington's larger defensive line with little success.

Late in the period the Trojans turned to the air, negating Washington's size advantage with quick passes to their fleet ends. USC had a fourth down on the Washington 11 with only 40 seconds remaining in the half when Trojan quarterback Jim Hardy tossed to halfback George Callahan, who made a final move at the goal line for the touchdown. Dick Jamison added the point-after kick and the Trojans had a 7-0 lead at the half.

Southern California converted on a similar play midway through the third period when Callahan pulled in another pass from Hardy—this time in a crowd of Husky defenders—for a score, and with the second Jamison PAT, USC had a 14-0 lead.

Trojan left end Gordon Gray also caught two touchdown passes, one late in the third period from Hardy and the final one in the fourth quarter from left-handed quarterback Ainslie Bell. Bell had started the game but gave way to Hardy in a scheme planned to settle down Hardy, the Trojans' usual starter. USC coach Jeff Cravath felt Hardy had played better in a reserve role the year before.

Southern California added points on a blocked punt early in the fourth quarter when Husky quarterback Everett Austin, handling the punting duties, could not get a punt away out of his own end zone. The blocked punt, compliments of Trojan tackle Harry Plank, was covered by Washington fullback Wally Kramer in the end zone for the automatic safety.

Washington led in net rushing yardage, 134-117, but was dominated in passing yards 113-51. The Huskies also fumbled twice, and although they recovered both times, the drops helped stop drives. USC, which entered the game with a reputation as fumbling champions of the country (the Trojans lost 29-of-50 fumbles on the year) did not lose either of its two fumbles.

The loss was Washington's third consecutive in Rose Bowl play and provided the Trojans their seventh consecutive Rose Bowl win.

Rose Bowl January 1, 1960 Washington 44, Wisconsin 8

A capacity crowd watched the underdog Washington Huskies score more Rose Bowl points than any other West Coast team in history, rolling to six touchdowns and a field goal over the slower Badgers of Wisconsin. Wisconsin, 8-1 coming into the game under fourth-year coach Milt Bruhn, was favored by 6-1/2 points over a Husky squad that featured no seniors among its starters.

Washington, coached by Jim Owens to a 9-1 record before the bowl game, gambled early and late, attempting fourth-down plays in the first as well as the fourth quarter. On the Huskies' second drive of the game, with the score still tied at zero, Washington quarterback Bob Schloredt audibled twice on fourth down, leading to halfback Don McKeta's 6-yard touchdown run. Soon after, Washington recovered the first of four Wisconsin fumbles and Husky halfback George Fleming booted a 36-yard field goal for a 10-0 lead.

Fleming provided a dramatic example of the Huskies' superior speed, returning a punt 53 yards for a touchdown and adding his own extra point for a 17-0 lead. Wisconsin put together its only scoring drive of the game on the strength of three completed passes. Tom Wiesner gained the final 4 yards to score. The Badgers converted a two-point conversion, a pass from quarterback Dale Hackbart to left end Allan Schoonover, to slice the lead to nine points, 17-8.

Washington responded quickly to quell any idea of a Badger comeback. Fleming had another long punt return, this one for 55 yards, and Schloredt followed the return with a 23-yard pass to end Lee Folkins. Folkins made an outstanding leaping snag in the end zone to extend the Dawgs' lead to 24-8.

Washington continued to keep Wisconsin off balance in the third quarter. Fullback Ray Jackson pounded away on five plays for 46 yards of the 66-yard touchdown drive. He scored on a 2-yard dive.

The Huskies hammered the final nail into the Badger coffin by stopping the Big Ten representatives on four consecutive plays inside the 10-yard line. Taking over on its own 7, Washington marched 93 yards in 10 plays to score again. The drive included another Schloredt fourth-down conversion, this one from his own 16-yard line. Schloredt scored on a 3-yard keeper to up the lead to an insurmountable 38-8. Schloredt and Fleming were named Co-Most Valuable Players by the Rose Bowl committee.

The Husky reserves notched Washington's final score as backup quarterback Bob Hivner lobbed a 3-yard pass to halfback Don Millich.

Rose Bowl

January 2, 1961

Washington 17, Minnesota 7

Washington, 9-1 under fourth-year coach Jim Owens, entered the 1961 Rose Bowl as defending champions but decided underdogs. The Minnesota Gophers, 8-1 and coached by Murray Warmath, entered the game atop the national polls. They left with a 17-7 setback courtesy of an explosive Husky start and the determined second-half defense of Owens' players.

Washington used its superior quickness to offset Minnesota's size advantage in the early going.

The Huskies scored their first points in a fourth-down-and-three situation on Minnesota's 27-yard line. Halfback George Fleming kicked a 44-yard field goal, putting Washington on the scoreboard first and Fleming into the Rose Bowl record book with the longest field goal kick in its history.

Quarterback Bob Schloredt, who missed the second half of the season with an injury, entered the game in the first quarter replacing starter Bob Hivner. Schloredt promptly fired a 12-yard pass to fullback Ray Jackson. Jackson followed the reception with a 30-yard run to the Gopher 30. Three line plunges later, the ball rested on the Gopher 18 as the first quarter ended. The Huskies were using mostly outside tosses to advance the ball, a pattern the Gophers did not adjust to defensively until the second half.

Charlie Mitchell, a Husky halfback, took a toss around the right side for another 10 yards to the Gopher 8 to open the second quarter. Schloredt advanced to the 3-yard line, losing the opportunity to score when he slipped. After an incomplete pass, Schloredt hit halfback Brent Wooten with a 3-yard toss for the first touchdown in the 47th annual Rose Bowl game. Fleming's extra point put the Dawgs up 10-0.

Still unable to move against the fast-reacting Washington line, Minnesota punted. A clipping penalty on the return left the Huskies on their own 13, and they lost 6 yards on their first play. Schloredt punted from the 7-yard line to the Husky 47. Minnesota took over with its first good scoring chance but the Gophers could not convert. The Gophers drove to the 32 and then turned the ball over on downs.

Washington quickly marched down the field. Jackson carried for 10 yards and then Fleming took a pitch to the 48. Faced with a second-and-two, Schloredt called his own number on the quarterback sneak. Minnesota was expecting an outside play. Schloredt slid through the middle, broke loose to the right, picked up an important block from end Folkins, and didn't get caught until he was dragged down on the 18, a 31-yard gain. Jackson gained 3 up the middle, then Schloredt rolled out and carried the ball to the 7-yard line. Jackson carried it to the 1-foot line and Schloredt scored the touchdown on a sneak. With Fleming's PAT, Washington had 17 points—all that the Huskies would score—and a 17-0 lead at the half.

Minnesota scored its only points of the game in the third quarter, taking advantage of one of Washington's three fumbles to set to work on the Husky 32. The Gophers drove 32 yards, scoring on an 18-yard option play. Right halfback Bill Munsey took the pitch from Gopher quarterback Sandy Stephens, scoring on his third carry of the day. James Rogers added the PAT.

Rose Bowl January 1, 1964 Illinois 17, Washington 7

The Huskies entered their third Rose Bowl in five years in a familiar position—as an underdog. Coach Pete Elliott's Illinois team had a 7-1-1 regular-season record and was ranked third in the country, while the Huskies had overcome an 0-3 start to finish the year 6-4 under seven-year head coach Jim Owens, with only a loss to UCLA in Los Angeles blemishing their seven-game run to the roses.

Washington featured a hard-driving ground game anchored by quarterback Bill Douglas, fullback Junior Coffey, and future pro halfbacks Ron Medved and Dave Kopay. The defense earned its reputation as a hard-hitting group which was almost impossible to run against, anchored by a future Husky assistant coach, end Jim Lambright. The Illini featured perhaps the most famous alumnus of the 1964 Rose Bowl, linebacker Dick Butkus.

The Huskies started play as though they were anything but underdogs. Steve Bramwell, now the Husky team doctor, took the opening kickoff out to Washington's 22-yard line. Kopay took the first play around right end for 9 yards and the Huskies were off and running.

The opening drive marched down field, slowed only by three penalties (two offsides and a backfield-in-motion call). On a first-and-10 play from the Illinois 26, quarterback Bill Douglas used a quarterback keeper through the middle of the line for a gain of 12. It proved to be a costly first down. Douglas was injured on the play and left the field on a stretcher, out for the day. Backup quarterback Bill Siler entered the game and completed the first pass he attempted, but left end Al Libke fumbled on the Illini 6-yard line.

After an exchange of punts to open the second quarter, Illinois fumbled on its own 27-yard line on a first-down play. Washington took over and quickly scored. Siler carried for 3 yards on first down, and on second down he threw 18 yards to right end Joe Mancuso, who was downed on the 6. Washington scored on an option play, with Siler pitching to right halfback Kopay for the 6-yard touchdown. Medved added the PAT kick.

Washington kicked off and Illinois drove down the field, keeping the ball for almost eight minutes. Faced with a fourth-and-four on the Washington eight, Illini quarterback Fred Custardo dropped back to pass and was sacked for a 4-yard loss by Mancuso. Washington took over on its own 12, but Siler fumbled on second down with center Bruce Capel recovering for Illinois on the 15, allowing UI's Jim Plankenhorn to kick a 32-yard field goal as time expired in the first half.

Illinois converted another Washington turnover into points early in the second half. Siler was intercepted at midfield. The ball was returned to the Washington 32 where Illinois started its second scoring drive. The Illini scored in six plays for a 10-7 lead, helped by a Washington piling-on penalty. Washington had a chance to go ahead at the end of the third quarter, but on a third-and-seven, Siler's pass was picked off on the Illinois 4-yard line. Illinois responded with the only full drive of the day, moving from the Husky 15-yard line, 85 yards for the touchdown. Almost as important as the points was the fact that Illinois ate up eight minutes of the final quarter on the drive.

Rose Bowl

January 2, 1978

Washington 27, Michigan 20

Washington, 9-2 in the regular season after two forfeit wins were awarded by the NCAA, capped its 1977 Cinderella season in the 64th annual Rose Bowl with a thrilling 27-20 upset victory over heavily favored Michigan before 105,312 fans. Don James directed his team from a 1-3 early-season record to a 7-4 mark, winning seven of its last eight games en route to Washington's first bowl victory in 17 years.

The Huskies were led from the outset by Pac-8 Co-Player of the Year and eventual Rose Bowl MVP, quarterback Warren Moon. On Washington's first possession, Moon led the Huskies 49 yards in 10 plays and scored the touchdown himself on a 2-yard jaunt to open the scoring, 7-0.

James' squad parlayed a 62-yard Moon to Spider Gaines pass into a 30-yard field goal to extend the lead to 10-0 early in the second quarter. Washington came right back on its next possession to finish the first-half scoring with a 60-yard drive and another Moon touchdown run-this time from 1-yard out.

Washington outgained the Wolverines by a wide margin of 246 total yards to 111 as the first-half gun went off. The Huskies conveyed thoughts of a rout when Moon threw a 28-yard touchdown strike early in the third quarter to his favorite target, Gaines. The 24-0 bulge seemed insurmountable with just 5:21 remaining in the third quarter.

That lead was short-lived, however, as the Wolverines struck back in just two plays. Left-handed Michigan quarterback Rick Leach gunned a 76-yard bomb to Curt Stephenson to put the Wolverines on the board, just 50 seconds after Washington constructed its largest lead.

Washington lit up the scoreboard for the final time when Steve Robbins hit a 28-yard three-pointer. The field goal widened the Pac-8 champions' lead to 27-7 with just 0:50 remaining in the third period.

Michigan wasn't about to be embarrassed as the Wolverines marched 78 yards on 11 plays to open the fourth quarter, culminating the drive with a 2-yard Russell Davis dive for six points. Gregg Willner added the PAT and Michigan was back in business, closing the gap to 27-14. As Washington's game turned conservative, Michigan again scored on a Leach pass to Stanley Edwards. However, the momentum swung back Washington's way on the next play as Willner missed the conversion on a bad snap and the Washington lead remained seven points at 27-20.

The game turned into a defensive battle in the final minutes as Washington intercepted two Leach passes, including a Michael Jackson pickoff at Washington's own 3-yard line with just over a minute remaining. Cornerback Nesby Glasgow ended the Pasadena Classic with another interception as time ran out on Michigan.

Sun Bowl

December 22, 1979

Washington 14, Texas 7

Sixth-ranked Texas and 13th-ranked Washington, 9-2 going into the bowl, squared off in the 45th annual Sun Bowl with the Longhorns tabbed as seven-point favorites, but the Huskies picked up their second bowl victory in three years thanks to an opportunistic offense and a hard-hitting defense that continually made the big play.

The turning point of the game may have come as early as the first quarter when Texas drove the length of the field on its first possession to set up a first-and-goal at the Husky 9. Three running plays made it fourth-and-goal at the 1-yard line, and then Texas quarterback Donnie Little ran an option right only to have Husky strong safety Greg Grimes drop him for a 1-yard loss.

The Husky defense made another big play eight downs later when Jim Pence forced a Texas fumble and Stafford Mays recovered on the Longhorn 42. Moments later, on third-and-11 from the Texas 18, Tom Flick found Paul Skansi in the right corner of the end zone for a 7-0 lead.

Washington was back in business two plays later when Mark Lee disrupted an option pitch and Grimes recovered the loose ball on the Texas 23. Husky freshman tailback Willis Ray Mackey, making a homecoming to the state where he played his prep football, carried four times and got the game-winner with a 4-yard slash up the middle.

Texas, too, capitalized on a big defensive play to score its only points. Flick was hit while trying to pass and the Longhorns recovered on the Husky 44. Eleven plays later, Little found running back Brad Beck in the end zone for the score.

The second half was a bitter defensive struggle and the game finally came down to Texas' final possession at the Husky 44 with 3:01 left. The Longhorns managed one first down to the UW 32 before feeling the fury of the Washington pass rush on four straight downs. When the final blitz was over, Texas had been shoved all the way back to its own 48 and the Huskies celebrated their Sun Bowl title.

Rose Bowl

January 1, 1981

Michigan 23, Washington 6

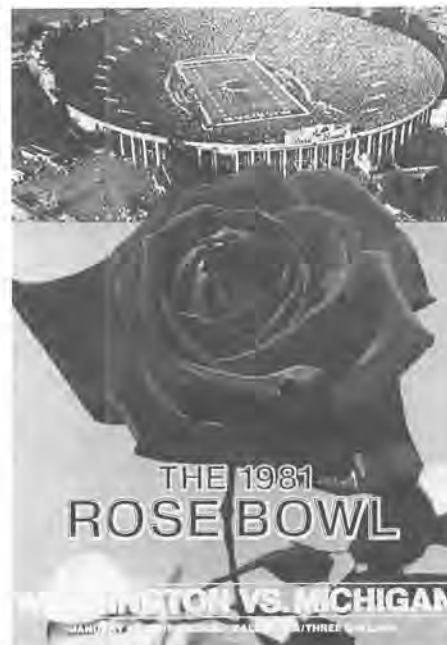

Washington, finishing the regular season with a 9-2 record and ranked 16th nationally in both polls, met Big Ten champion Michigan, the 5th-ranked team in the country, in the Rose Bowl under circumstances reminiscent of their 1978 meeting at the same venue. The Huskies again entered the Pasadena Classic as decided underdogs, but this time could not pull off the upset. Rather than the drama of the 27-20 victory over Michigan just three years earlier, Washington suffered a disappointing 23-6 defeat despite outplaying the winners for the first half.

The Huskies came out impressive, but there was a sense that nothing would go their way. On the third play of the game, Tom Flick found Aaron Williams over the middle, but only after the ball was tipped into his hands. The play went for 52 yards, but was called back due to offensive pass interference.

On Washington's second possession, Flick marched the club 63 yards to just inside the Wolverine 1-yard line. But on fourth-and-one from point-blank range, Toussaint Tyler was stopped for no gain. Although one official prematurely signalled a touchdown, he was overruled by the linesman.

The Huskies again appeared to have scored a touchdown when center Mike Reilly snared Kyle Stevens' mid-air fumble midway through the second period, and ran it into the end zone, but the play was ruled dead.

While Washington was outplaying its rival—the Huskies led in total offense 269-133—Michigan led 7-6 going into the locker room at half. The second half was a different story, i.e., all Michigan. The Huskies were held to just 10 third-quarter plays while Michigan scored 16 second-half points.

Rose Bowl January 1, 1982 Washington 28, Iowa 0

Washington, 9-2 in regular-season play, entered the 1982 Rose Bowl in a familiar position-as underdogs. For the fourth time in four postseason appearances, the Huskies' bowl opponent was rated the favorite and for the third time, Don James' club ignored the odds. Washington recorded the first Rose Bowl shutout in 28 years, a 28-0 whitewash of Big Ten champion Iowa.

The two clubs battled to a scoreless tie after one quarter, although Washington did get inside the Hawkeye 30-yard line twice thanks to the Husky kicking game. First cornerback Ray Horton returned an Iowa punt 48 yards to the Iowa 29, then punter Jeff Partridge was roughed in the act to keep another drive going until it stalled at the Hawkeye 28.

Eventual Rose Bowl MVP Jacques Robinson broke the scoring ice early in the second period, bulging over from 1-yard out to cap a 65-yard drive. Robinson romped for 34 yards on seven carries during the drive. Washington upped its lead to 13-0 just 0:19 before the half when fullback Vince Coby smashed over from a yard out to climax a 60-yard march.

Iowa made its deepest penetration in the third period-to the Husky 29-but was stymied by a Ken Driscoll interception. Robinson took over again in the final stanza, gaining 66 yards on three carries, including the final 34 yards on a nifty run up the right side, to cap a 69-yard drive that put the Huskies ahead 21-0. The UW onslaught ended with quarterback Tim Cowan's 3-yard reverse with 7:13 to go.

Washington took advantage of two Iowa fumbles and picked off three Hawkeye passes to turn the tide in its favor. Robinson gained 142 net yards on just 20 carries to pace the ground game, and quarterback Steve Pelluer completed 15-of-29 passes for another 142 yards.

Inside linebackers Mark Jerue (13) and Ken Driscoll (11) led the stop troops. Driscoll and defensive backs Vince Newsome and Derek Harvey each grabbed an enemy pass.

Aloha Bowl

December 25, 1982

Washington 21, Maryland 20

Tim Cowan's brilliant passing performance (33-53-0-350) brought Washington back from a 20-14 deficit for a 21-20 victory over Maryland in the inaugural Aloha Bowl on Christmas Day in Honolulu. The victory enabled Washington to finish 10-2 and be ranked No. 7 in both wire service polls.

Washington went 80 yards in 12 plays after the opening kickoff and took a 7-0 lead on Cowan's 27-yard pass to Anthony Allen. Cowan accounted for 66 of those yards on six completions in seven attempts. Maryland came right back to narrow the margin to 7-6 going just 19 yards after recovering a Sterling Hinds' fumble. The conversion failed. The Huskies struck with a bang just 6:00 before halftime when Cowan hit Allen all alone on the left sideline and Allen sprinted 71 yards for the score.

Maryland came back to score after the second-half kickoff as it moved 77 yards on six plays with the score coming on a 36-yard pass from Boomer Esiason to tight end John Tice. The conversion run failed and Washington held on to a 14-12 lead. Maryland put together a time-consuming (8:46) drive that spanned the third and fourth quarters to go ahead on a short run coming on the 16th play of the drive. Esiason found Tice for the two-point conversion and the Terrapins a 20-14 lead with nearly 11 minutes left.

The Terps had a great chance to put the game away after a Husky pass on fourth down went awry and Maryland took over on the Husky 19. A Terp field goal of 32 yards didn't find the mark, however, and Washington took over at the 20 with 3:49 left. The final drive was all Cowan as the senior quarterback either ran or passed the ball on 15-of-16 plays in marching the Huskies down the field.

Twice Cowan ran for first downs on fourth-down situations and found Allen for a first down on yet another fourth-down call. With third down on the Maryland 11 with 0:12 left, Cowan looked into the left corner of the end zone and found Allen free for the tying touchdown. Nelson's extra point gave Washington the 21-20 victory. Cowan's 33 completions and 363 yards in total offense were both UW historical bests (bowl games not officially included in Husky records) and his 350-yard passing performance had been bettered only three times. Allen also had an exceptional game with eight catches for 152 yards.

Cowan was voted offensive MVP while Husky linebacker Tony Caldwell was named defensive MVP.

Aloha Bowl

Penn State 13, Washington 10

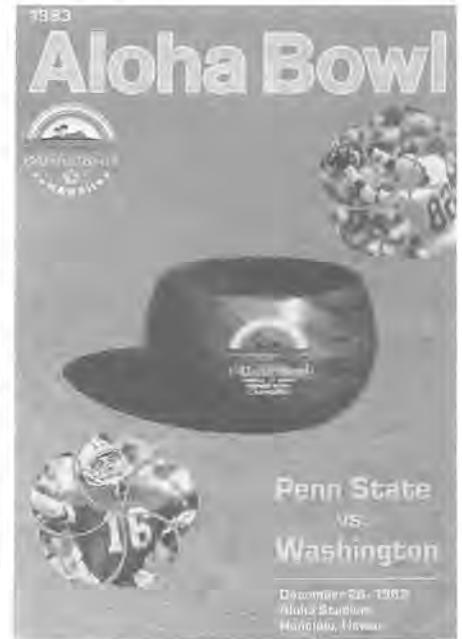

Washington, 8-3 going into the postseason bowl, failed to make a 10-3 lead hold up as the Huskies gave up 10 points in the fourth quarter to lose 13-10 to Penn State in the second annual Aloha Bowl.

Penn State hit the scoreboard first when it moved 49 yards on its first possession to the Husky seven. The Huskies held PSU without a yard on three straight plays and the Nittany Lions settled for a 23-yard field goal and a 3-0 lead.

Washington took the lead early in the second quarter when the Husky defense had Penn State backed up with a fourth-and-11 on their own 19. The Lions punted to Danny Greene who took the ball on the Husky 43 and went 57 yards for a touchdown. The Huskies increased their lead to 10-3 late in the second panel when a 10-play, 65-yard drive culminated in a 39-yard Jeff Jaeger field goal.

The Lions began their comeback late in the third quarter when they took advantage of a 19-yard Husky punt to begin operations on the Husky 48. A key sack by Fred Small forced Penn State to try a field goal, which it converted from 49 yards, and the Lions cut the margin to 10-6. Penn State made another big play in the kicking game to set up its game-winning score. After pushing Washington back to its own 6-yard line with a punt of its own, Penn State forced the Huskies to punt. The Lions ran a reverse on the return to set up shop at their own 49-yard line. The Lions went 51 yards in nine plays, including two big third-down plays by quarterback Doug Strang, to score on a 2-yard run with three minutes left.

Orange Bowl

January 1, 1985

Washington 28, Oklahoma 17

Fourth-ranked Washington, 10-1 before the bowl, staked a claim to the national championship with a 28-17 come-from-behind victory over No. 2 Oklahoma. The Huskies made their sixth straight bowl appearance a monumental one, becoming the first Pac-10 team to compete in, and win, the Orange Bowl on a record-setting day in which three Pac-10 teams captured bowl victories (UCLA, Fiesta; USC, Rose).

A Miami throng of 56,294 witnessed Husky quarterback Hugh Millen come off the bench in relief of Paul Sicuro to lead Washington to a pair of touchdowns in a 1:04 span late in the ball game to secure the win.

The Huskies jumped to a quick 7-0 advantage in the first quarter when Sicuro found Danny Greene wide open in the end zone for a 29-yard score.

Seniortailback Jacque Robinson, named the game's Most Valuable Back (the only player in history named MVP of both the Orange and Rose Bowls), produced Washington's second score. Robinson rushed six times for 26 of his game-high 135 yards (28 carries) in the drive, which culminated with his 1-yard scoring run.

The Sooners rallied in the second stanza following a Husky turnover. Oklahoma tied the contest on the final play of the half with a lightning-quick scoring strike from quarterback Danny Bradley to split end Derrick Shepard covering 61 yards.

The Sooners took their first lead of the contest on a 35-yard Tim Lasher field goal with 8:45 left at 17-14.

On the next possession, Millen lobbed a critical third-and-nine completion to Green from his own 27, which covered 29 yards. Four downs later, Millen lofted a touch pass to senior split end Mark Pattison on the extreme left edge of the end zone, making the tally 21-17 in favor of the Huskies with 5:42 left.

A Joe Kelly interception led to a Rick Fenney 6-yard touchdown, sealing the win for Don James and his Huskies. The New Year's Day victory improved Washington's all-time bowl record to 8-6-1.

Freedom Bowl December 30, 1985 Washington 20, Colorado 17

Sophomore quarterback Chris Chandler passed for 141 yards and ran for 72 more in leading Washington to a 20-17 victory over Colorado in the second annual Freedom Bowl in Anaheim. The win boosted Washington's overall bowl record to 9-6-1, and a 6-2 record in bowls under Don James. The Freedom Bowl was Washington's seventh straight postseason bowl appearance, and eighth in nine years.

The Huskies, 6-5 heading into the game, jumped off to a 3-0 lead late in the first quarter when placekicker Jeff Jaeger capped a 57-yard drive with a 30-yard field goal. Vince Weathersby had runs of 10 and 18 yards in the drive, and also took a shovel pass from Chandler for 17 more. Chandler ran 22 yards on an option play to get the ball in scoring territory.

Colorado used a 28-yard punt return midway through the second quarter to set up its first score. It took the Buffs nine plays to travel 26 yards. Anthony Weatherspoon got the touchdown on a 1-yard blast and Colorado took a 7-3 lead. Washington came back to move 80 yards and regain the lead. Chandler passed for 50 of the 80 yards and David Toy finally got the score on a 3-yard run with only 0:30 left before intermission. Jaeger's PAT made it 10-7 Huskies.

A Colorado field goal early in the third quarter tied the game at 10-10, but again Washington responded to regain the lead. A 36-yard kickoff return by David Trimble gave the Huskies excellent field position on their own 47. Chandler's 15-yard option keeper followed by a 14-yard pitch to Rod Jones were key plays in the drive. Weathersby got 12 yards on a draw play to the Colorado 5, and then Tony Covington ran twice and got the score on a 1-yard dive. Washington led 17-10.

Washington increased its lead to 20-10 on its next possession as the Huskies moved 67 yards on 11 plays. Chandler passes to Lonzell Hill, Covington and Toy accounted for 36 yards and Chandler added 19 more on another option run. With fourth-and-one at the Colorado 1-yard line, Washington opted for a sure three points on Jaeger's second field goal.

Colorado made things interesting midway through the fourth quarter when holder

Barry Helton passed 31 yards to Jon Embree for a touchdown on a fake field goal as the Buffs cut Washington's lead to 20-17. Colorado got the ball right back and marched to the Husky 7 but Joe Kelly forced a fumble and David Rill recovered to preserve the win.

Chandler, starting only his third game at quarterback, was voted the game's MVP.

Sun Bowl

December 25, 1986

Alabama 28, Washington 6

A close game at the intermission (7-6) turned into a nightmare for the Huskies, 8-2-1 entering the bowl, in the second half as the Alabama Crimson Tide rolled up 21 unanswered points to record a 28-6 victory over Washington in the 53rd John Hancock Sun Bowl in El Paso, Texas.

Alabama got on the board first when sophomore running back Bobby Humphrey broke loose on a sweep to the right side of the line and scampered 64 yards for a touchdown with 14:10 remaining in the second quarter.

Washington got to within one point with a pair of Jeff Jaeger field goals. That would be the closest the Huskies would get the rest of the day. It was also the lowest post season scoring output for the UW since the 1981 Rose Bowl (a 23-6 loss to Michigan).

'Bama quarterback Mike Shula got the Tide's air game into gear with a pair of touchdown passes, 32 yards to Al Richardson and 18 yards to Humphrey. On the day, Shula was 15-26 for 176 yards and no interceptions. The talented Humphrey ramblled for 159 yards on 28 carries (5.7 yards per carry).

The potent Husky attack was limited to just 102 yards rushing while quarterback Chris Chandler exploited the Alabama secondary for 199 yards on 20-of-43 pass attempts. One of the big reasons the Husky backfield saw Crimson all day was due to the presence of All-America linebacker Cornelius Bennett, voted the game's Most Valuable Player, led Alabama with 11 tackles and harassed Chandler the entire day.

Washington's two-game bowl win streak was ended. However, the Huskies did tie USC's Pac-10 mark for consecutive bowl appearances (eight). The Huskies ended the season ranked 17th by the UPI, 18th by AP and 19th by USA Today/CCN.

Independence Bowl December 19, 1987 Washington 24, Tulane 12

Washington extended its post season record under head coach Don James to 7-3 with its 24-12 victory over Tulane in the Independence Bowl, played before 41,683 fans in Shreveport's Independence Stadium. It was Washington's third win in its last four bowl appearances.

Taking a 6-4-1 record into the game, the Husky defense kept the Tulane Green Wave from scoring a touchdown while Washington quarterback Chris Chandler was named the Independence Bowl's Offensive Player of the Game, passing for 234 yards and two touchdowns.

Led by 12 tackles from linebacker David Rill, the Washington defense held college football's 11th-best scoring team 20 points below its season average. Green Wave quarterback Terrence Jones completed 17-of-40 passes for 248 yards, and was intercepted once and sacked three times.

Rover Darryl Hall picked off an errant Jones pass on the Wave's first series to set up Washington's first touchdown -- a 3-yard run by tailback Tony Covington culminating a 61-yard, 10-play drive completed with 7:43 to play in the first period.

Tulane scored 10 second-quarter points on a 44-yard punt return by Mitchell Price and a 21-yard field goal by placekicker Todd Wiggins. The Green Wave's only other points came on a safety with seven seconds left in the game.

Washington did its share of second-quarter scoring, adding 14 points to its 7-0 first-quarter lead. Both of Chandler's second-quarter touchdowns were 5-yard pass completions, with the first going to tight end Bill Ames and the second to split end Darryl Franklin, sandwiching Wiggins' field goal. Washington placekicker Brandy Brownlee was responsible for the three point-after successes, but missed the one field goal he attempted from the 40-yard line early in the third quarter.

Freedom Bowl

December 30, 1989

Washington 34, Florida 7

The Huskies claimed their fourth win in their last five bowl appearances with a dominating 34-7 shellacking of the University of Florida Gators in front of 33,858 fans in Anaheim. The victory improved coach Don James' bowl record at Washington to 8-3.

Washington, 7-4 coming into the bowl, finished the 1989 season by winning six of its final seven games, including the Freedom Bowl.

Quarterback Cary Conklin, voted the game's Most Valuable Player, capped his record-setting Husky career in fine style, completing 21-of-39 passes for 217 yards. The Huskies' defense held Florida All-American running back Emmitt Smith to just 17 yards, negating any chance of a Florida victory. Husky running back Greg Lewis gained 97 yards on 27 carries.

Washington returned the opening kickoff 31 yards to the 36-yard line and had 15 more tacked on by a Florida clipping penalty, allowing the Dawgs to start their initial drive from the Gator 49. Conklin hit split end Mario Bailey with a 21-yard touchdown pass and, following John McCallum's PAT, the Huskies had an immediate 7-0 lead.

Florida answered quickly, as the quarterback Donald Douglas went around left end for a 67-yard touchdown on Florida's second offensive play of the game. From then on it was all Washington. Florida gained just 16 more yards on the ground the remainder of the day, finishing with a total of 83.

Washington scored on its next three offensive possessions and added a blocked punt for a touchdown to take a 27-7 lead into the intermission.

McCallum started the scoring explosion when he kicked a 21-yard field goal for a 10-7 lead. The defense stopped Florida, and Washington drove for another score, with Conklin passing 10 yards to Andre Riley for the touchdown.

Channing Wyles punted to the Gator 1-yard line to set up the next Husky score. Florida ran Smith into the line twice for a gain of 1, and then threw an incomplete pass. Faced with a fourth-and-nine on their own 2, the Gators' Hank Rone attempted a punt. Chico Fraley stormed into block the kick and Jaime Fields recovered it in the end zone for the score. McCallum's extra point made it 24-7 and forced Florida away from its running game for good.

McCallum kicked one more field goal with just 18 seconds left in the half to bring Washington's point total to 27. For the half, Washington notched 18 first downs to only three for Florida, and controlled the ball for almost 24 minutes. (23:47)

Rose Bowl January 1, 1991 Washington 46, Iowa 34

Husky sophomore Mark Brunell passed for a pair of touchdowns and ran for two more to lead Pac-10 Champion Washington to a convincing 46-34 win over Iowa. Washington and Iowa combined for 80 points, making the 77th Rose Bowl the highest scoring in history. The opportunistic Huskies built a 33-7 halftime lead, with two first-half touchdowns coming courtesy of the UW defense.

The Pasadena victory left Washington 10-2 for the season, while Iowa dropped to 8-4. The game marked Washington's 12th bowl appearance in the 16-year coaching reign of Don James, who improved his bowl record to 9-3, including 3-1 in the Rose Bowl.

Left-handed Brunell's running and passing skills earned him Rose Bowl MVP honors as he completed 14 of 22 passes for 163 yards. Washington faithful also rejoiced in the return of senior All-America running back Greg Lewis, who spent the month prior to the Rose Bowl rehabilitating an injured knee. Lewis hadn't lost a step, however, as he rushed for a game-high 128 yards on 19 carries.

Washington's defense, ranked first in the nation in stopping the run, allowed Iowa just 139 net yards on the ground, recorded five sacks and forced five turnovers (four interceptions) in the game. Iowa also became the sixth team in 1990-91 to surrender more than 40 points to the high-scoring Huskies. The strong tradition of Don James' special teams surfaced early in this game when red-shirt freshman Andy Mason blocked an Iowa punt that was scooped up by junior cornerback Dana Hall, who sprinted for a touchdown. With less than five minutes elapsed, Washington led 10-0. After Iowa closed to 10-7 with 12:39 left in the half, Washington erupted for 23 consecutive points.

A 38-yard Travis Hanson field goal, and a 37-yard interception return by senior cornerback Charles Mincy gave Washington momentum. Two touchdowns generated by Brunell, on a 5-yard run and a 22-yard pass to Mario Bailey, gave the Huskies their nearly insurmountable 33-7 lead at intermission.

Iowa threw a scare into the Huskies as Hawkeye quarterback Matt Rodgers rallied his team for 27 second-half points. Iowa fullback Nick Bell's 20-yard touchdown run with 5:07 to play pulled the Hawkeyes within 13 at 39-26. But Brunell put out the fire on the next possession with a 31-yard scoring completion to Bailey. A late Iowa score made the score 46-34 as Washington held on to claim the Pac-10's second consecutive Rose Bowl win and eighth in the past 10 years.

Rose Bowl

January 1, 1992

Washington 34, Michigan 14

The Huskies' dominating defense overwhelmed Michigan's high-powered attack and Heisman Trophy winner Desmond Howard while Washington quarterback Billy Joe Hobert sparked the UW offense by scoring on a two-yard run for the first of Washington's 34 points and throwing for two other touchdowns.

Hobert, who would share Rose Bowl Most Valuable Player honors with defensive tackle Steve Emtman, completed 18 of 34 passes for 192 yards. His touchdown passes went to freshman tight end Mark Bruener in the third quarter to give Washington a 14-point cushion, 21-7, and to senior tight end Aaron Pierce in the fourth quarter for a 27-7 Husky advantage. The five-yard completion from Hobert to Bruener was the freshman's first career touchdown.

The win in Pasadena catapulted Washington to its first-ever collegiate football National Championship, as the USA Today/CNN coaches poll awarded its No. 1 ranking to the Huskies. Miami was ranked No. 1 in the Associated Press poll following the Hurricanes' 22-0 shutout of Nebraska in the Orange Bowl, so the two 12-0 teams shared the national title.

The game marked Washington's 13th bowl appearance in the 17-year coaching reign of Don James, who improved his record in bowl games to 10-3, including 4-1 in the Rose Bowl. The 12-0 record was the Huskies' first perfect season since 1915 when Gil Dobie led the UW to a 7-0 mark.

Backup quarterback Mark Brunell, who was the 1991 Rose Bowl MVP, came off the bench and completed seven of eight passes for 89 yards and a touchdown. His 38-yard scoring pass went to senior Mario Bailey.

Husky placekicker Travis Hanson scored two second-quarter field goals, from 23 and 24 yards, providing Washington a 13-7 lead at the half.

Emtman, who would be the No. 1 player drafted by the National Football League following his junior season, joined with his defensive companions to fluster the Wolverines' offensive efforts at every turn. The Huskies had six sacks on the Michigan quarterbacks. Linebacker Donald Jones flashed around the outside for three sacks and defensive end Andy Mason secured two of his six tackles in the Wolverine backfield. In fact, Wolverine starting quarterback Elvis Grbac finished the game with six carries for -42 yards. Cornerbacks Dana Hall and Walter Bailey held Howard to one catch, a 35-yard grab in Michigan's first possession of the second quarter.

1993 Rose Bowl January 1, 1993 Michigan 38, Washington 31

The ninth-ranked Huskies attempted to make history by winning their third straight Rose Bowl, but instead suffered a 38-31 defeat at the hands of seventh-ranked Michigan.

Washington led 24-21 at halftime but could not control Michigan tailback Tyrone Wheatley, who ran for 235 yards on just 15 carries, including touchdown runs of 88, 56 and 24 yards.

Michigan grabbed an early 3-0 lead on its first drive with a 41-yard Peter Elezovic field goal.

Washington answered with a one-yard touchdown run by Darius Turner, capping a nine-play, 80 yard drive to go ahead 7-3. The key play of the drive was a 35-yard pass from senior quarterback Mark Brunell to tight end Mark Bruener across the middle, setting the Huskies up at the Michigan one-yard line.

The see-saw first half continued with Michigan taking a 17-7 lead before the Huskies pulled to within three on a 64-yard touchdown pass from Brunell to freshman Jason Shelley. Shelley, who would finish his first Rose Bowl with three receptions for 100 yards, made the over-the-shoulder grab at the Michigan three-yard line and just cleared the plane of the goal line before having the ball knocked loose on a hit by Corwin Brown. Brunell's hot passing continued on Washington's next possession when he again connected with Bruener, this time in the corner of the end zone to put the Huskies ahead 21-17 at halftime.

Wheatley broke free again on the first play of the second half, bursting through the middle of the Husky line and racing 88 yards for a touchdown, putting the Wolverines back on top 24-21.

Husky sophomore Napoleon Kaufman, who was held to 39 yards rushing on 20 carries, gave the Huskies a boost on special teams when he answered the Wheatley touchdown run by returning the ensuing kickoff 47 yards to the Michigan 46-yard line. Fittingly he would cap the drive seven plays later with a dive over the top for a touchdown and a 28-24 lead.

Washington added to the lead on its next possession when Travis Hanson converted a 44-yard field goal for a 31-24 Husky lead. With the field goal, Hanson extended his career Rose Bowl record to five.

Despite the high-scoring offense, the Husky defense could not contain the Wolverine's rushing attack and surrendered the lead once again. Two possessions later Michigan took advantage of a Kaufman fumble at the Washington 24-yard line as Wheatley scored on the first play, tying the game at 31.

Michigan then scored the only points of the fourth quarter when Wolverine quarterback Elvis Grbac threw 15 yards to tight end Tony McGee for the eventual game-winning touchdown with 5:29 remaining.

Washington had two more possessions and drove as far as the Michigan 26-yard line but failed to convert and turned the ball over on downs each time.

The loss spoiled what was perhaps Brunell's finest performance in a Husky uniform. The senior quarterback completed 18-of-30 passes for 308 yards and two touchdowns.

The Rose Bowl

At the end of the 1901 season, Michigan was prevailed upon to play Stanford in an "East-West" game at Pasadena's Tournament Park. The contest took place on January 1, 1902, with Michigan winning by a score of 49-0. Following this, the game was discontinued until the first day of 1916 when Washington State defeated Brown University, 14-0.

The contest continued to be known as the "East-West" game until the 1923 game was played at the newly-constructed Rose Bowl. The University of Southern California defeated Penn State in that game, 14-3.

The original Tournament Park (in 1902) held about 10,000 fans, although only 8,500 attended the Stanford-Michigan contest. Prior to the 1917 game, the seating capacity was increased to 30,000.

The new Rose Bowl originally was a horseshoe affair running north and south with the opening at the south end. It seated 56,000. The capacity was then progressively increased in 1929 to 66,000; in 1932 to 83,677; and in 1938 to 90,000. Another increase in capacity took place during the year 1949, with the funds being raised by public subscription. The 1950 Rose Bowl game set a record of 100,983 fans.

The present Rose Bowl was actually dedicated on October 28, 1922, with a football game between the University of California and the University of Southern California before a crowd of 35,000. California won the game, 12-0.

Prior to 1935 the Western team in the game was invited by the Tournament of Roses Association.

The Tournament also selected the Eastern team until 1923. From 1923 through 1946 the Western team selected its Eastern opponent. From 1946 until 1959 the old Pacific Coast Conference and the Big Ten selected representatives.

Under a new agreement, starting with the 1960 game, the Pacific-10 selected a representative from among its conference members. The conference also selected its opponent for the 1961 and 1962 games. Following 1962 a new contract was signed with the Big Ten for it to provide the Pac-10's opponent.

The Pacific-10 leads the Big Ten 25-22 since the series began in 1947. The Pac-10 has won 15 of the last 20 and 20 of the last 24 meetings.

Rose Bowl Selection Formula

The Pacific-10 Rose Bowl representative shall be that member's team with the best record in the loss and tie columns (a tie being counted as one-half loss) in all conference games. If, however, the lowest loss-tie totals of two or more members are identical, determination of the Rose Bowl representative shall be as follows:

A. Two-Team Tie — If the tied teams played one another, the winner of their game shall be the representative. If they tied or did not play one another if either team is ranked first or second in the nation in the Associated Press, the USA Today/CNN American Football Coaches Association, or the UPI/Football Foundation Poll (must be first or second in two of the three polls) which immediately follow the final regular-season game played by the Conference's member, then it shall be the Rose Bowl representative. If they tied or did not play and are not so ranked the following formula shall be used:

1. Count 4 points for a conference win.
2. Count 3 points for a non-conference win against a Division IA team.
3. Count 2 points for a non-conference win against a non-Division IA team.
4. Count 2 points for a conference tie.
5. Count 1-1/2 points for a non-conference tie against a Division IA team.
6. Count 1 point for a non-conference tie against a non-Division IA team.

The team with highest point total for all games shall be the Rose Bowl representative.

If a tie remains, the last team appearing in the Rose Bowl shall be eliminated. If neither team has appeared in the Rose Bowl, the determination shall be made by vote of the conference's Men's Administration Committee.

B. Multiple Ties — When three or more teams are tied in the loss-tie column in conference play, if one team has defeated all the others, it shall be the Rose Bowl representative. If that is not the case, and one of the teams is ranked first or second in the nation in the Associated Press, the USA Today/CNN American Football Coaches Association, or the UPI/Football Foundation Poll (must be first or second in two of the three polls) which immediately follow the final regular-season game played by the Conference's member, then it shall be the Rose Bowl representative. If that is not the case, a team defeated by all other tied teams shall be eliminated. If one team has not defeated the others, the point formula above shall be computed. Only the top two teams on the point system shall thereafter be considered. If a tie for the second position occurs upon application of the point formula, the second team shall be the winner of the game between the tied teams, or, if the teams did not play each other or played a tie game, the team which has not played in the Rose Bowl for the longest period of time shall be the second team.

If the remaining two teams played one another, the winner shall be the representative. If they tied or did not play one another, the team with the highest point total for all games shall be the Rose Bowl representative as in paragraph "A" above. If a tie remains, the team most recently appearing in the Rose Bowl shall be eliminated. If neither team has appeared in the Rose Bowl, determination shall be made by a vote of the conference's Men's Administration Committee.

C. Ineligible teams — Teams ineligible to participate in the Rose Bowl shall not be included in the tie-breaking formula.

D. Games in Hawaii and Alaska — Games in Hawaii or Alaska shall not be included in the point system if they are "12th games" permitted under NCAA legislation.

E. Kickoff Classic — Participation in the Kickoff Classic shall not be counted in the point system.

Husky Stadium

Annually voted the most scenic football structure in the nation, Husky Stadium has proven to be a monstrous opponent for visitors hoping to pin a loss on Washington's gridiron heroes.

Nestled high above Portage Bay in Lake Washington, Husky Stadium has several characteristics that make it unique among stadia.

- A seating capacity of 72,500 allows Husky Stadium to rank as the nation's 15th largest on-campus facility. It is the largest stadium, college or professional, in the Pacific Northwest.

- With nearly 70 percent of the seats located between the endzones, Husky Stadium can be one of the loudest stadiums in the nation. During the 1992 Nebraska contest — the first night game in Husky Stadium history — ESPN sideline crews measured the crowd noise at 130 decibels.

- Tailgating takes on a whole new meaning at Husky Stadium. Boat moorings are available for fans to travel to Washington game via the water. Members of the Husky crew team shuttle fans back-and-forth between their vessels and the docks adjoining the stadium grounds.

- The north upper deck offers sweeping views of Mt. Rainier, the Olympic Mountain Range and downtown Seattle.

- Washington brings a 13-game winning streak in Husky Stadium into the 1993 season. That's just two victories short of the all-time win streak in the facility set between 1981-83. The Huskies have won 70 percent of their home games in the stadium, posting an overall record of 284-123-20. Under Don James, the Huskies have posted an even more impressive 88-24-1 (.783) record in Husky Stadium.

Built in 1920 at a cost of $600,000, the stadium's initial capacity was listed at 30,000. The stadium was opened in the dedication game, November 27, 1920, when Dartmouth defeated Washington, 28-7. A student fund drive, in which students and businessmen sold plaques at $50 and $100 levels, provided the capital necessary to get the project off the ground.

Two members of the stadium committee were dispatched east to study an existing report on stadia. Their determination called for a seating capacity of 60,000 and be constructed in two units. One of the key factors in the layout of the stadium was "the establishment of the longitudinal axis." The goal was to "avoid as far as possible the glare of the sun in the stadium for the benefit of the players."

To accomplish this goal, the astronomical department figured the angle of the rays of the sun at 4 p.m., November 24, 1920. Based on those measurements, the axis of the stadium was approximately set at right angles to the rays which established the axis at 71 degrees 50 minutes west of north. The final components in figuring the stadium location were figuring the best views of the lake and mountains from the interior and working with the existing confines of the land.

Puget Sound Bridge and Dredging Company was contracted to build the structure. The original contract to begin construction was signed May 7, 1920 and called for work to be complete by November 27 for the Dartmouth game — a timetable of six months and 20 days. A unique method of excavation known as sluicing — in which earth is displaced by high pressure water — was used to clear the area. In all, 230,000 cubic yards of earth was moved using 687,000,000 gallons of water. The original crown on the playing field reached a height of 18 inches.

Plans for the stadium called for a four-lane track the structural drawings called for stands that would allow patrons to "view the entire running track without rising or having his view obstructed by the person sitting adjacent to him." The study resulted in an elliptical form being adopted.

A "sunken passage" was built to separate the fans from the field while also providing drainage for the field and facility. Drainage was a major concern of construction since it was calculated that one inch of rain fall on the structural portion of the stadium would accumulate 36,000 gallons of water.

The isles and seating patterns were planned so that the original capacity crowd of 30,000 could exit the stadium in seven minutes.

The stadium was completed on time despite 46 days of rain during the construction period. Final work was finished 12 hours before kickoff of the inaugural game.

The stadium experienced further growth in 1936 when 10,000 above-grade seats were added around the rim of the structure, upping capacity to 40,000.

In 1950, Husky Stadium was again expanded when roof-covered stands were added to the south side. Approximately 15,000 additional seats, at a cost of $1.7 million, offered excellent viewing between the goal posts.

A cantilevered steel roof partially covered all seats in the upper deck and approximately 6,000 seats in the lower stands. In the rear of the structure, two silo-shaped ramps provided access to the upper deck concourses.

The two-level press box and camera deck areas were also installed as part of the 1950 project. The view available for approximately 75 members of the press is 165 feet above the stadium floor. The south side elevator was also part of the '50 construction.

Stadium capacity jumped from 55,000 to more than 59,000 in 1968 when 3,000 seats were added to the north rim and portable bleachers were installed beyond the east end zone. Astroturf replaced the old grass field in 1968, the same year an all-weather track was installed around the football playing field. Washington was the first major college to install an Astroturf field. At the time, the Houston Astrodome was the only other facility to use the playing surface. Because of the lack of similar fields, the Huskies stocked over 200 pairs of shoes for opponents to use during games. The original artificial turf was replaced in 1972, 1977 and, mostly recently, in the summer of 1987.

In 1987, Husky Stadium expanded once again, adding 13,000 new seats. The $13 million project performed by Lydig Construction of Spokane brought the capacity to 72,500. The hallmark facet of the construction was a glass-enclosed reception area with a field view from goal line to goal line. Besides serving as an entertainment center on game days, the Tyee Center has the capabilities to host major banquets or social events.

During the summer of 1990, the wooden bleachers in the north upper deck were replaced with new aluminum seating. The same process was repeated for the south upper deck in the summer of 1992.

The north deck seats are accessible by ramp or elevator. Husky Stadium possesses 49,580 sideline seats, or 68 percent of total capacity.

In 1989, all major construction in Husky Stadium was concluded with the replacement of the west stands. The $3.7 million facelift gives Husky fans better seating, more concession stands and restrooms, a new first aid room, police security area and photo deck.

In preparation for the 1990 Goodwill Games, Husky Stadium became the beneficiary of a brand new eight-lane synthetic surface track in the summer of '89. The $1.5 million gift from the Seattle Organizing Committee provides athletes with a world-class facility. Husky Stadium hosted the track and field competition and the opening and closing ceremonies of the 1990 Goodwill Games.

The Breakdown

When the 1992 NFL opening day rosters were announced, there were 28 former Husky players in the league. Here's a look at the top 10 colleges represented in last year's opening day rosters:

Team	No. Players
1. USC	36
2. Notre Dame	35
3. UCLA	34
4. Miami	33
5. Washington	28
6. Tennessee	26
7. Auburn	25

Husky Hall of Fame

The University of Washington inaugurated a Hall of Fame in 1979 to "...honor and preserve the memory of those athletes, teams, coaches and members of the athletic staff who have contributed in a very outstanding and positive way to the promotion of the University of Washington athletic program."

Some 91 individuals and nine teams have been inducted to the Washington Hall of Fame in an annual special ceremony. This year's Hall of Fame induction is Friday, October 9, 1992.

Huskies vs. The Heisman Winners

Bruce Smith - 1941Minnesota 14, Washington 6

Smith accounted for both Minnesota touchdowns as the Golden Gophers outlasted Washington in Husky Stadium. Minnesota dominated the game, outgaining the Huskies 236 to 85, but did not put the game away until late. Smith's first touchdown came in the second quarter on a seven-yard touchdown run, followed later by a one-yard plunge to seal the game in the fourth quarter. Washington lone touchdown came on a 14-yard run by Ernie Steele, but the kick failed.

Leon Hart - 1949Notre Dame 27, Washington 7

Notre Dame ran its winning streak to 30 games with a 27-7 win at Husky Stadium in front of a record 41,510 fans. Washington scored first on a 45-yard touchdown pass from Don Heinrich to Roland Kirkby in the first quarter, but then watched the Fighting Irish rattle off 27 straight points for the win. Hart scored Notre Dame's first two touchdowns on a 27-yard second quarter touchdown catch and a 14-yard scoring run in the third quarter to put the Irish ahead 13-7 on the way to the victory.

Joe Bellino - 1960Navy 15, Washington 14

Washington limited Bellino to 53 yards on 14 carries but lost the game with 2:14 to play when Navy converted a 32-yard field goal attempt. Neither team put on much of an offensive show as third-ranked Washington outgained the 17th-ranked Midshipmen 193-69. Bellino scored the first Navy touchdown on a one-yard plunge in the first quarter, but the extra point was no good, as was the two-point conversion try on Navy's next touchdown, leaving Washington ahead 14-12. The Huskies had scored on a 31-yard pass from Bob Schloredt to Don McKeta and a three-yard run by Ray Jackson, setting the stage for the game-winning field goal.

Terry Baker - 1962Washington 14, Oregon State 13

Baker's all-around effort nearly lifted the Beavers to an upset of the the seventh-ranked Huskies, but a missed extra point allowed Washington to pull out a 14-13 victory. Baker, who passed for 144 yards and two touchdowns and ran for 85 yards, accounted for both Beaver touchdowns as he connected with Vern Burke on six- and 10-yard scoring plays. Husky running back Junior Coffey racked up 113 yards, including a 43-yard touchdown run to tie the score at 7-7 in the second quarter. Later, with Oregon State leading 13-7 after the failed extra point, Coffey helped lead the Huskies downfield on the game-winning scoring drive, capped off by a Charlie Mitchell touchdown run. Baker rounded out his performance by punting seven times for 271 yards.

Mike Garrett - 1965Southern California 34, Washington 0

The eighth-ranked Trojans rolled over Washington as 34-0 as Garrett gained a total of 175 yards on 31 carries. Washington managed just 130 in total offense, and crossed the 50-yard line on only two occasions. Trojan quarterback Troy Winslow complete all 11 passes he threw, for 105 yards as he and Garrett led USC to 445 total yards against the unranked Huskies.

Gary Beban - 1967UCLA 48, Washington 0

Beban has one of his finest outings ever as the fourth-ranked Bruins dominated Washington from start to finish. Beban passed for three touchdowns and ran for another in leading the Bruins to a 41-0 halftime lead. He threw 36 yards to Dave Nuttall for UCLA's fifth touchdown and then completed the first half scoring spree with a 42 yard touchdown pass to Harold Busby. The Bruins outgained the Huskies 500-84 in total offense, as Beban completed 14-of-22 passes for 289 yards. Washington completed just 4-of-15 passes for 40 yards.

O.J. Simpson - 1968Southern California 14, Washington 7

The top-ranked Trojans, led by Simpson, narrowly avoided a major upset in Los Angeles at the hands of unranked Washington before escaping with a 14-7 win. Simpson scored the game's first touchdown on a one-yard dive in the first quarter, on his way to a 173 yard, 33-carry performance. Washington tied the game in the third quarter when Buddy Kennamer scored from eight yards out, but missed two later opportunities as the Trojans tacked on another touchdown for the win. With the score tied 7-7, the Huskies took over at the USC 20 after a Simpson fumble and drove to the the one-yard where they failed to convert a fourth-and-one play. Two plays later Simpson was nearly tackled for a safety but broke free and led the Rose Bowl-bound Trojans on the game-winning touchdown drive which he capped with a nine-yard scoring scamper. Washington responded by driving to the USC seven-yard line but fumbled the ball away.

Jim Plunkett - 1970Stanford 29, Washington 22

Plunkett made a strong statement to Heisman voters by setting an NCAA record for career passing yardage, throwing for 268 yards and four touchdowns to bring his career total to 7,088 yard. Plunkett surpassed the old mark of 7,076 set by Steve Ramsay of North Texas State as he led the Cardinal to a 29-22 triumph in a seesaw battle at Stanford Stadium. Washington took an early 7-0 lead when Jim Krieg returned the opening kickoff 95 yards for a touchdown. Stanford then came back with three straight Plunkett touchdown passes in the first quarter to go ahead 21-7 before Washington quarterback Sonny Sixkiller brought the Huskies back, running for one touchdown, passing for another and completing a two-point conversion pass for a 22-21 lead. But the Heisman-bound Plunkett brought his team back in the fourth quarter with a touchdown and two-point conversion to seal the win for the sixth-ranked Cardinal and vault them into the Rose Bowl for the first time since 1952.

Charles White - 1979Southern California 24, Washington 17

White showed his true Heisman form by marching all over the Huskies for 243 yards on 38 carries as the second-ranked Trojans pulled out a 24-17 win on their way to the Rose Bowl. Washington, which entered the game ranked 16th, staged a late rally to tie the game at 17 on a one-yard run by Tom Flick and a 12-yard touchdown pass from Flick to Paul Skansi. Flick finished with 245 yards on 18-for-28 passing. White led the Trojans to their final touchdown nearly single-handedly before Marcus Allen covered the final 10 yards for the score and the victory in one of the most exciting games ever played in Husky Stadium. Washington then drove to the Trojan two-yard line after a Mark Lee 40-yard punt return but could not score.

Washington 13, Southern California 3

Allen may have won the battle, pounding out 155 yards on 38 carries, but the unranked Huskies won the war by upsetting the third-ranked Trojans, keeping themselves in contention for a Rose Bowl berth. USC took a 3-0 lead in the second quarter but did not score again while Washington tallied 13 special teams points on a wet and windy day at Husky Stadium. Despite yielding 155 yards to Allen, the Husky defense stood tall and kept USC out of the end zone, the first time the Trojans had been denied a touchdown since 1967. The game was tied 3-3 in the fourth quarter until Chuck Nelson converted a 46-yard field goal and the Huskies recovered a fumble on the ensuing kickoff for a 13-3 lead.

Desmond Howard - 1991

Washington 34, Michigan 14

Washington's dominating defense overwhelmed Michigan's high-powered attack and Heisman Trophy winner Howard as the second-ranked Huskies defeated the fourth-ranked Wolverines 34-14 in the Rose Bowl to earn a share of their first national championship. Howard was limited to just one reception for 35 yards in his last game as a Wolverine as the Husky secondary frustrated him all day. Washington quarterback Billy Joe Hobert sparked the Husky offense by scoring on a two-yard touchdown run for the first of Washington's 34 points and threw for two touchdowns as Washington won its second straight Rose Bowl, capping a perfect 12-0 season.

Huskies and the Heisman

There have been four former Washington players ranked among the top vote-getters in previous Heisman Trophy balloting. Here's a look at those players and where they finished in the annual voting:

Name	Finish	Year
Hugh McElhenny	8th	1951
Don Heinrich	9th	1952
Greg Lewis	7th	1990
Steve Emtman	4th	1991

Steve Emtman's fourth-place finish in the 1992 Heisman trophy voting was the highest ever by a Washington player.

Glossary of Medical Terms

A.T.C. - Athletic Trainer Certified; athletic trainers with this designation have passed the certification exam administered by the N.A.T.A.

A-C Joint - Acromioclavicular joint; joint of the shoulder where acromion process (of the scapula) and the distal end of the clavicle meet; most shoulder separations occur at this point.

Abduct - Movement of any extremity away from the body.

Abrasion - Any injury which rubs off the surface of the skin.

Abscess - An infection which produces pus; can be the result of a blister, callus, penetrating wound or laceration.

Achilles Tendon - The tendon at the back of the heel.

Adduct - Movement of an extremity toward the body.

Adductor - Any muscle which moves a part toward the median axis of the body.

Adhesion - Abnormal adherence of collagen fibers to surrounding structures during immobilization following trauma or as a complication of surgery which restricts normal elasticity of the structures involved.

Aerobic - Exercise in which energy needed is supplied by oxygen inspired; required for sustained periods of hard work and vigorous exercise.

Anaerobic - Exercise without the use of oxygen as an energy source; short bursts of vigorous exercise.

Anterior - In front of; the front surface.

Anterior Cruciate Ligament (ACL) - Ligament of knee attaching to anterior tibial plateau and posterior medial aspect of femoral condyle. It provides stability in keeping the lower leg from coming forward.

Anterior Compartment Syndrome - Condition in which swelling within the anterior compartment of the lower leg (comprising of muscles, nerves and arteries to the foot) jeopardizes the viability of the muscles and nerves within the compartment.

Anti-Inflammatory - Any agent which prevents inflammation (such as aspirin or ibuprofen).

Arteriogram - Film demonstrating arteries after injection of opaque medium (dye).

Arthrogram - X-ray technique for joints using air and/or dye injected in affected area (to show torn cartilage or rotator cuff tears).

Arthroscope - An instrument used for visualization of the interior of a joint cavity; sometimes referred to as "scope."

Arthroscopy - Examination of the internal structures of a joint by means of surgical viewing apparatus (arthroscope) inserted into the joint.

Aspiration - The withdrawal of fluids from a body cavity by means of a suction or siphonage apparatus (syringe).

Asymptomatic - Without symptoms.

Atrophy - To shrivel or shrink from disuse, as in muscular atrophy.

Avascular Necrosis - Death of a part due to lack of circulation (can occur in the elbow from throwing).

Avulsion - A tearing away forcibly of a part of structure.

Axilla - The armpit.

Baker's Cyst - Indicates that there is trauma inside the knee joint that leads to excessive joint-fluid production; inflammation of the gastrocnemius bursa. Usually produces localized swelling behind the knee.

Bennett's Fracture - Fracture of the base of the first metacarpal (or the thumb).

Bicep - Muscle on the front of the upper arm responsible for bending the elbow.

Bone Scan - "Radionuclide Imaging," which is useful to demonstrate stress fractures not evident on routine x-rays.

Brachial Plexus - Network of nerves originating from the cervical vertebrae running down into the arm.

Bruise - A discoloration of the skin due to an extravasation of the blood into the underlying tissues.

Burner - Common term for brachial plexus trauma in the neck. Usually results in burning or tingling sensation into the shoulder or arm when the neck is forced beyond the normal range of motion.

C.P.R. - Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation; artificial establishment of circulation of the blood and movement of air into the lungs in a pulseless, non-breathing person.

Calcaneus - The heel bone.

Calf - Also known as gastrocnemius; muscle responsible for plantar-flexing, or pointing the toes down, the foot.

Capsule - An enclosing structure which surrounds the joint and contains ligaments which stabilize that joint.

Cartilage - Smooth, slippery substance preventing two ends of bones from rubbing together and grating.

Cellulitis - Inflammation of cellular or connective tissue.

Charley Horse - A bruise to the quadriceps resulting from a direct blow to the front of the thigh, characterized by intramuscular bleeding. No other injury should be called a charley horse.

Chondral Fracture - Fracture to the chondral (cartilaginous) surfaces of bone.

Chondromalacia - A roughening of the cartilage surface. Best known for the roughening of the underside of the kneecap.

Clavicle - The collar bone.

Collagen - A substance existing in commonly injured tissues of the body, including skin, cartilage, ligaments, and bone.

Concentric Muscle Contraction - An overall shortening of the muscle as it generates tension and contracts.

Concussion - Jarring injury of the brain resulting in disfunction. Can be graded mild, moderate or severe depending on loss of consciousness, amnesia and loss of equilibrium.

Congenital - Existing before birth; to be born with.

Contusion - An injury to the muscles and tissue caused by a blow from a blunt object.

Cortisone - An anti-inflammatory medication.

Costochondral - The cartilage that separates the bones within the rib cage.

Cranium - The bony framework of the head composed of eight cranial bones, the 14 bones of the face and the teeth.

Cyst - Abnormal sac containing liquid or semi-solid matter.

Degenerative Joint Disease - Changes in the joint surfaces as a result of repetitive trauma.

Dehydration - Loss of body water.

Deltoids - Muscles at top of arm, just below shoulder.

Disc - A flat, round-like, plate structure usually referring to cartilage between vertebrae.

Dislocation - Complete displacement of joint surfaces.

Distal - Away from.

Eccentric Muscle Contraction - An overall lengthening of the muscle as it develops tension and contracts to control motion performed by an outside force; negative work is done.

Ecchymosis - Bleeding into the surface tissue below the skin, resulting in a "black and blue" effect.

Ectomy - suffix connoting the of affected part (e.g. meniscectomy, appendectomy).

Efferent - Away from, pushing out from center.

Effusion - Accumulation of fluid, or the fluid itself, in various spaces in the body. Commonly found in the knee following injury.

Electrolyte - Ionized salts in blood, tissue fluids and cells including salts of sodium, potassium and chlorine.

Electrolyte Drink - Fluid for replacing electrolytes, such as Gatorade Thirst Quencher.

EMG - Electromyogram test to check nerve function.

Epicondylitis - Inflammation in the elbow due to overuse of either the flexor or extensor muscles attaching to the medial or lateral epicondyle of the humerus.

Etiology - Study of the causes of injury and disease.

Eversion - Turning outward.

Extension - Motion of straightening a joint.

Extensor - A muscle which upon contraction results in straightening a joint.

External Rotation - Lateral movement of a joint or extremity to the outside.

Extrinsic - From without.

Fascia - A connective tissue sheath consisting of fibrous tissue and fat which unites the skin to the underlying tissues.

Femur - Thigh bone.

Fibula - The smaller of the two bones in the lower leg, located to the outside.

Flexibility - The ability of muscle to relax and yield to stretch force.

Flexibility Exercise - A general term used to describe exercise performed by a person to passively or actively elongate soft tissues without the assistance of a therapist.

Flexion - Bending a joint, as in flexing the arm or leg.

Flexor - A muscle which upon contraction flexes or bends.

Fracture - Breach in continuity of a bone. Types of fractures include simple, compound, comminuted, greenstick, incomplete, impacted, longitudinal, oblique, stress, or transverse.

Gamekeeper's Thumb - Tear of the ulnar collateral ligament of the metacarpophalangeal joint of the thumb.

Glenohumeral - The shoulder socket, containing the glenoid, the humeral head and the labrum.

Glenoid - A cavity of the scapula into which the head of the humerus fits to the form of the shoulder joint (the shoulder socket).

Groin - Junction of the thigh and abdomen.

Hamstring - Muscle running from the buttocks to behind the knee. Often injured as a result of improper conditioning or lack of muscle of muscle flexibility. Muscle responsible for flexing the knee joint.

Heat Stroke - Condition of rapidly rising internal body temperature that overwhelms the body's mechanisms for release of heat.

Heat Exhaustion - Mild form of shock caused by loss of fluid and electrolytes from the circulation because of excessive sweating when exposed to heat.

Heat Cramps - Painful muscle spasms of arms or legs caused by excessive body heat and depletion of fluids and electrolytes.

Hematoma - A tumor-like mass produced for an accumulation or coagulated blood in a cavity.

Hip Pointer - Contusion to the iliac crest.
Humerus - Bone of the upper arm.
Hyperextension - Extreme extension, or straightening, of a limb or body part.
Iliotibial Band - A thick, wide fascial layer from the iliac crest to the knee joint.
Impingement Syndrome - Pinching together of the supraspinatus muscle and other soft tissue in the shoulder, which is common in throwing.
Inferior - Lower, beneath, toward the bottom.
Interosseous Membrane - Uniting membrane between the tibia and fibula that forms a collagenous fibrous tissue. It has two functions: to serve as an origin for many of the muscles of the lower leg, and to transmit stress from the tibia to the fibula.
Intrinsic - Inherent or inside.
Isokinetic Exercise - A form of active resistive exercise in which the speed of movement of the limb is controlled by a pre-set rate-limiting device, such as Cybex, Biodex, etc.
Isometric (static) Contraction - A muscle contraction in which tension is developed but no mechanical work is done. There is no appreciable joint movement and the overall length of the muscle remains the same.
Isokinetic - A constant speed and consistent resistance exercise.
Isotonic (dynamic) Contraction - A concentric or eccentric muscular contraction that results in movement of a joint or body part (lifting a free weight).
Itis - suffix connoting inflammation (e.g. tendinitis, bursitis).
Joint Mobilization - Passive traction and/or gliding movements applied to joint surfaces that maintain or restore the joint play normally allowed by the capsule, so that the normal roll-slide joint mechanic can occur as a person moves.
Lateral - To the outside of the body.
Lateral Collateral Ligament (LCL) - Ligament of knee attaching lateral femoral condyle and to fibula head. It provides lateral stability to the knee.
Lesion - Wound, injury or tumor.
Ligament - Band of fibrous tissue that connects bone to bone or bone to cartilage and supports and strengthens joints.
Limbo-sacral - Region of lowback comprised of lumbar and sacral spine.
Magnetic Resonance Imaging (MRI) - Provides highly detailed pictures of the body's interior, using highly magnetic fields.
Malleolus - Rounded projection on either side of the ankle joint.
Manipulation - A passive movement using physiological or accessory motion, which may be applied with a thrust or when the patient is under anesthesia.
Maximal Aerobic Power (MAX VO2) - The maximum volume of oxygen consumed per unit of time.
Medial - Pertaining to or near the middle.
Medial Collateral Ligament - Ligament of knee attaching to medial femoral condyle and to medial tibia. It provides medial stability to the knee.
Meniscus - Crescent shaped cartilage usually pertaining to the knee joint.
Meniscectomy - An intra-articular procedure at the knee by which meniscus (fibrocartilage) is removed surgically.
Metacarpals - Five long bones of hand, just below fingers.
Metatarsals - Five long bones of foot, just below toes.
Mobilization - Passive stretching movements performed by a therapist at a speed slow enough that a patient can stop the movement.
Morbidity - An illness or an abnormal condition or quality.
Myositis - Inflammation of a muscle.
Myositis Ossificans - Inflammation in muscle resulting in the formation of bone-like substance.

N.A.T.A. - National Athletic Trainers' Association. The certifying and governing of the athletic training profession, as approved by the National Commission for Health Certifying Agencies.
Necrotic - Relating to death of a portion of tissue.
Neuritis - Inflammation of a nerve.
Orthotic - Any device applied to or around the body in the care of physical impairment or disability, commonly used to control foot mechanics.
Osteochondritis Dissecans - A piece of bone and/or cartilage loosened from its attachment after trauma and a cause of a lesion.
Osteomyelitis - An inflammatory disease of bone caused usually by infection with streptococcus or staphylococcus.
P.F.A.T.S. - Professional Football Athletic Trainers Society: governing body of athletic trainers employed by National Football League teams.
Parasthesia - Sensation of numbness or tingling, indicating nerve irritation.
Patella - The kneecap.
Patella Tendinitis - Inflammation of the patella tendon.
Pathology - The study of the nature and cause of disease.
Pectorals - Chest muscles beneath breast, leading up to shoulder.
Peroneal - Muscles of the lateral lower leg responsible for everting the foot.
Phlebitis - Inflammation of a vein.
Plantar - Pertaining to the sole of the foot.
Plantar Fascia - The tight band of muscle beneath the arch of the foot.
Plica - A fold of tissue in the joint capsule and a common result of knee injury.
PNF (Proprioceptive Neuromuscular Facilitation) - An approach to therapeutic exercise based on the principles of functional human anatomy and neurophysiology.
Posterior - At the back part, or rear of the body.
Posterior Cruciate Ligament (PCL) - Ligament of the knee attaching to posterior tibial plateau and anterior lateral aspect of femoral condyle. It provides stability in keeping the lower leg from going backward.
Progressive Resistance Exercise (PRE) - An approach to exercise whereby the load or resistance to the muscle is applied by some mechanical means and is quantitatively and progressively increased over time.
Pronation - Moving of the forearm into a palm down position.
Proximal - Near the source, nearest any point being described.
Quadriceps (Quads) - The four powerful muscles in the front of the thigh, responsible for extending the knee joint.
Radiography - Tng of x-rays.
Radius - Forearm bone on thumb side.
Reconstruction - Surgical rebuilding of an injured joint.
Referred Pain - Pain felt in undamaged area of body away from actual injury.
Resect - To cut off, or cut out, a portion of a structure or organ.
Retraction - The moving of tissue to expose a part or structure of the body.
Rotator Cuff - Comprised of four muscles in the shoulder area: supraspinatus, infraspinatus, teres minor, and subscapularis. Often irritated by overuse.
S-C Joint - Sternoclavicular joint; articulation between the sternum and the clavicle.
Sacroiliac - Relating to the juncture of the hip bone and lower part of the spine.
Scan - Injection of radioactive fluid (equal in radioactivity to about one x-ray) which may then be displayed on a computer/monitor or film (e.g. bone scan).
Scapula - The shoulder blade.
Sciatic Nerve - Largest nerve in body located in back of leg which controls most of its function.

Sesamoid Bones - Lies within and adds strength to tendons as they cover bony surface. The most commonly known is the kneecap.
Shin Splint - A catch-all syndrome describing pain either in the front of the lower leg or on the inner aspect of the leg.
Spasm - Sudden, violent, involuntary contraction of a muscle.
Spleen - Large, solid organ responsible for the normal production and destruction of blood cells.
Spondylitis - Inflammation of one or more vertebrae.
Spondylolisthesis - Forward displacement of one lumbar vertebra.
Spondylosis - Abnormal vertebrae fixation or immobility.
Sprain - A joint injury. A violent twisting, stretching, pulling or tearing of a ligament.
Stinger - Common term for brachial plexus trauma in the neck.
Strain - A muscle injury. The pulling or twisting of a muscle or tendon.
Stress X-Ray - A continual x-ray taken when a portion of the body is stressed to its maximum to see if the ligaments are intact.
Stress Fracture - A hair-line type of break in bone caused by overuse.
Stretching - Any therapeutic maneuver designed to lengthen (elongate) pathologically shortened soft-tissue structures and thereby increase range of motion.
Subluxation - Partial dislocation of a joint. Term usually implies that joint can return to normal position without formal reduction.
Superior - In anatomy, the upper of the two parts; toward the top or above.
Supination - Moving the forearm into a palm-up position.
Synovial Fluid - Lubricating fluid for joints and tendons, produced in synovium, or inner lining of joint.
Synovitis - Inflammation of the synovium.
Ts - The ankle bone that articulates with the tibia and fibula.
Tet Heart Rate - A pre-determined heart rate to be obtained during exercise when circulation is working at full efficient capacity.
Tus - Arch of foot.
Tendinitis - Inflammation of the tendon and/or tendon sheath, often caused by chronic overuse and/or sudden injury.
Tendon - Fibrous tissue that connects muscles to other structures.
Tennis Elbow - General term for lateral elbow pain.
Tibia - Larger of the two bones in lower leg; weight-bearing bone.
Tomograph - A special type of x-ray apparatus that demonstrates the organ or tissue is a particular depth.
Trachea - The windpipe.
Trapezius - A flat triangular muscle covering the posterior surface of the neck and shoulder.
Triceps - Muscle of the posterior upper arm, opposite the biceps that extends the elbow.
Turf Toe - Sprain of the metatarsophalangeal (MTP) joint of the great toe.
Turf Burn - Abrasion resulting from contact with artificial turf in which one or more layers of skin are removed.
Ulna - One of two bones in forearm; extends from point of elbow and found on outer (little finger) side.
Ulnar Nerve - Nerve in the elbow commonly irritated from excessive throwing or repeated trauma.
Wrist - The junction between the two forearm bones (radius and ulna) and the eight wrist bones (trapezium, trapezoid, capitate, hamate, pisiform, triquetrum, lunate and scaphoid).

Husky Greats

Don Heinrich

Don Heinrich is considered one of the greatest quarterbacks in the history of the college game. Twice while at Washington, he topped the NCAA passing statistics. Today, almost 30 years after his brilliant career as a Husky, he remains the leading percentage passer in school history. He passed for more than 4,000 yards while a Husky quarterback and still ranks fourth on Washington's career passing list.

Heinrich directed Washington to an 8-2 record in 1950 and to a 7-3 mark as a senior in 1952. In both 1950 and 1952, Heinrich led the nation in passing yardage and percentage. The 1950 season was perhaps his most memorable, capped by one of the strangest Washington-Washington State games ever.

With the Huskies leading 45-14, Heinrich was on the bench, believing he had established a national pass-completion record of 133 for one season. With time running out, it was learned that Heinrich had only tied the record. A player suggested that WSU be allowed to score so Washington could get the ball back.

After the Cougars scored an uncontested touchdown, Heinrich completed a short pass and the record was broken. Moments later, Hugh McElhenny broke loose on an 84-yard touchdown run, a romp that gave him 296 rushing yards for the game and still is a UW record. The Huskies won 52-21.

Heinrich was named first-team All-Pacific Coast Conference, first-team All-Coast and was a two-time All-American. Named the quarterback on the Husky centennial team in 1990, he was inducted into the college football Hall of Fame in 1987.

After college, he had a successful career in the professional ranks. Heinrich went on to play with the New York Giants and won the World Championship in 1956. He also helped lead the Giants into the NFL title game in 1958 and 1959. Following his playing days, Heinrich began a 15-year coaching career in the NFL with the Dallas Cowboys, New York Giants, Los Angeles Rams, Atlanta Falcons, Pittsburgh Steelers, New Orleans Saints and San Francisco 49ers.

Heinrich's broadcast career began in 1976 when he joined KIRO Newsradio as color analyst on KIRO's Seattle Seahawks broadcasts. After six seasons with the Seahawks, Heinrich assumed similar duties for the San Francisco 49ers on KCBS in San Francisco. He joined Don Klein as color analyst with the 49ers in 1982 and worked there for four years.

Heinrich also served as color analyst on ESPN for the United States Football league.

In January of 1992, after the Huskies won a share of the national championship, head coach Don James called Heinrich. "He said, 'You're part of this,' which, of course, is a nice thing to say," Heinrich said after James' call.

Don Heinrich, the golden arm of Husky football, passed away in 1992 at age 62 after battling cancer.

Hugh McElhenny

Hugh McElhenny was an All-America fullback/halfback at Washington in 1951, capping a three-year career that saw him set 16 school records. When he was inducted to the Husky Hall of Fame in 1979, nearly 30 years after his illustrious career in the Purple and Gold, McElhenny still ranked first in four all-time rushing categories.

As a Husky, McElhenny rushed for 2,499 total yards, an outstanding 5.5 average per carry. He also gained 760 yards as a pass receiver, 975 yards as a dangerous kickoff and punt returner, and scored 233 career points during 1949, 1950, and 1951 seasons.

He was nicknamed "Hurricane Hugh" and "Hurricane Hugh" as a collegiate standout at Washington, then earned the title "The King" as a great professional player from 1952 to 1964.

McElhenny starred with the San Francisco 49ers (1952-60), Minnesota Vikings (1961-62), New York Giants (1963) and Detroit Lions (1964) in 13 NFL seasons. He gained 5,281 yards rushing, gained 3,247 yards pass receiving, ran back punts for 920 yards, and returned kickoffs for 1,921 yards. The King scored 60 touchdowns in the pro ranks and accounted for 11,369 yards during his 13 seasons.

Born Dec. 31, 1928, McElhenny enjoyed an outstanding prep career at Washington High School in his native Los Angeles. He went on to play one year (1948) at Compton (California) Junior College before transferring to Washington in 1949.

He made his impact felt in just his second game as a Husky. Washington was in Minneapolis to meet Big Ten power Minnesota and the Huskies won the coin toss, electing to receive. McElhenny stood on his own goal line waiting the opening kickoff, took the ball on the four yard line and promptly set sail on a 96-yard touchdown return.

Long runs and stunning kick returns were a McElhenny trademark, and one in particular still stands out in Husky fans' minds. Frank Gifford, former USC halfback who went on to start with the New York Giants and then as an ABC-TV sports caster, relates the story:

"I'll never forget that game," said Gifford of the 1951 USC-Washington clash in Seattle. "I wasn't our regular kicker, but I did the punting when we got to midfield because supposedly I was more accurate at getting the ball down to the corner. Well, in this game, I got the ball down in the corner all right and The King took it there, right on the goal line. He started down the sideline and all of a sudden there was only one man — me — between him and the goal line. He left me flat on my face and ran it 100 yards for a touchdown!"

"It was like a touchdown run out of a cornball movie...only it was real."

The 100-yard return off Gifford's punt still ties McElhenny for the longest punt return in NCAA history.

McElhenny also owns another NCAA rushing record, this one for the highest average gain per rush. He set that mark in the final game of his junior season when the Huskies capped a fine 8-2 record and second-place finish in the Pacific Coast Conference with a convincing 52-21 thrashing of Washington State in Spokane. The King gained 296 yards on just 20 carries that day, an incredible 14.8 average, and he scored five touchdowns, including an 83-yard romp in the fourth quarter.

Another well-remembered run took place in the 1950 Kansas State game, the season opener which served to dedicate the opening of the upper deck in expanded Husky Stadium. McElhenny raced 91 yards on a fourth-quarter scrimmage play to break a 31-year-old Washington mark for the longest single play rushing gain.

McElhenny earned second team UPI All-Coast honors (third team AP) as a sophomore, then first team UPI and AP All-Coast honors as a junior and senior. By the time he ended his record breaking career in 1951, McElhenny was a unanimous All-America pick.

The King is a member of the prestigious National Football League (NFL) Hall of Fame inducted in 1970, the College Football hall of Fame (inducted in 1982) and the Washington Hall of Fame (inaugural group in 1979). He was also selected to the Washington Centennial team in 1990.

The Apple Cup

Dogs and cats.

Could there be a more natural rivalry?
Huskies and Cougars.

The annual matchup when Washington meets Washington State is definitely one of the best rivalries in college football today. Up for grabs each year is the Apple Cup, a trophy sponsored by the Washington State Apple Commission and presented by the state governor.

This gridiron battle actually has two histories. The series dates back to 1900 when the teams played to a 5-5 tie in Seattle, but only since 1962 has the winner been awarded the Apple Cup. Washington holds a 54-25-6 record in the 85-game series, and is 22-9 in Apple Cup games.

Like most rivalries, each game is a new chapter with unpredictable results, regardless of records, momentum or history. It is a game based more on emotion and determination than scouting reports and talent.

Though the schools are on opposite sides of the state, creating a natural geographic split among fans, the annual meeting on the gridiron splits the state in so many other ways — sometimes between members of the same family. Such was the case in 1990 when Husky freshman Travis Hanson waged a personal kicking battle with his brother Jason, the Cougars' All-American place kicker.

But while individual stories give the Apple Cup its character, its enormity and magnitude come from the number of times the game has determined Rose Bowl fate for either team. In 1981 the two teams met in Seattle with a trip to Pasadena at stake along with the Apple Cup trophy — Washington prevailed 23-10.

Perhaps the most shocking upset in the series came in 1982 when the Huskies carried a 9-1 record and an eight-game Apple Cup winning streak into the contest, and needed only to defeat a 2-7-1 Cougar squad to make a third straight Rose Bowl appearance.

Washington, which had held the number-one national ranking for seven weeks earlier in the season, had knocked off two top-10 teams in its previous two games and appeared to be on a roll that would carry it to Pasadena. But the inspired Cougars, playing the Apple Cup at Martin Stadium for the first time since 1954, stunned the Huskies with a 24-20 defeat. The celebration in Pullman began immediately as jubilant Cougar fans poured onto the field to remove the goal posts, and carried them to the Palouse River for a trip downstream.

Washington seemed certain to take the lead and avoid the upset in the fourth quarter when All-American kicker Chuck Spider Gaines' late 78-yard touchdown reception capped a dramatically and clinched the 1975 Apple Cup for Washington.

Nelson set up for a 33-yard field goal with the Huskies trailing 21-20. But Nelson missed, halting his NCAA record for consecutive field goals at 30 as the Cougars went on to victory.

If the '82 game was the most shocking, the '85 game in Husky Stadium goes down as one of the coldest on record. Five days before the game it began snowing in Seattle and did not stop until there was more than a foot on the ground. The city was nearly paralyzed and the turf in Husky Stadium, while clear of snow, was frozen solid under the Arctic conditions. UW officials swept the snow from the seats and had to fill the toilets in the stadium with anti-freeze to keep them in working order.

The fans who braved the elements saw WSU running back Ruben Mayes skitter his way to 167 rushing yards as the Cougars defeated Washington 21-20.

The most impressive comeback in Apple Cup history belongs to the Huskies in 1975, when they turned a 27-14 deficit into a thrilling 28-27 victory in the final 3:01. The Cougars had the ball at the Husky 14-yard line and a chance to pad the lead, when they unexplainably put the ball in the air. Husky Al Bursleson intercepted the ill-advised pass and returned it 93 yards for a touchdown. Washington then held the Cougars on their next possession and took over on their own 22-yard line with 1:56 remaining. One play later they led 28-27. On first down, Warren Moon passed the ball in the direction of a mob in the center of the field. It hit WSU's Tony Heath and ricocheted into the hands of Husky receiver Spider Gaines, who took it all the way for a 78-yard touchdown play. Two touchdowns in a little over a minute, and the Huskies were victorious in Don James's first Apple Cup.

Since Washington's eight-game winning streak (1974-81), neither team has won more than three straight Apple Cup contests.

Apple Cup Barbs

There have been many zingers tossed out between the Cougars and Huskies over the years, regarding the Apple Cup and the cross-state rivalry. Here are a few of the most colorful:

"They've got a lot of great dancers on their team. Too bad they can't hit as well as they dance."

—WSU's Timm Rosenbach after a 34-19 loss, 1987

"There are four important stages in your life. You're born, you play the Huskies, you get married and you die."

—WSU guard Dan Lynch, 1984

"I've always felt being a Cougar prepares you well for life. You learn not to expect too much."

—UW coach Don James, 1983

"Nobody in the press box, no other coach made that decision. I made the choice. The kids thought we should try a pass. I stupidly agreed."

—WSU coach Jim Sweeney after miracle Husky comeback, triggered by an interception, 1975

"I thought they might give it to me. Those are good at home, but we weren't at home."

—Chuck Nelson after first miss in 30 tries, 1982

"Nothing in my job - not the Rose Bowls, not the Holiday Bowls, nothing - is more important than beating the University of Washington."

—WSU coach Jim Walden, 1982

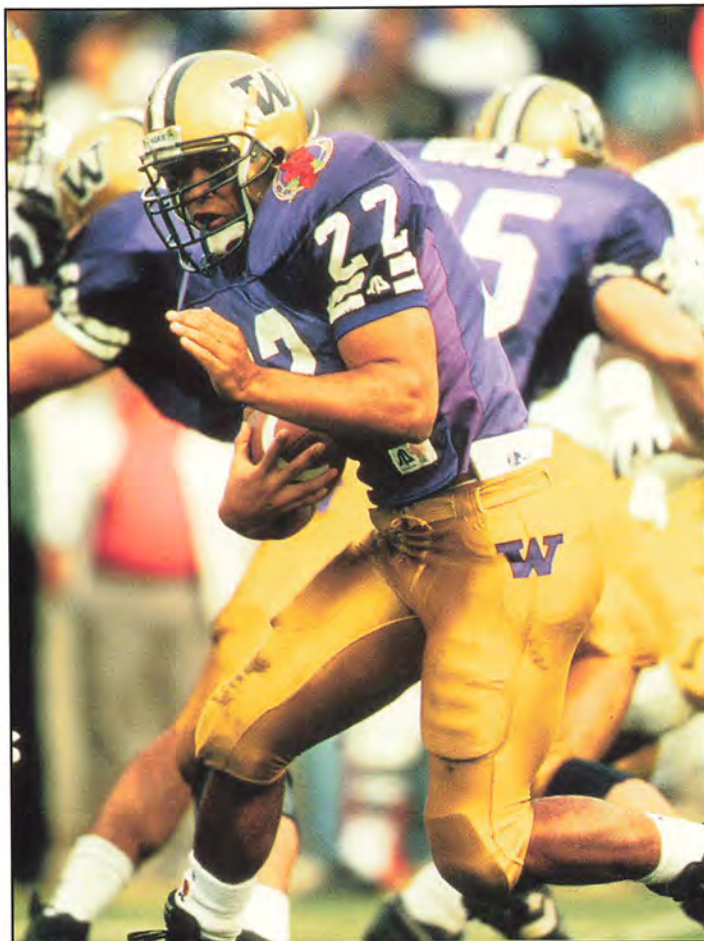

"I'm a 2,000 word underdog."

—Don James on Jim Walden, 1985
